HUGHES, of East Bergholt, co. Suffolk.

July 17, 1773.

Sir JOHN-THOMAS HUGHES, Bart., succeeded his father, Admiral Sir Richard, Jan. 5, 1812.

By a very elegant emblazoned pedigree drawn up in 1622, by Jacob Chaloner, gent., it appears that the family of Hughes is descended, first, from Gwarth Voed Mawr, prince of Cardigan, by Morveth, daughter and heiress of Ynyr, king of Gwent; 2dly, from Llewellyn with the golden chain, of Yalle, by Eva, daughter of Blethen ap Kynvyn, prince of Powis; 3dly, from Conan, son of Jago ap Idwall, prince of Wales, by Ranulphe, daughter of Alfayd, king of Dublin; 4thly, from Elinstan, a natural son of Gwarth Voed, prince of Cardigan; 5thly, from Howell Dda, king of South Wales; 6thly, from Lluddock, eldest son of Tudor Trevor, by Anghared, daughter of Jago ap Idwall, king of Wales; 7thly, from Rees, son of Tudor, king of South Wales, by Gwenlian, daughter of Jestyn ap Gwrant, prince of Glamorganshire; 8thly, from Kyran, 3d son of Gwaith Voed, by Eva, sister of Jestyn ap Gwrant, prince of Glamorganshire. Howell the Good, king of all Wales, who d. in 946, m. Joanne, daughter of Cader, earl of Cornwall.

From Owen, his eldest son, descended, in the 22d generation,

I. Sir RICHARD, created a baronet July 17, 1773, who had attained the rank of captain R. N. in 1729, and after serving for many years with great respectability, he was appointed to the station of commissioner of the dockyard at Portsmouth. When the present king first visited that grand naval arsenal, his majesty resided at the commissioner's house, and created him a baronet. Sir Richard m. Joanne, daughter of William Collyer, esq., captain R. N., by whom he had 2 sons, sir Richard, 2d bart., and the rev. Robert, rector of Trimley, St. Mary, Suffolk, m. Grace, daughter of Thomas Mangles, esq., by whom he had 2 sons, Richard and Robert, both in holy orders. Sir Richard, by a 2d marriage, had 2 daughters: Mary, wife, first, of Thomas Collingwood, esq., captain R. N.; 2dly, of lieutenant-colonel Heywood, gentleman of the bedchamber to William-Henry, late duke of Gloucester; and Sarah, who d. unm.

Sir Richard d. in 1780, and was succeeded by his son,

II. Sir RICHARD, b. 1729, m. about 1760, Jane daughter of William Sloane, of South Stoneham, co. Hants, esq.; and had issue, 1. Richard, captain R. N., d. March 21, 1810; 2. sir John-Thomas, 3d baronet; 3. Louisa, d. unm.; 4. Rose-Mary, m. John Browne, a major in the army. Sir Richard was very early bred to the R. N., became a post-captain 1755, promoted to a flag Sept. 26, 1780; and 1811 was admiral of the red. Sir Richard d. Jan. 5, 1812, and was succeeded by his son,

III. Sir JOHN-THOMAS, present baronet.

COOTE, of DONNYBROOKE, Dublin.

April 29, 1774.

Sir CHARLES COOTE, Bart., succeeded his father, Charles Coote, the last Earl of Bellamont, K. B., in

Nov.

Nov. 1800, when the earldom became extinct, on failure of the Earl's legitimate issue: married, Nov. 1814, Caroline-Elizabeth, 2d daughter of John Whalley, and has issue, a son and heir, b. Sept. 6, 1815.

The family of Coote is of great antiquity, and has been ennobled in two branches. Sir Charles Coote of Castle Cuffe, in the Queen's County (created a baronet of Ireland, April 2, 1621), who, for his distinguished bravery in the wars against O'Neil, in the reign of queen Elizabeth, was appointed by James, her successor, provost-marshal of Connaught, and collector-general and receiver of the king's composition-money in the same county for life; in 1634 he was appointed custos-rotulorum of the Queen's County; in 1640 he was appointed a colonel of foot; in which latter capacity he rendered essential service against the rebels, particularly in 1641, and in the early part of 1642; in which year, on the 7th of May, he unfortunately fell in a sally from the town of Trim, where he was unexpectedly surprised by a superior number of the rebel troops. Sir Charles m., 1617, Dorothea, daughter and co-heiress of Hugh Cuffe, of Cuffe's Wood, co. Cork, esq. and had issue, Letitia, m. sir Francis Hamilton, of Killishranda, co. Cavan, bart.; and 1. Charles, his successor, created earl of Mountrath, 1660, and which became extinct in 1802; 2. Chidley Coote, from whom descended the Cootes of Killester, near Dublin; 3. Richard, of Moore Park, co. Meath, and Pierce Town, co. Westmeath, b. 1620, who, for his zeal and activity in promoting the Restoration, was created baron Coloony on the same day, Sept. 6, 1660, on which his elder brother was created earl of Mountrath, m. Mary, 2d daughter of Sir George St. George, of Carrickdrumruske, co. Leitrim, bart., (sister to George, created afterward baron St. George, of Hatley St. George, co. Roscommon, which barony became extinct in 1735,) and d. 1683; and had 4 sons; Charles, d. an infant; Richard, created earl of Bellamont, whose line terminated in 1766; and Chudleigh, d. 1719; Charles, the last earl of Bellamont, baron of of Colooney, m., Aug. 3, 1774, Emilia-Maria-Margaret, eldest daughter of James, duke of Leinster, by Emily Lennox, daughter of Charles, 2d duke of Richmond, and had issue, Lady Mary, and Lady Prudentia Coote, and two other daughters. His lordship, having no male issue by his countess, was created a baronet of England, with remainder to his natural son, sir Charles, present baronet.

Arms—Argent, a chevron between three cootes.
Crest—A coote proper.
Arms—See plate 43.
Seat—Bellamont Forest, Ireland.

CLAYTON, of Adlington, co. Lancaster.

May 3, 1744.

Sir RICHARD CLAYTON, F.A.S., was created a Baronet as above, with remainder to the heirs male of his father, John Clayton, Esq.: married, 1780, Anne, daughter of Charles White, of Manchester, Esq.; by whom he has 1 daughter, Henrietta, b. Feb. 12, 1782, m., 1803, Lieutenant-Colonel Brown, of the 12th Dragoons, by whom she has Richard Clayton, b. Nov. 11, 1805.

Robert de Clayton came into England with William the Conqueror: was b. at Cordevec, in Normandy, and for his laudable services had the manor of Clayton in Lancashire given him. He had 3 sons, John, William, and Robert; and 2 daughters, Mary and Alice. John, his eldest son, went with William II. into Northumberland, 1090, against Malcolm, king of Scotland, and was slain in battle near Penrith. William II., son of Robert, served king Stephen in many troubles, particularly when Ranulph, earl of Chester, and many others, took possession of London, a very obstinate battle was fought on Candlemas Candlemas Day, where, "God wot, William de Clayton lost his life in 1141." The 24th in lineal descent from him, was Dr. Robert Clayton, bishop, successively, of Killala, Cork, and Ross, and Clogher, in Ireland, to which last he was translated in 1745. Thomas, brother of the bishop, m. Anne, daughter of John Atherton, esq., by whom he had 5 sons: 1. Thomas; 2. John; 3. Richard; 4. Thomas; 5. Robert; and 7 daughters; 1. Anne, wife of John Williamson; 2. Eleanor, of Nicholas Rigby, esq.; 3. Sarah, of Daniel Sephton, esq.; 4. Ruth; 5. Margaret; 6. Mary; and 7. Catharine. Thomas, the eldest son, m. 1697, Martha, daughter of Joshua Horton, by whom (who d. 1723) he had 5 sons; 1. Thomas; 2. William; 3. Richard; 4. Edward; 5. John; and four daughters; 1. Mary; 2. Anne; 3. Sarah; and 4. Betty. He d. 1728. Thomas and William both d. unm. Richard, 3d son, was brought up to the bar, and became lord chief justice of the common pleas in Ireland, which office he resigned 1770, and d. July 8, in the same year.

Edward, 4th son, was major 9th regiment of dragoons, and d. 1772, unm. John, 5th son, m. Elizabeth, daughter of the rev. Dr. Goodwin, rector of Tankersley, co. York, by whom he had four sons; 1. Sir Richard, 1st bart.; 2. Robert, late major 17th regiment of infantry, m. a daughter of the reverend Roger Baldwin, rector of Aldingham, by whom he had no issue; 3. William-Evershot; and 4. John, rector of Frome St. Quintin, co. Dorset, m. Catharine, daughter of Edward Fisher, esq.

I. Sir RICHARD, eldest son of John, was created a baronet, as before mentioned.

EDMONSTONE, of DUNTREATH, co. Stirling.

May 3, 1774.

Sir CHARLES EDMONSTONE, Bart., succeeded his father, Sir Archibald, in July 1807 : married, first, in 1777, Emma, 5th daughter of Richard-Wilbraham Bootle, of Latham House, co. Lancaster, Esq.; and by her (who d. Nov. 1797) he had issue, 1. Archibald, b. March 12, 1795; and 2. Mary-Emma, b. Nov. 7, 1797; and 2dly, Dec. 5, 1804, Louisa Hotham, youngest daughter of Beaumont, 2d Lord Hotham, and has issue, 1. William, b. Jan. 29, 1810; 2. Charles-Henry, b. Oct. 30, 1811; 3. Louisa-Henrietta, b. July 12, 1807; 4. a daughter, b. May 9, 1814; and 5. a son, b. Jan. 1816.

The surname of Edmonstone took its beginning about the period of king Malcolm Canmore and his son David. John Edmonston, knt. in the reign of David II., 1362, for the merit of his services to that prince, had grants and charters of land under the great seal, Dilecto et fideli suo Johanni Edmonston, militi. Sir William, the first of the family of Duntreath, was the 2d son of sir John, by Isabella, countess-dowager of Douglas and Mar, eldest daughter of king Robert II. by his 2d wife. He was knighted by king James I., and m. Mary, countess-dowager of Angus, daughter to Robert III., king of Scotland, and his first cousin: she had been m., 1st, in 1397, to sir George Douglas, earl of Angus; 2dly, in 1404, to James, son and heir of sir Gilbert Kennedy, ancestor of the earls of Cassillis; 3dly, to sir William Graham, ancestor of the dukes of Montrose; and (being yet but a young woman), 4thly, to sir William Edmonstone, of Culloden. Archibald, the 9th in descent from sir William, m., 1st, Anne Erskine, daughter of David, lord Cardross, by Catharine, one of the daughters and co-heiresses of sir James Stewart, and by her had 1 daughter, Catharine, wife of —— Kennedy, esq. He m., 2dly, Anne, daughter of the hon. John Campbell, 2d son of Archibald, earl of Argyll, Argyll, and brother to Archibald, first duke of Argyll. By her he had 1. sir Archibald, 1st bart.; 2. Campbell, lieutenant-governor of Dumbarton Castle, deceased. He m. a daughter of —— Alexander, esq. merchant, and had 4 sons, all deceased, and 6 daughters.

I. Sir ARCHIBALD, the eldest son, was created a baronet May 3, 1774; b. Oct. 10, 1717; m., 1st, Susanna-Mary, only daughter of Roger Harenc, esq., and sister of Benjamin Harenc, of Foots Cray Place, co. Kent, esq., by whom he had 5 sons and 3 daughters; 1. Archibald, a lieutenant 1st regiment of foot guards, who d. July 1780; 2. William-Archibald, d. at Calcutta, Sept. 1803, unm.; 3. sir Charles, present baronet; George, in holy orders; 5. Niel-Benjamin, one of the members of the supreme council in Bengal; 6. Susannah-Margaret, m., Feb. 1777, James Trecothick, of Addington Place, co. Surrey, esq., and has issue, 2 sons, Barlow and James; and 4 daughters, Susannah, Anne, Louisa, and Charlotte; 7. Anne-Mary, wife of Henry Read, of Crowood, co. Wilts, esq. a major-general in the army: she d. in 1791, leaving 2 daughters, Mary-Anne and Louisa; 8. Sarah, d. young. Sir Archibald m., 2dly, Hester, daughter of sir Gilbert Heathcote, of Normanton, co. Rutland, bart., who d. in 1796, without issue. Sir Archibald sat in parliament 25 years for co. Dumbarton and the Irvine district of boroughs, and deceasing in July, 1807, was succeeded by his eldest son,

II. Sir CHARLES, present baronet.

Arms—Or, 3 crescents, gules, within a double tressure, flowered and counterflowered.

Crest—Out of a ducal coronet, a swan's head and neck, proper.

Supporters—Two lions rampant, gules.

Motto—Virtus auget honorem.

Arms—See plate 26.

Seat—At Duntreath, co. Stirling.

HANMER,

HANMER, of HANMER, co. Flint.

May 3, 1774.

Sir THOMAS HANMER, Bart. succeeded his father, Sir Walden, 1783, Stewart of His Majesty's Lordship of Englefield, co. Flint: married, 1779, Margaret, eldest daughter and co-heiress of George Kenyon, of Peel, co. Lancaster, Esq. cousin-german of Lloyd, Lord Kenyon; by whom he has issue, Thomas, b. 1781, lately Lieutenant-Colonel of the Royal Flintshire Militia, m., July 14, 1808, Arabella-Charlotte, eldest daughter and co-heiress of the late Thomas-Skipp-Dyott Bucknall, of Hampton Court, co. Middlesex, Esq., and has issue, John, b. Dec. 1809; 2. Job-Walden, in 1782 Barrister at Law of Lincoln's Inn; 3. Feb. 24, 1815, leaving issue.

Camden makes honourable mention of this family, who have resided in the parish of the same name from a very early period. In the reign of Edward I., sir John de Hanmer, knt., assumed the surname of Hanmer. Like other large proprietors on the borders, he was a supporter of the English interests, and early in the reign of the same king was appointed constable of Caernarvon Castle. He m. Hawis, daughter and heiress of Enion ap Gwillim, ap Griffith ap Gwin win win, lord of Upper Powis, and descended from Bledwyn ap Kynwin, prince of all Wales. By this lady he had 3 sons, Owen, surnamed Gock, David, and Philip. Owen succeeded his father, 2 Edw. II., and dying without issue, divided his estate between his brothers, David and Philip.

Sir

Sir David, son of sir Philip, was one of the justices of the court of King's Bench, to which office he was appointed Feb. 26, 1384, 7 Rich. II. By his wife, Augherard, daughter of Llewlyns ap Gryffyth ap Jevan N. del ap Jevan, he had two sons, who was wife of the celebrated Owen Glendowr, by whom she had several children. His descendant in the eldest branch, sir John Hanmer, was created a baronet in 1620; but this title became extinct in the person of sir Thomas, 4th baronet, who d. 1746, having m. first, Isabella, daughter and heiress of Henry Bennet, earl of Arlington, and relict of Henry, duke of Grafton; and 2dly, Elizabeth, daughter and heiress of Thomas Folkes, esq.; but had no issue by either. Sir Thomas served as knight of the shire, successively, for co. Flint and Suffolk; and was speaker of the house of commons, A. D. 1713, 12 Anne. On the death of sir Thomas, the family estates came to the descendants of Edward, younger son of sir Jenkin, sir David's son, who was slain at the battle of Shrewsbury, temp. Henry IV. From which Edward, the 10th in lineal descent, was,

I. Sir WALDEN, (only son and heir of Job, 15th in descent from sir John de Hanmere), who was of Lincoln's Inn, and called to the bar about 1745. He sat for 2 parliaments as burgess for Sudbury, and was created a baronet May 3, 1774. He m. Anne, youngest daughter and co-heiress of Henry-Vere Graham, esq., and by her (who d. Feb. 1778) had 5 sons: 1. sir Thomas, present bart.; 2. Job, captain R. N., d. April 1814, having m. Maria, daughter of John Syer, esq., and has 2 sons and 1 daughter; 2. the rev. Graham, rector of St. Bartholomew Exchange, city of London, and of Sympson, co. Bucks, and vicar of Hanmer: he m. Elizabeth, daughter of John Child, clerk, and has 3 sons and 4 daughters; 4. Edward, a barrister at law, m. Arabella, daughter of Thomas Pennant, esq.; and 5. Walden-Henry, one of the 6 clerks in chancery: and 1 daughter, Anne-Eleanora, wife of the rev. George Turnor, who has 1 daughter. Sir Walden d. in 1783. He was succeeded by his eldest son and heir,

II. Sir THOMAS, the present baronet.

Arms—

Arms—Argent, two lions passant, guardant, azure, armed and langued, gules.

Crest—On a cap of dignity, azure, turned up, ermine, a lion, guardant, sejant, argent.

LEMON of CARCLEW, co. Cornwall.

May 3, 1774.

Sir WILLIAM LEMON, D.C.L. 1748, was created a Baronet, as above. He served in Parliament for Penrhyn, from Dec. 1769 to 1774, and at the general election, in 1774, he was returned for co. Cornwall, which he has represented ever since. He married Jane, eldest daughter of James Buller, of Morval, co. Cornwall, Esq. (by Jane, daughter of Allen, 1st Earl Bathurst), by whom he had, 1. Anne, wife, Sept. 6, 1796, of Sir John Davie, Bart., by whom he has 4 children; 2. Maria, m., June 24, 1807, Francis Jodrell, of Henbury, co. Chester, Esq., and has one son; 3. William, b. 1774, d. March, 1799; 4. Louisa, m., April 22, 1802, Lieutenant-Colonel George-Hart Dyke, of the Guards, 3d son of Sir John Dyke, Bart., and has 3 sons and 2 daughters; 5. Harriet; 6. John, b. 1779, d. young; 7. Emma; 8. Frances; 9. Isabella-Jane, m., Feb. 4, 1805, Anthony Buller, of Morval, co. Cornwall, Esq., nephew of the late Sir Francis Buller, Bart., one of the Judges of the King's Bench; 10. Charles, b. 1784, M. P. for Penrhyn, m., Dec. 5, 1810, Charlotte Strangways, youngest daughter of Henry Thomas, 2d Earl of Ilchester; and has a son son and heir, b. Nov. 4, 1811; another son, b. May 1813; 11. Tryphena-Octavia, d. young; and 12. Caroline-Matilda, m., Jan. 11, 1813, John-Hearle Tremayne, Esq., M. P. co. Cornwall.

William Lemon, the grandfather of the baronet, had very extensive mining and commercial concerns co. Cornwall. His son, William, m. Anne, daughter of John Williams, of Carnanton, co. Cornwall, esq. by Anne, only daughter of John Oliver, of Falmouth, esq., by whom he had 2 sons and 2 daughters: 1. sir William, 1st baronet; 2. a daughter, who d. young; 3. Anne, wife of John Buller, of Morval, co. Cornwall, esq.; 4. John, colonel of the Cornwall and Devon miners, who was formerly in parliament for Westloo and Saltash, but since the year 1796 has represented the borough of Truro; d. April 1814.

From the Saxons to the period of Edward I. 1299, we have many documents respecting the Cornish mines. The Saxons employed the Saracens, or the Phœnicians, in Cornwall, to work them; and subsequent to the Norman conquest, the Jews were the sole managers of mining concerns. In the time of Richard, king of the Romans, and 1st earl of Cornwall, their produce was immense; and to him the Jews were farmed out by his brother, Henry III. At this period, the tin-mines in Spain, being obstructed by the Moors, and none having been then discovered in Germany, Malabar, or the East Indies, Richard, earl of Cornwall, engrossed the whole tin-trade in Europe.

I. Sir WILLIAM, eldest son, was created a baronet May 3, 1774.

Arms—Argent, on a chevron, between three mullets, gules, an eagle displayed, or.

Crest—On a wreath of the colours, a lion passant, gules, the body charged with three mullets in fesse, or.

Arms—See plate 26.

Sussex, esq. Walter, eldest son, m. Frances, daughter of John Hooper, esq., of Stockbury, co. Kent, by whom he had nine sons and three daughters, two of whom d. unm., and Frances m. Richard Bridges, of Combe Place, esq., co. Sussex. Of the sons, John, Richard, and Ralph d. unm.; Ninian, of Holmstead, in Cuckfield, m. Anne, daughter of sir William Colepeper, of Wakehurst Park, co. Sussex, bart., by whom he had four sons and three daughters; Walter, Ninian, Thomas, and William; Anne and Mary, d. unm.; Jane m. Peter, second son of Peter Short, esq. of Penterden, co. Kent. Thomas, third son of Walter, settled at Lindfield, co. Sussex, and m. Joan, daughter and co-heiress of Thomas Newnham, esq. of Lindfield, by whom he had 6 sons and 5 daughters: Walter, Walter, Thomas, Timothy, James, John; Sarah, Frances, Jane, Philadelphia, and Mary. The first Walter d. an infant; the 2d Walter m. Audrey, daughter of Francis Wyatt, of Horstead Keynes, co. Sussex, esq., by whom he had Walter, who m. Anne, daughter of Timothy Burrell, of Lindfield, who d. unm. Timothy, 4th son, m. the daughter of the rev. Samuel Padre, rector of Wiston, in Sussex. Timothy, 7th son of Walter, m., 1st, Elizabeth, daughter of sir Harry Goring, bart., of Highden, co. Sussex, by whom he had no issue; and 2dly, Mary, daughter of sir Job Charlton, of Ludford, co. Hereford, bart.; and 3dly, the daughter of —— Chilcot, esq., by whom he had one daughter, Elizabeth, m. to Thomas Lord Trevor, by whom he had one daughter, Elizabeth, m. to Charles Spencer, second Duke of Marlborough. Alexander, the 8th son, m. Elizabeth, daughter and co-heir of John Knight,

Knight, of Doddington, in the Isle of Ely, esq. Peter, 9th son of Walter, settled at Beckenham, co. Kent, in 1684, and m. Isabella, second daughter of John Merrick, esq. of Stribbers, in North Ockenden, co. Essex, by whom he left 2 sons, Peter and Merrick, and 3 daughters; 1. Frances, m. Richard Wyatt, esq. of Egham, co. Surrey; 2. Isabella, m. Thomas Dalyson, esq. of Manton, co. Lincoln; and 3. Anne, m. Richard Ackland, esq. brother of sir Hugh Ackland, of Relleton House, co. Devon, bart. Peter, eldest son, represented Haselmere in several parliaments, and d. member for Dover; he m. Amy, eldest daughter of Colonel Hugh Raymond, of Saling Hall, co. Essex, and Langley Park, co. Kent, by whom he had 4 sons: 1. Peter; 2. Raymond, d. young; 3. William; 4. John, d. young: and 2 daughters; 1. Amelia, m. Tobias Frere, esq.; 2. Isabella, d. young. Peter, the eldest son, represented Haslemere, and m. Elizabeth, daughter and co-heiress of John Lewis, esq., of Hacleney, co. Middlesex, by whom he had one son, Peter, the present Lord Gwydir, and four daughters; 1. Susannah, m. Richard-Henry-Alexander Bennet, esq. of Babraham, co. Cambridge; 2. Isabella, m. Algernon Percy, earl of Beverly; 3. Frances-Julia, m. Hugh Percy, duke of Northumberland; 4. Elizabeth, m. Douglas Hamilton, eighth duke of Hamilton, and 2dly, Henry Cecil, Marquess of Exeter. Merrick, 2d son of Peter, of West Grinstead Park, co. Sussex, was created a baronet July 15, 1766, with remainder to his nephew, Peter Burrell, of Beckenham. He represented Marlow, and afterwards Grampound, in several parliaments, and dying, was succeeded by his great-nephew, Peter Burrell, who m., Feb. 23, 1779, Lady Priscilla-Barbara-Elizabeth Bertie, Baroness Willoughby de Eresby, daughter and heiress of Peregrine, third duke of Ancaster, hereditary great chamberlain of England: he represented Boston in several parliaments, and, in 1796, was created an English baron, by the title of lord Gwydir, and has issue; 1. Charles-George Sedley, son of Henry, Lord Vernon. He was elected Member for Marlow in 1774 and 1780, and for Nottingham in 1796 and 1802. Sir John, during his cruise off the coast of France, under the immediate orders of the Admiralty, captured, destroyed, and recaptured, 220 vessels of various denominations. On his return from the coast of Ireland he received the unanimous thanks of the Houses of Lords and Commons of Great Britain, with those of the Parliament of Ireland; was honoured with the Freedom of the Cities of London and Derry; appointed Ambassador to the Court of Petersburgh, where his integrity and general conduct particulary recommended him to the esteem of the present Emperor Alexander. Appointed a Captain R. N., April 25, 1781; Rear-Admiral, Feb. 14, 1796; and Vice-Admiral of the Blue Squadron, Nov. 9, 1805.

The brilliant services of Sir John are too numerous to be given in this work; but for a more accurate detail, we refer our readers to the Naval Chronicle, vol. iii. p. 333.

Sir John is descended from an ancient family, whose estates were situated in Buckinghamshire and Nottinghamshire; the name of Warren is of Norman extraction; Sir John is related to the family of Cheshire, and is descended from the ancient Earls of Warren, of the Plantagenet family.

The family of Borlase was very anciently situated in co. Cornwall, and afterwards removed into co. Buckingham; where, by their hospitality, they became very popular, and were at different times members for that county, and for the boroughs of Wycombe and Marlow. John Borlase, of Cornwall, was the father of sir John Borlase, one of the lords justices of Ireland, created a

PEYTON, of DODDINGTON, co. Cambridge.

Aug. 14, 1776.

Sir HENRY PEYTON, Bart., succeeded his father, Sir Henry, in May, 1789: married, July 7, 1803, Mrs. Bradshaw, relict of James Bradshaw, of Portland Place, Esq., daughter of William Fitzhugh, Esq., and has issue, Henry, b. June 31, 1803; and Algernon, b. Sept. 20, and d. in March 1806; and another son, b. Sept. 20, 1805. Sir Henry was elected Member for the County of Cambridge in 1802, after a violent contest, on the death of General Adeane.

This family is paternally descended from George Dashwood, esq., whose elder brother, Robert, was created a baronet May 16, 1684, and was ancestor of the Dashwoods, of Northbrooke, co. Oxford. George, 3d son, was a colonel in the army, and m. Algerina, 2d daughter of sir Algernon Peyton, bart., by whom he had George Dashwood, of Peyton-Hall, co. Suffolk, esq.; m. his cousin, Margaret, 2d daughter of sir Sewster Peyton, by whom he had 2 sons, Henry and James; and 2 daughters, Margaret and Penelope; and d. in March 1762. Sir Algernon was created a baronet in 1666, being of a younger branch of the Peytons of Isleham, who had been advanced to that dignity in 1611. He was succeeded by his son, Sewster, who was was father of sir Thomas, in whose person the title became extinct; but, in pursuance of a direction in his will,

I. Sir HENRY, the elder son of the last-named George, obtained a license to take the name of Peyton, and was created a baronet Aug. 14, 1776. In Dec. 1771, m. Frances, eldest daughter of sir John Rous, of Henham Hall, co. Suffolk, bart., and sister to John, present lord Rous; and by her (who d. May 27, 1808,) he had issue, 1. sir Henry, present baronet; 2. Algernon, in holy orders, b. Aug. 1770, m., June 22, 1811, Isabella-Anne, youngest daughter of Thomas Hussey, of Galtrim, Ireland, esq., and has Isabella-Anne-Frances, b. June 9, 1812, and Algernon, b. Sept. 27, 1814; 3. Frances, b. May 1773, m., Nov. 1810, the rev. John Haggit, of Ditton, co. Cambridge; 4. Louisa, b. June 1774, m. Thomas Pennant, of Downing, co. Flint, esq., an eminent naturalist and antiquary, author of the British Zoology, Tours in North Britain and Wales, and other learned works, d. 1798; and 4. Harriet, b. Nov. 1778, m., Oct. 1794, Thomas Kingscote, of Randalls, co. Surrey, esq., brother to colonel Kingscote, of Kingscote, co. Gloucester. Sir Henry was elected representative in parliament for co. of Cambridge, in May 1782, upon a vacancy occasioned by the death of the gallant and much-lamented lord Robert Manners, and was re-elected in the parliament of 1784. Sir Henry deceasing in May 1789, was succeeded by

II. Sir HENRY, present baronet.

BAKER,

BAKER, of LOVENTOR, co. Devon.

Aug. 14, 1776.

Sir FREDERICK-FRANCIS BAKER, Bart. F.R.S. and F.A.S., succeeded his father, Sir George, June 15, 1809: married, in July, 1814, Harriet, 3d daughter of Sir John Simeon, Bart., and has issue, a son, b. at Paris June 16, 1816.

This family was originally settled in the county of Somerset, and afterwards removed into Devon. Richard Baker was one of the bailiffs of Exeter 1464, and receiver thereof 1467; William Baker, one of the bailiffs of the same city 1487; and John Baker, one of the bailiffs of the same city 1609. Of this family was the reverend William Baker, S.T.P., b. at Ilton, d. 1732; and the rev. and very learned Thomas Baker, b. at Lanchester 1656, co. Durham, and of St. John's college, Cambridge, where he lost his fellowship, by refusing to take the oaths to king George I.; for which reason also he quitted the rectory of Long Newton, co. Durham, 1689. He constantly wrote his name at the bottom of the title-page of his book—Thomas Baker, socius ejectus; also, sir Richard Baker, knt., b. ———, an historical writer; an unfortunate marriage reduced him to poverty, was thrown into the Fleet prison, where he d. 1645. About the beginning of the 17th century, Aaron Baker, esq., resided at Bowley, where he possessed a considerable estate. His son, Aaron, was for many years rector of West Alvington. His son, George, was likewise a clergyman, distinguished by his piety and learning. He held a high situation in the church of Exeter.

Sir GEORGE, M.D. and F.R.S., was created a baronet, as above, appointed physician to their majesties, m. Jane, daughter of Roger Morris, esq., and by her (who d. July 30, 1813,) had issue, sir Frederick-Francis, present baronet; and Maria-Charlotte. Sir

George d. June 15, 1809, and was succeeded by his only son,

II. Sir FREDERICK-FRANCIS, present baronet.

EDEN, of TRUIR, Durham.

Sept. 10, 1776.

Sir WILLIAM EDEN, Bart., born Jan. 31, 1803, succeeded his brother, Sir Frederick, Dec. 24, 1814.

For an account of this family, see sir Robert-Johnson Eden, of Windleston, co. Durham, baronet.

I. Sir ROBERT, father of sir Frederick, was next brother to sir John. He was governor of the province of Maryland, and created a baronet, as above: m. Caroline Calvert, sister to the last viscount Baltimore, (which title became extinct in 1774,) by whom he had sir Frederick-Morton, 2d baronet, and another son. Sir Robert d. 1786, and was succeeded by

II. Sir FREDERICK-MORTON, m. Jan. 1792, Anne, daughter and heiress of James-Paul Smith, of New Bond Street, esq.; and by her (who d. July 14, 1808,) had issue, 1. William-Henry, d. Nov. 18, 1793; 2. Marianne, b. July 27, 1794, m., Nov. 1812, Francis-Mallet Spong, esq.; 3. James, d. Feb. 5, 1800; 4. sir Frederick, 2d baronet; 5. Caroline, b. Jan. 10, 1801; 6. sir William, present baronet; 7. Robert, b. Sept. 2, 1804; 8. George-Morton, b. May 10, 1806; and 9. Charles,

b. July

b. July 3, 1808. Sir Frederick d. Nov. 14, 1809, and was succeeded by his eldest son,

III. Sir FREDERICK, ensign 85th foot, killed in action at New Orleans, North America, Dec. 24, 1814, and was succeeded by his next brother,

IV. Sir WILLIAM, present baronet.

DOUGLAS, of CARS, co. Perth.

Jan. 13, 1777.

Sir HOWARD DOUGLAS, Bart., K.S.C. and C.B.F.R.S., Colonel in the Army, Inspector-General of the Royal Military College, succeeded his brother, Sir William-Henry, May 24, 1809: married, 1799, Anne, eldest daughter of James Dundas, Esq., and has issue, 1. Charles; 2. James-Dundas; 3. Howard; 4. Robert-Percy; 5. William-Frederick; and four daughters.

This family is a branch of the noble family of Morton. The following is the descent: 1. sir George Douglas, knt., 1st of Kirkness, 2d son of James Douglas, of Lochleven, 6th earl of Morton; 2. Archibald, eldest son of sir George; 3. sir William Douglas, knt., only son of Archibald, killed at the battle of Dunbar, 1650; 4. William, of Kirkness, (eldest son of sir William,) who left issue, 1. sir Robert, of Kirkness; and 2. William, of Kinglassie: sir Robert had 2 sons, William and Robert, both of whom d. without male issue; 5. William, of Kinglassie; 6. Charles, of Kinglassie, eldest son of William; 7. Charles, 1st baronet, 3d son of Charles, of Kinglassie. From the 1st and 2d sons there is no male issue, issue, so that the present baronet is the nearest male of this branch of the family of Morton.

I. Sir CHARLES was created a baronet for his distinguished services in the command of the squadron which forced its way up the river St. Lawrence, at an unusually early period of the year, and relieved Quebec, then besieged by the Americans, 1776. Sir Charles had risen to this rank through a long train of zealous, arduous, and distinguished services; and his subsequent career was still more brilliant in proportion as rank and power gave a field for his talents and activity of mind. When he was not actually employed at sea, he devoted himself to the laborious and difficult task of improving the military equipment of the service. Gunnery was his favourite pursuit; and the naval service is indebted to him for for some of the greatest improvements that were made, in his day, in this branch of the profession. Among many others, sir Charles introduced the use of locks into the navy.

After a service of four years in the command of the Stirling Castle of 64 guns, and the Duke of 98 guns, sir Charles was appointed captain of the fleet destined to serve under sir George Rodney; and in the memorable battle of the 12th of April, 1782, sir Charles's superior abilities shone conspicuously, and procured him the highest encomiums his chief could bestow, and a large share in the fame of that glorious day. Sir Charles afterwards commanded a squadron on the coast of America, and in 1789 had hoisted his flag for another foreign command, when he d. suddenly, March 10, and was succeeded by his son,

II. Sir WILLIAM-HENRY, vice-admiral of the blue, who dying unm., was succeeded by his brother,

III. Sir HOWARD, present baronet.

Motto—Lock sicker.

Arms—See plate 27.

BICKERTON,

BICKERTON, of UPWOOD, co. Huntingdon.

May 19, 1778.

Sir RICHARD BICKERTON, Bart., K.C.B., K.C., and F.R.S.; Admiral of the White, a Lieutenant-General of Marines, and a Director of Greenwich Hospital: succeeded his father, Sir Richard, Feb. 24, 1792: married, Sept. 25, 1788, Anne, daughter of James Athill, of the Island of Antigua, Esq.

Sir Richard was appointed a captain R.N., Feb. 8, 1781; rear-admiral, Feb. 14, 1799; and vice-admiral of the white squadron, Nov. 9, 1805.

I. Sir RICHARD, knt., was created a baronet, as above, was bred at Westminster school, and entered R.N., and received his first commission as lieutenant, in Feb. 1745-6; in 1759 he was rated post in the Culloden, and immediately after sailed for the West Indies in the Glasgow of 20 guns. Having displayed much activity and gallantry in that quarter, he returned to Europe in 1761, and served for some time on the home station. In 1767, he, a 2d time, proceeded to the West Indies in the Renown; but quitting that ship, he remained unemployed till the end of the year 1770, when, on the apprehended rupture with Spain, he was appointed to the Marlborough, of 74 guns. When his majesty reviewed the fleet at Portsmouth in 1773, captain Bickerton had the honour of steering his majesty's barge! on which occasion he received the honour of knighthood, on board the Barfleur. On quitting the Marlborough, sir Richard was appointed to the Augusta yacht, in which he continued till the year 1777, when the dispute with America having commenced, he was nominated to the Terrible, of 74 guns, in which ship he was present at the encounter which took place with Le Comte D'Orvilliers, off Ushant, on the 27th of July. In the May preceding, when the second naval review took place, sir Richard was advanced to the dignity of a baronet of Great Britain. In April 1778, being on a cruise cruise in the bay, in company with the Ramilies, he fell in with a French convoy of 30 sail of merchantmen, of which 8, or more, became their prize. In Feb. 1782, he sailed with the convoy for India with a considerable force, and joined sir Edward Hughes there, just in time to share the encounter with M. de Suffrein, June 20, 1783. In 1786 he was appointed commodore on the Leeward Island station, but on account of indisposition, resigned his command. In Sept. 1787, he was promoted to the rank of rear-admiral of the blue. In 1790 he hoisted his flag on board the Impregnable, in the Channel fleet: m., 1758, miss Hussey, daughter of Thomas Hussey, of Wrexham, co. Denbigh, esq., and by her (who d. Aug. 29, 1811), had issue 4 sons and 2 daughters; the eldest of whom, and only surviving son, sir Richard, has succeeded to the title and estate. Sir Richard d. Feb. 28, 1792, and was succeeded by his only son,

II. Sir RICHARD, present baronet.

Arms—Sable, on a chevron, or 3 pheons, of the first.
Crest—A dexter arm, in armour, embowed, holding a dagger, all proper.

Seat—At Upwood, co. Huntingdon.

HERON, of Newark-upon-Trent, co. Nottingham.

July 25, 1778.

Sir ROBERT HERON, Bart., born 1765, succeeded his uncle, Sir Richard, in Jan. 1805: married, Jan. 9, 1792, Amelia, daughter of Sir Horace Mann, Bart., by Lucy, daughter of Baptist Noel, Earl of Gainsborough.

The names of Herioun and Hern are in the Battle Abbey Roll, " of such noblemen and gentlemen of marque, as came into England with the Duke of Normandy."

The

The duke not having fully reduced Northumberland, Henry I., his son, to effect the reduction, and create a barrier against Scotland, divided Northumberland into feudal baronies, one of which, the BARONY of HERON, whereof HADDESTON was the head, he granted in 1100 to the ancestor of sir Richard. In 1296 it descended to Emeline, the heir-general of William, lord Heron, her grandfather. She m. John, lord Darcy; and in 1536, the baronies of Darcy and Heron were forfeited by the attainder of their descendant, Thomas, lord Darcy.

Upon the descent of HADDESTON to Emeline Heron, FORD CASTLE became the chief seat of this family, which divided into many branches; particularly those of Ford Castle BOKENFIELD, Chipchase, Applynden, Cressy, and NEWARK; several of whom had summons to parliament in temp. Edw. III., Rich. II., and Hen. IV. Camden, in his " Britannia," calls this bellicosa et clara familia Heronorum.—It is one of the 270 most ancient and noble families of England (the barons by tenure), of which there remained only 24 MALE BRANCHES in 1675, when Dugdale published his History of the Feudal Barons. Some of the branches at length failed for want of male heirs, and others united again the ancestors of the baronet. The pedigree is curiously preserved through all the branches, and it appears that in 1682, on the death of John, the last Heron of BOKENFIELD, without issue male, Robert Heron, of NEWARK, his first cousin, became chief of the family. He m. Mary Hobman, of Newark, co. Notts, and d. May 16, 1709; John Heron, his son, m. Jane, daughter of Richard Crayle, of Newark, and d. Dec. 18, 1727; his eldest and only surviving son, Robert Heron, some time town-clerk, and afterwards recorder of Newark, m. Elizabeth Brecknock, of Thorney-Abbey, and d. Aug. 10, 1753, having had issue 4 sons; viz. 1. John, recorder of Newark, d. at Pans, Sept. 8, 1753; 2. Thomas, of Chilham-Castle, co. Kent, recorder of Newark, m. 1st, Anne, daughter of sir Edward Wilmot, bart., physician to the king, by whom he had issue, sir Robert, 2d bart.: he m. 2dly, miss Sawbridge, of the co. Kent; 3. Robert, in in holy orders, m. Anne Pechell, and d. Jan. 19, 1813, without issue; 4. Richard.

I. The right hon. sir RICHARD HERON, created a baronet July 25, 1778, with remainder to the issue male of his brother, Thomas Heron, of Chilham-Castle, co. Kent, esq., youngest son of Robert Heron, of Newark, was sworn privy-counsellor of Ireland in 1777, and held the office of chief secretary nearly 4 years under the viceroyalty of John, 2d earl of Buckinghamshire. Sir Richard m. Jane Hall, relict of Stephen Thompson, esq., and by her (who d. Oct. 6, 1814), had no issue; and deceasing in Jan. 1805, was succeeded by his nephew, II. Sir ROBERT, the present baronet, only surviving son of the late Thomas Heron, of Chilham-Castle, co. Kent, esq., eldest surviving son and male heir of Robert Heron, brother of sir Richard, 1st bart.

Arms of Heron, of Ford Castle—Quarterly: 1st and 4th, azure, 3 herons, argent; 2d and 3d, barry of 6, argent and azure, a bend, gules, charged in the canton with an annulet, or, for Grey, of Horton.

Crest—A heron, as in the arms.

Arms of Heron, of Bokenfield, and of Newark—Gules, a chevron, between 3 herons, argent, quartered with Grey, of Horton, as above.

Crest—Out of a ducal coronet, a heron's head and neck, proper.

Motto—Ardua petit ardea.

Arms—See plate 27.

Seat—Stubton, co. Lincoln.

COGHILL, of COGHILL, co. York.

July 25, 1778.

Sir JOSIAH COGHILL, Bart., Captain R.N., succeeded his brother, Sir John-Thomas, May 21, 1817: married, 1812, Miss Dobson, and has issue a daughter.

John

John Cockhill, of Cockhill, gent., lived at Knaresborough, co. York, in the reigns of Richard II. and Henry IV., as appears by ancient records remaining in the castle, where the family continue to this day.

The 7th in lineal descent from him was John Coghill, D.C.L., a master in the high court of chancery, in Ireland, and was knighted 1686: m. Hester, daughter of Tobias Cramer, sheriff of the city of Dublin, (son of Balthazar Cramer, and grandson of Tobias Cramer, or Kramer, of Lower Germany, who commanded a regiment abroad, and was made a free denizen of Ireland, May 28, 1639), by whom he had 7 sons and 5 daughters, 5 of which sons d. young; the rest were, Marmaduke; James, m. Anne, daughter of Mr. Pearson, by whom he had 1 daughter, Hester, m. Oct. 13, 1737, Charles Moore, lord Tullamore, afterwards earl of Charleville, by whom she had no issue. COPLEY, of SPROTBOROUGH, co. York.

Aug. 15, 1778.

Sir JOSEPH COPLEY, Bart., succeeded Sir Lionel, April 11, 1801: married, May 23, 1799, Cecil Hamilton, (to whom his Majesty granted the precedence of an Earl's daughter, Oct. 27, 1789), 8th daughter of the Hon. and Rev. George Hamilton, 4th son of James, 7th Earl of Abercorn. Her Ladyship's marriage with her first cousin, John-James, Marquess of Abercorn, K.G., was dissolved by Act of Parliament in 1798.

This ancient family is descended from Adam de Copley, (a place so styled in Yorkshire, from a great copp, or bank, under which it is situated), who was killed at the siege of York 1070, and from whom the Copleys, also of Gatton, co. Surrey, (who are particularly noticed in Manning's Manning's History of that county), derive their name and origin. They are also allied by marriage with the Fitzwilliam family, whose ancestor, sir William Fitzwilliam, attended William the conqueror, and for his distinguished bravery at the battle of Hastings, gave him a scarf from his own arm. Sprotbrough, near Doncaster, from this period became the chief residence of the family, and here sir John Fitzwilliam, one of sir William's descendants, who lived during the reign of king Henry V., caused a cross to be erected (which was pulled down in 1520) not far from the church, with these lines engraved upon it in brass:—

"Whoso is hungry and liste to eate
Let him come to Sprotbrough to his meate;
And for a night and for a day
His horse shall have both corn and hay,
And no man shall ask him when he goeth away."

Sir Joseph is paternally descended from Joseph, brother of Walter Moyle, an ingenious and learned writer, seated at Bake, co. Cornwall, who d. June 9, 1721, aged 49.

I. Sir JOSEPH, 1st baronet, so created Aug. 5, 1778: m. the daughter and sole heiress of sir Godfrey Copley, of Sprotborough, co. York, bart., who assumed the name of Copley, and had issue, 1. sir Lionel, his successor; 2. sir Joseph, present baronet; 3. Catharine, m., June 1777, John-James, marquess of Abercorn, K.G., and by her (who d. Sept. 13, 1791) he had issue; (Vide Debrett's Peerage of the United Kingdom); 4. Juliana, m. in 1789 sir Charles Watson, of Fulmer, Bucks, bart., and has issue; 5. Anne, m., 1800, sir Thomas-Manners Sutton, knt., created April 17, 1807, baron Manners, of Foston, co. Lincoln, and appointed lord high chancellor of Ireland, d. Aug. 5, 1814. Sir Joseph d. April 11, 1801, and was succeeded by his son,

II. Sir LIONEL, who was succeeded by his brother,

III. Sir JOSEPH, present baronet.

Arms—Argent, a cross moline, gules.
Crest—A griffin's head, erased, gules.
Arms—See plate 28.

WOMBWELL, of Wombwell, co. York.

Aug. 26, 1778.

Sir GEORGE WOMBWELL, Bart., born March 4, 1769, succeeded his father, Sir George, Nov. 2, 1780: married, July 19, 1791, Anne Belasyse, daughter of Henry, 5th Viscount and 2d Earl Fauconberg, (by Charlotte, sister of Peniston Lamb, Viscount Melbourne); and by her (who d. July 7, 1808) he has had 1. George, b. April 13, 1792; 2. Henry-Walter, May 24, 1795; and 3. Frederick-Richard-Henry, b. April 13, 1797, d. Aug, 24, 1807.

The first of this family was Robert de Wombwell, living in the 2d of king Stephen. From him the pedigree is regularly brought down, for 17 generations, to George Wombwell, of Leeds, attorney at law, who d. May 17, 1682. He m. Hannah, daughter of William Waugh, by whom he had 2 sons, 1. William, m. Elizabeth, daughter of sir Michael Wentworth, knt., by whom he had, 1. William, b. 1700, d. 1733; m. Margaret, daughter of sir Thomas Standish, bart., by whom he had 2 daughters, Margaret, wife of Anthony St. Leger, esq., and Elizabeth, the first wife of Charles Turner, esq., afterwards sir Charles Turner, bart.; 2. George, vicar of Norton, co. Derby, d. 1756, unm.; 3. Michael, an attorney at Wakefield, killed by a fall from his horse, Feb. 1742, unm.: John, the 2d son of George, b. 1672, d. Feb. 21, 1733; m. Elizabeth, daughter of Richard Nottingham, by whom (who d. 1745) he had, 1. George, b. Sept. 2, 1701, a merchant in London, and some time consul at Alicant, in Spain; d. Oct. 8, 1763; m. Anne, daughter and heiress of John Nottingham, gent., by whom (who d. May 2, 1758) he had 1 son, John, b. Aug. 14, 1748, last male heir of the elder branch of this family; and a daughter, Anne, b. March 25, 1750, wife of John Strachey, LL.D., F.S.A., chaplain to his majesty, rector of Erpingham and Thwaite, co. Norfolk, and archdeacon of Suffolk; 2. William, b. July 1705, d. unm. about 1760; 1760; 3. Roger; 4. Thomas, b. Jan. 4, 1709, an attorney at Leeds, d. 1740.

Roger, 3d son of John, b. May 31, 1708, lived at Barnsley; d. at sea, on a voyage to Gibralter, 1740; m. Mary, daughter of J. Chadwick, who d. 1740, by whom he had 2 sons, and 1 daughter, who d. an infant; 1. sir George, 1st bart.; 2. John, b. Jan. 1737, some time a merchant at Alicant in Spain, but residing in London 1788; m., Oct. 24, 1783, 1st, Elizabeth, eldest daughter of Joshua Grigsby, esq., knight of the shire for Suffolk, by whom he had no issue; and 2dly, Frances, daughter of Richard Baker, esq., merchant in London, by whom (who d. Dec. 28, 1809) he had a daughter, Frances, b. Feb. 7, 1787.

I. Sir GEORGE, the eldest son of Roger, was a director and chairman, for 2 succeeding years, of the East India company; M.P. in 1774 and 1780 for Huntingdon, and was raised to the dignity of a baronet Aug. 26, 1778; m. Susannah, only daughter of sir Thomas Rawlinson, knt., alderman of London, by whom (who d. Sept. 29, 1816) he had, sir George, present bart., and 1. Susannah, b. March 24, 1766, wife of Edward Roche, esq., by whom she had Edmond-Edward Roche, d. unm.; 2. Caroline-Frances, b. Oct. 3, 1767, wife of Richard Clay, esq.; 3. Emma, b. Aug. 7, 1770, d. June 4, 1775. Sir George was succeeded by his only son,

II. Sir GEORGE, present baronet.

RIDDELL

RIDDELL, of Ardnamurchan and Sunart, co. Argyll.

Sept. 2, 1778.

Sir JAMES-MILLES RIDDELL, D.C.L., succeeded his grandfather, Sir James.

Few families have claims to higher antiquity than that of Ridel, or Riddell; and fewer still have such grounds upon which to establish their pretensions. Indeed the authorities supporting their history are such as rarely occur in genealogy, particularly at a period so early as that in which it commences. This family derives its origin from the counts or earls of Angoulesme, in France. Wulgrinus, styled a kinsman to Charles the Bald, king of France and emperor of Germany, in 886 was created, by that prince, earl of Angoulesme and Perigord. He m. Rosalinda, daughter of Bernard, the famous duke of Thoulouse, who was son of William, duke of Aquitain, who d. 806, and grandson of earl Theodorick, one of the chief captains under Charlemagne, and was afterwards canonized. In right of Rosalinda, Wulgrinus acquired the earldom of Agen. By her he had 2 sons, 1. Alduin, (so called after his paternal uncle, Alduin, the famous abbot of St. Denis, and chief minister of France, under Lewis le Debonnaire), who succeeded to the earldom of Angoulesme; and 2. William, who had for his inheritance the earldoms of Perigord and Agen, ancestor of the earls of Perigord, which branch was afterwards united to this family. Wulgrinus d. 886. Alduin, earl of Angoulesme, rebuilt the walls of this chief city, of his principality, in order to defend it against the incursions of the Normans, who at that time grievously infested the country. He d. 916, and was succeeded by his son, William, surnamed the Sector-ferri, or Taille-fer, that is, Iron-cutter. He acquired this name from his having, in an engagement with the Normans, cloven through, with one stroke of his sword, the body of Storis, their king, though clad in armour. He was succeeded, 963, by his son, Arnold, earl of Angoulesme, who became a monk 998, and was succeeded by his son, William, who

 m. Gerberga,

m. Gerberga, daughter of Galfridus, or Geoffrey I., earl of Anjou, and sister of Fulco IV., great grandfather of Henry II., king of England. This William d. shortly after returning from the Holy Land, 1028, leaving 2 sons, Alduin and Galfridus. Alduin d. 1034, and was succeeded by his brother, Galfridus, who m. Petronilla, daughter and heiress of Marnard, surnamed the Rich, baron of Archiac and Botaville: by her he had 5 sons, the 2 eldest of whom were, 1. Fulco, earl of Angoulesme; (This branch ended in Isabella, wife of John, king of England: from her every sovereign who has since sat on the throne of England, to the present day, has been descended); and 2. Galfridus, ancestor of this family, who m. Agnes, daughter and heiress of Albert II., earl of Perigord: by her he had 2 sons, 1. Helias, who succeeded to the earldom of Perigord, whose line ended in Margaret, who m. Reginald de Pons, ancestor of the once celebrated house of de Pons, in France. Galfridus d. in 1075. His 2d son was Galfridus II. Ridel, who became renowned for his warlike exploits. He assisted the Normans in the reduction of Apulia, and William the Conqueror in his expedition against England, where he was rewarded by that prince with large grants of land. He m. the sister of Roger Bigot, earl of Norfolk, by whom he left 4 sons, 1. Galfridus; 2. Hugh, who was father of Reginald, and grandfather of Hugh II., who having no male issue, his granddaughter, Margaret, became heir, and m. Hugh Ridel, afterwards mentioned; 3. Philip, father of Gervasius, a friend of David I., king of Scotland, but d. a canon of Jedburgh, leaving no issue; 4. Matthias, who became abbot of Petersburgh, 1105, but d. the year following. He was succeeded by his son, Galfridus III., who was lord justiciary of all England, the highest office under the crown, in the time of Henry I., but suffered shipwreck, and was drowned with prince William, king Henry's son, 1120. His wife was Geva, daughter of Hugh Lupus, earl of Chester, (and Geva, his first wife, daughter of Robert de Buci), nephew to William the Conqueror, by whom he had only 1 daughter, Matilda, who became his heir, wife of Richard Basset, lord justiciary ciary of England to king Henry I., after the death of Galfridus, his father-in-law. He was of an ancient and noble family, being the son of Ralph Basset, lord justiciary of England. The issue of this marriage was 4 sons, 1. Galfridus, who, in honour of his mother, assumed the name of Ridel, and was ancestor of this family; 2. Ralph, ancestor of the Bassets of Drayton, peers of the realm. This branch ended in heirs female, married into the families of Beauchamp, earl of Warwick, the earls of Stafford, and the Chaworths; 3. William, ancestor of the Bassets of Sapcope, peers of the realm, which branch also ended in heirs female, about the end of the 14th century; 4. Jordan. Galfridus IV. was baron Blaye, in France, and held great possessions in England. He afterwards entered into the church, and became the chief support of the king against Thomas à Becket. He was archdeacon of Canterbury, while that see was filled by Becket, who gave him the name of the arch-devil of Canterbury. Galfridus afterwards became bishop of Ely, and grand justiciary of the realm. During the whole reign of Henry II. he was employed in the most important services. He d. 1189, leaving immense wealth, which king Richard I. seized, on account of his having d. intestate.

Galfridus, by his first wife, had 2 sons, Galfridus and Richard. The former succeeded to the principality of Blaye, and is the celebrated Troubador, whose poetry and adventures are of the most singular nature which the ages of chivalry ever produced. He d. of love at Tripoli. Richard, the 2d son, upon his brother's death, succeeded to almost all the estates in England. This Richard had reassumed the surname of Basset. Galfridus's 2d wife was Sabilla, sister to William Mauduit, lord of Hanslap, and ancestor of the earls of Warwick. By her he left 2 sons and 1 daughter. Hugh, the eldest son, is the direct ancestor of this family. William, the 2d son, was high chancellor of Scotland, under William the Lion. He d. 1214. Hugh Ridel obtained the principality of Blaye upon the death of his half-brother, Galfridus V., and m. Margaret, daughter and heiress of Peter de Sancto Medardo, or Semerc. He was a most powerful powerful baron, and in 1174 was one of the hostages to Henry II. for William the Lion, king of Scotland, when taken prisoner at the battle of Alnwick. To that prince he was allied through the Anjou, Chester, and St. Liz families. Galfridus, son of Hugh, lord of Blaye, &c. was one of the barons who conspired against king John, 1212.

It would far exceed the limits of this work to particularize the several succeeding personages of this family, which seems to have preserved, in a great measure, its grandeur and importance until the reign of Henry VI., when they entirely lost their possessions in France, and much of their English property. In the 16th century, John Riddell, of Sallowes, esq., then head of the family, removed into Scotland, where they have ever since been seated. James Riddell, of Kinglass, co. Linlithgow, esq., was a very conspicuous and much-respected character in the time of the commonwealth, and in the reign of Charles II. James, his eldest son, was a captain in the service of the States of Holland. He greatly encumbered his paternal estate. Dying unm. in 1688, he was succeeded by his brother, George, who m. Jane, eldest daughter of captain John Tailzeour, by whom he had 6 sons and 8 daughters. He was succeeded, 1706, by his only surviving son, George, who m. Christiana, daughter of Andrew Paterson, esq., by whom he had 9 sons and 6 daughters.

I. Sir JAMES, 3d son of George, was the first baronet of this family, so created Sept. 3, 1778; m., 1st, Mary, daughter and heiress of Thomas Milles, esq., (by Helen, his 3d wife, daughter of major Ferrior); by her he had 5 sons and 1 daughter, who, with the 2d and 4th sons, d. young. The 2d surviving son, George-James, unfortunately fell in a duel April 23, 1783, universally regretted. He was then a lieutenant in the 2d troop of horse-grenadier guards, aged 24 years. Sir James m., 2dly, in 1775, Sarah, daughter of Thomas Burdon, esq. In her right he enjoyed considerable property co. Durham and York, as heiress to her father, and to her grandfather, Henry Foster, esq. Sir James was succeeded by his eldest son,

II. Sir

II. Sir THOMAS MILLES, who was the 31st in descent from Wulgrinus, the 1st earl of Angoulesme and Perigord, m., 1784, Margaret, daughter of colonel Dugal Campbell, and had issue, James-Milles, who d. during the lifetime of his father, having m. ——, and had issue, sir James Milles, 3d bart., who succeeded his grandfather; Campbell-Drummond; and 5 daughters, Christiana-Drummond; Mary-Milles-Geva; Sarah-Burdon; Eleanor-Fraser-Basset; and Margaretta. FARMER, of MOUNT PLEASANT, co. Sussex.

Oct. 26, 1779.

This family is descended from the Farmers, of Youghall, co. York, of which place the late baronet's father was a native.

Captain

Captain Farmer, being on a cruise off Ushant, in company with the Rambler cutter, came up with, and closely engaged, a large French frigate, called the Surveillante, mounting 40 guns, while the Rambler was engaged with a French cutter, as superior in force as the French frigate was to the Quebec. The action on both sides was warm and bloody for 6 hours, when the French cutter bore away; but the Rambler was too much disabled in her masts and rigging to follow her with any hopes of coming up. The commander, therefore, seeing both the frigates dismasted, and the Quebec take fire, endeavoured to get as near the Quebec as possible, in hopes of saving some of her men; but there being little wind, and a large swell, no other assistance could be afforded, than by hoisting out the boat, which picked up one master's mate, two young midshipmen, and 14 more of the Quebec's people, the enemy's frigate, at the same time, firing at the boat. The Quebec continued to burn very fiercely for 4 hours, when she blew up.

Words cannot describe the gallantry and magnanimity displayed by Captain Farmer on this occasion, not only in the engagement, but in the fatal catastrophe with which it was attended. Having his arm broken towards the close of the engagement, he tied his handkerchief round the shattered part of the bone, and then addressed his men as follows: "My lads! this is warm work; therefore keep up your fire with double spirit; we will die or conquer!"

When the ship took fire, the captain, the first lieutenant, and many of the crew, remained on board; but most of the men jumped into the sea, where numbers perished in sight of those on board the ship. The fire now raging with more violence, the captain was requested to attempt saving himself; but he refused every solicitation, aud declared he would not quit the ship while there remained another man on board. By degrees the number of his companions grew less and less, and he saw inevitable destruction fast approaching; he entreated the remainder to jump into the sea, whilst he sat on the fluke of the sheet-anchor, waiting, with heroic fortitude, fortitude, the dreadful explosion, which, at last, numbered him with departed heroes.

I. Sir GEORGE, created a baronet Oct. 26, 1779, in remuneration of the gallant services of his father, m., Oct. 1786, Sophia, 3d daughter of Richard Kenrick, of Nautelwyd, co. Denbigh, esq. Sir George-William d. in consequence of a fall from his gig, May 26, 1814, when it is presumed the title became extinct.

Susan, who both d. unm. In 1680 he was created viscount Preston, and sat in the Scotch parliament, under that title. In 1685 he was knight of the shire for Cumberland. He was several years ambassador at the court of France, and on his return was made master of the wardrobe, and after that secretary of state to James II. Upon the Revolution he was sent to the Tower, but in a short time was released. Afterwards, intending to go to king James, in France, he, with some others, was apprehended in a boat on the river Thames, and committed prisoner to Newgate. Upon his trial he was found guilty of high treason, and received sentence accordingly, but by the intercession of friends he was pardoned, and d. in 1695.

 Edward,

Edward, viscount Preston, his son, m. Mary, daughter and co-heiress of sir Marmaduke Dalton, knt., by whom he had 1 daughter, Anne, and 1 son, Charles. He d. 1709, and was succeeded by his son, Charles, m. miss Cox, but dying without issue, in 1739, the title became extinct, but he was succeeded in estate by his father's 2 surviving sisters, Catharine and Mary. The latter d. unm. in 1753; Catharine m., (as before mentioned,) and dying in 1757, without issue, devised the estate to the rev. Robert Graham, M. A., 2d son of her uncle, William, D. D., 4th son of sir George, the 2d baronet; which William was father of Charles, and of the rev. Robert, D. D., (who d. Feb. 2. 1802,) having m. a daughter of Reginald Graham, by whom he had Charles, m. a daughter of Richard Gorges, esq., M. P. He left a daughter, m., Dec. 5, 1811, John-Webbe Weston, of Sutton Place, co. Surrey, and Sarnesfield, co. Hereford, esq., and d. Feb. 14, 1782; 2. sir James, 1st bart.; 3. FITZHERBERT, of TISSINGTON, co. Derby.

Dec. 10, 1783.

Sir HENRY FITZHERBERT, Bart., born in 1783, succeeded his brother, Sir Anthony, in 1799; married, Dec. 27, 1805, Agnes, daughter of the late Rev. William Beresford, Rector of Sunning, co. Berks, and has issue, 1. a son and heir, b. April 1808; 2. a daughter, b. Sept. 12, 1812; 3. a son, b. May 9, 1815; 4. a daughter, b. Oct. 31, 1816; and 5. a son, b. April 10, 1818.

The ancestor of this family, Herbert Fitzherbert, came into England with William the Conqueror, and his descendants have been settled co. Derby since the reign of Henry I. William Fitzherbert, esq., who d. 1772, was member for the borough of Derby in several parliaments, and a lord of trade and plantations: he m. Mary, daughter of Littleton-Poyntz Meynell, esq., by his wife, Judith, daughter of Thomas Alleyne, esq., of the island of Barbadoes; by which lady (who d. 1753), he had issue, 1. William; 2. John, who d. young in the East Indies; 3. Thomas, a lieutenant in the army, d. unm.; 4. Selina, m. Henry Galley, esq., barrister at law, by whom whom she had a son, Henry, b. 1786; 5. Alleyne, created baron St. Helen's, in the Isle of Wight, co. Southampton, July 15, 1801: his lordship is also baron St. Helen's, in Ireland; (See Debrett's Peerage); and 6. Catharine, m., 1755, Richard Bateman, of Hartington-Hall, co. Derby, esq., and had issue, sir Hugh, created a baronet, Nov. 11, 1806; and Richard, b. March 13, 1787, a barrister at law.

BEEVOR, of HETHEL, co. Norfolk.

Dec. 10, 1783.

Sir THOMAS BEEVOR, Bart., succeeded his father, Sir Thomas, Jan. 1814: married, 1795, Anne, daughter and heiress of Hugh Hare, of Harpham, co. Norfolk, Esq., and has issue 1 son, Thomas, and 2 daughters, of whom, Julia, 2d daughter, m., April 19, 1816, the Rev. Henry Howard, of Sawbridgeworth, co. Herts.

The name of Beevor is of considerable antiquity in the parish of Peniston, co. York; but the register of that that place being destroyed, the pedigree cannot be traced higher than William Beevor, esq., who d. 1606: he left 2 sons, William, ancestor to the Beevors in co. York; and Abraham, who was of Heckmundwyke, co. York, esq., and d. 1666: he m. Elizabeth, daughter of —— Saville, esq., by whom he had several children. His 2d son, the rev. William Beevor, had preferment co. Norfolk, and d. 1718: he m. Elizabeth, daughter of —— Batt, esq., by whom he had 2 sons and several daughters; 1. John, barrister at law, m. a daughter of Matthew Lancaster, esq.; Thomas Beevor, of Norwich, esq. (2d son), m. a daughter of John Sharpe, of Norwich, esq., by whom he had 4 sons, of whom,

I. Sir Thomas Beevor, his eldest son, was created a baronet Dec. 10, 1783; m. Elizabeth, daughter and heiress of Miles Branthwaite, of Hethel, co. SINCLAIR, of Ulbster, Caithness-shire, Scotland.
Feb. 4, 1786.

The Right Hon. Sir JOHN SINCLAIR, D.C.L., F.R. and A.S., was created a baronet, as above; and, in default, to the issue male of his daughters respectively; Cashier of the Excise-Office in North Britain: he married, 1st, March 26, 1776, Sarah, daughter of Alexander Maitland, of Stoke Newington, Esq., (nearly allied to the Earls of Lauderdale), by whom he has 2 daughters; Hannah, b. Feb. 1, 1780, d. May 22, 1818; and Janet, b. April 17, 1781, m. Sir James Colquhoun, Bart., and has issue a son, b. 1804: m., 2dly, March 6, 1788, Diana, daughter of Alexander, 1st Lord Macdonald, by whom he has, 1. George, M.P. co. Caithness, b. Aug. 28, 1790, m., May 1, 1816, Catharine-Camilla, 2d daughter of Sir William Manners, Bart., and has issue a daughter, b. Feb. 8, 1817; 2. Elizabeth, b. Nov. 6, 1791; 3. Margaret, b. March 7, 1793; 4. Alexander, b. June 17, 1794; 5. Julia, b. June 16, 1796; 6. John, b. Aug. 20, 1797; 7. Catharine, b. April 17, 1800; 8. Archibald, b. Sept. 20, 1801; 9. MACPHERSON, of Calcutta, in Bengal.

June 10, 1786.

Sir JOHN MACPHERSON was educated, first, at the University of Aberdeen, and afterwards at the University of Edinburgh. While residing at the latter, and and much countenanced by the celebrated Drs. Ferguson, Blair, and Robertson; at that period, his maternal uncle, Capt. Macleod, who commanded the Mansfield East Indiaman, arrived at Edinburgh. He was going on a voyage to Madras, Bombay, and China, and proposed to his nephew to accompany him. The affairs of India, from the publication of Orme's celebrated "History of the Wars in India," had then excited the strongest sensations of curiosity and inquiry. In August 1767, the Mansfield Indiaman, in which Sir John embarked with his uncle, arrived at Madras at that memorable juncture in which Tippoo came to the gates of Madras, unexpectedly, and when the governor, Mr. Bouchier, and the Nabob, Mahomed Ali, narrowly escaped from becoming his prisoners; Hyder Ali was, at the time, ravaging the Carnatic.

During Mr. Macpherson's stay at Madras he became known to the Nabob Mahomed Ali, who finding that his pursuit was a voyage of literary and local inquiry, opened to him all the calamitous circumstances of the country, and charged him with a confidential commission to his Majesty's first Minister; a commission which afterwards led, in 1769, to the nomination of a British Minister at the Durbar, or Court of the Nabob.

The Mansfield Indiaman having been sent from Bombay to convey troops to the siege of Mangalore, Sir John, then about 22 years of age, assisted as a volunteer at the storming of Octagon Fort, at the entrance of the harbour of Mangalore, and was charged, by Commodore Watson, who superintended the expedition, to carry the accounts of its success to the Earl of Shelburne. He arrived in England in the year 1768, in the Lioness Indiaman, and in the year 1770 he embarked, a second time, for India, having been appointed to the Company's civil service, under the presidency of Fort St. George. In the year 1773 he was appointed Paymaster to the army in the field, in the Carnatic, commanded by General Joseph Smith, and was present at the siege and reduction of Tanjore.

Lioness

Returning a second time to his native country, in 1777, he was charged with a most important confidential mission and communication from the Nabob to his Majesty, and his Majesty's first Minister, Lord North.

That communication laid open the secret offers of the French Government to the Nabob; offers which aimed at the total overthrow of the British power in the Carnatic. It was in consequence of that confidential communication that the secret orders of the 15th of April, 1778, were sent to India, directing the attack upon Pondicherry, before any declaration of war had taken place. Had not those orders arrived in India at the moment they did, Hyder Ali, who had made a truce with the Mahrattas in order to join the French in the Carnatic, would have been in time to prevent the reduction of Pondicherry, (See page 72 of the 2d volume of the Translation of the History of Hyder Ali Khan, by General Delatour, printed for J. Johnson, St. Paul's Churchyard, 1784), and the consequent eventual discomfiture of all the projects of France against the British power in India.

Early in 1779, Sir John Macpherson was elected a Member for the borough of Cricklade; and on the dissolution of Parliament, in Sept. 1780, he was a 2d time elected for that borough.

In

In Jan. 1781, he was appointed by the Court of Directors, and confirmed under his Majesty's Commission, a Member of the Supreme Council of Bengal, in the room of Richard Barwell, Esq. Having embarked for India in the fleet under the command of Governor Johnstone, he was in the memorable action of the 16th of April, 1781, in the Valentine East Indiaman, in Porto Praya, one of the Cape de Verde Islands; an action in which the attack of Admiral Suffrein, who commanded 5 French ships of the line, was repulsed effectually.

Arriving, in Aug. 1781, at Madras, which was then invested by the forces of Hyder Ali, who had overrun the Carnatic, Mr. Macpherson, in conjunction with Lord Macartney, Governor of Madras, Sir Eyre Coote, Commander of the Forces on the coast, and Sir Edward Hughes, Admiral of the Fleet, opened a negociation with the Mahratta Government; a negociation which fortunately led to an immediate cessation of hostilities with the Mahratta nation, and terminated in a regular treaty of peace with the Mahratta State.

Mr. Hastings, Governor-General of India, having laid down his office, and embarked for England on the 1st of Feb. 1785, Mr. Macpherson succeeded him in that high office, by virtue of different Acts of Parliament passed in his present Majesty's reign. He continued to preside at the head of the affairs in India till it was thought expedient, in England, to unite the offices of Governor-General and Commander-in-Chief of the Forces in one person; when he was, accordingly, superseded by Earl Cornwallis, in September 1786. During the period of his administration of 20 months, he conciliated the native States, maintained the Company's dominions in peace, peace, made an annual reduction of one million two hundred thousand pounds sterling in the expenditures of the Bengal Government, and concluded with the French Governor-General of Mauritius, in April 1786, the CONVENTION, by which the hostile plans of the Cabinet of France against the British possessions in India were effectually counteracted and defeated.

For these services he received the unanimous thanks of the Court of Directors and Proprietors of the India Company, and his Majesty was pleased to raise him to the rank of a Baronet in June 1786. After transferring the Government General to Earl Cornwallis, he remained several months in the Supreme Council. His minute on transferring the Government, and Marquess Cornwallis's answer, are most interesting public papers; and together with other papers detailing the plans of his Administration, were moved for and laid before Parliament on the 30th of June 1806. His health declining, he went, for its recovery, from Calcutta to Madras, and the Cape of Good Hope; and returned afterwards to Europe. In 1789 he finally resigned the Company's service, and in the close of that year visited the Continent, where he travelled till August 1793, having visited the principal Capitals and Courts of Germany, Italy, and Spain. He was elected in 1796 Member for the Borough of Horsham, and elected unanimously by the Freeholders; having declared to the contending parties on the day of election, "that his object in becoming their "Member of Parliament, was not to obtain any thing "for himself, but, after all he had seen in his travels "on the Continent, to aid the cause of a general peace." He continued to sit till the dissolution of parliament in 1802, 1802. Since that period he has not appeared in any public situation.

COLQUHOUN, of Luss, co. Dumbarton.

Created Baronet of Scotland, August 1, 1625; and of Great Britain, June 10, 1786.

Sir JAMES COLQUHOUN, Bart., succeeded his father, Sir James, in 1805; M.P. for the County of Dumbarton in 1802; married, in 1802, Janet, daughter of the Right Hon. Sir John Sinclair, of Ulbster, Bart., and has issue, 1. James; 2. John; 3. William; 4. Sarah-Maitland; and 5. Helen.

The traditional accounts of the origin of this ancient family are various. Some authors deduce their descent from a younger son of Conoch, a king of Ireland, who came to Scotland in the reign of Gregory the Great, and obtained from that prince some lands in Dumbartonshire, to which he gave the name of Conochon, which soon after came to be corrupted into Colquhoun, which name they have retained ever since. The immediate ancestor of this family was Umphridus de Kilpatrick, who, temp. Alexander II., obtained a grant of the lands and barony of Colquhoun, co. Dumbarton, whereupon he quitted the name of Kilpatrick, and assumed that that of Colquhoun. Ingelramus de Colquhoun, his son, lived temp. Alexander III. Sir John, the 7th in descent from Umphridus, was highly esteemed by James III., who, 1463, appointed him custos rotulorum, or clerk registrar for Scotland; and 1474 he was preferred to be lord high chamberlain of England. He was afterwards constituted governor of the castle of Dumbarton for life. He m. a daughter of Thomas, lord Boyd, by whom he had 2 sons and 1 daughter; 1. Humphrey; 2. Robert, who was consecrated bishop of Argyll 1473, and was in that see 1495. His daughter, Margaret, was wife of sir William Murray, 7th baron of Tullibardin, and bore to him 17 sons, of whom the duke of Athol, and several other families of the name of Murray, are descended. He was killed at the siege of the castle of Dumbarton, May 1, 1478, and was succeeded by his eldest son, sir Humphrey, who m., 1st, Jean, daughter of Thomas, lord Erskine, by whom he had 1 son, John, and 2 daughters; and 2dly, a daughter of John, 3d lord Somerville, by whom he had no surviving issue; and dying in 1493 was succeeded by his son, sir John, m., 1st, Margaret Stuart, daughter of John, earl of Lennox, by whom he had 2 sons and 4 daughters; and 2dly, Margaret Cunningham, by whom he had 2 sons. He d. 1535. His eldest son, Humphrey, m. Katharine, daughter of William, 1st earl of Montrose, by whom he had 1 son, John, and 3 daughters. He survived his father only 2 years, and was succeeded by his son, sir John, who m. Agnes, daughter of Robert, 4th lord Boyd, ancestor to the earls of Kilmarnock. His eldest son, Humphrey, m., 1st, Jean Cunningham, daughter of Alexander, 5th earl of Glencairn, relict of Archibald, 5th earl of Argyll, by whom he had no issue; and 2dly, Jean, daughter of John, lord Hamilton, by whom he had only 1 daughter.

In 1594, or 1595, the clan of Macgregor, with some of their lawless neighbours, came down upon the low country of Dumbartonshire, and committed vast depredations, especially upon the territories of the Colquhouns. Humphrey raised his vassals, and followed to oppose them, and was joined by many of the gentlemen in the neighbourhood. Both parties met at Glenfroome, where where a bloody conflict ensued. Many were killed on both sides, but the Highlanders appear to have had the advantage. The laird of Colquhoun retired to a castle of his own, but being closely pursued by a party of the enemy, they broke into his castle and put him to death; and he having no male issue, was succeeded by his brother, Alexander, m. Helen, daughter of sir George Buchanan, by whom he had 5 sons and 1 daughter. Sir John, the eldest son, was, by king Charles I., created a baronet of Nova Scotia. He was a great loyalist, and was fined by Oliver Cromwell the sum of £2000 sterling, 1654: he m. Lilias Graham, daughter of John, 4th earl of Montrose, brother to the Marquess, by whom he had 3 sons and 2 daughters: he was succeeded by his son, sir John, who m. Margaret, daughter and heiress of sir Gideon Baillie, of Lochend, co. Haddington, by Magdalene, daughter and co-heiress of David, lord Carnegie; but having no surviving male issue, was succeeded in 1676 by his brother, sir James, m. Penuel, daughter of sir William Cunningham, and Catharine, his wife, daughter of James, 7th earl of Glencairn, by whom he had 1 son, Humphry, and 1 daughter. He was succeeded by his son, sir Humphry, who was member of the union parliament, and strenuously opposed and voted against every article of it. He m. Margaret, daughter of sir Patrick Houston, bart., by Anne Hamilton, his wife, daughter of John, lord Bargeny, by whom he had only 1 daughter, Anne, wife in 1702, of James Grant. Sir Humphry wishing that his daughter and her husband should succeed him in his estate and honours, made, in 1704, a resignation of his baronetship, &c. for a new patent to himself in life-rent, his son-in-law and his heirs, on condition of carrying the name and arms of Colquhoun. Sir Humphry d. 1718, and was succeeded in his estate and honours by James Grant, his son-in-law, under the name and designation of sir James Colquhoun, of Luss, who enjoyed that estate and title till his elder brother, Alexander Grant, d. without issue in 1719; he then succeeded to the estate of Grant, relinquished the name and title of Colquhoun of Luss, and resumed that of Grant, but claimed the baronetship, it being by the last patent invested in his person. By the said Anne he had 5 sons and 5 daughters; 1. Humphry, d. unm. 1732; 2. Ludovic; 3. James; 4. colonel Francis; 5. captain Charles, of the R.N.: 1. Jean, countess-dowager of Fife; 2. Anne, wife of sir Henry Innes; 3. Sophia; 4. Penuel, wife of captain Alexander Grant; 5. Clementia, wife of sir William Dunbar, of Durn. Sir James d. Jan. 16, 1747, and was succeeded in his estate of Grant, of Bellindallach, by his eldest surviving son, Ludovic, who had possessed the estate of Luss till the death of his elder brother 1732, which then devolved upon his immediate younger brother, sir James, who enjoyed the estates and honours of sir Humphry Colquhoun, his grandfather, as heir of provision and entail, and carried the name and arms of that ancient family accordingly. He m. Helen Sutherland, (who d. Jan. 7, 1791,) daughter of William, lord Strathnaver, son and heir-apparent of John, 19th earl of Sutherland, by whom he had 3 sons and 6 daughters; 1. James; 2. William, a colonel in the army, unm.; 3. Lodowic, a colonel in the army. Of the daughters, 1. Catharine, wife of sir Roderick M'Kenzie, bart., by whom she had issue; 2. Janet, of general John Campbell, by whom she has issue; 3. Anne-Sutherland, d. young; 4. Margaret, wife of William Baillie, one of the senators of the College of Justice, by whom she has issue; 5. Helen, of William Colquhoun, by whom she has no issue; 6. Janet, of Ebenezer Marshall, esq., by whom she had no issue. Sir James d. Nov. 16, 1786, and was succeeded by his son,

I. Sir JAMES, 8th baronet of the creation of 1704, and 1st of that of 1786, m., July 1772, Mary, one of the co-heiresses of James Falconer, by his wife, daughter of lord Falconer, by whom he had 7 sons; 1. sir James, 2d bart.; 2. William, d. young; 3. Patrick-Ludovic; 4. Ludovic, d. young; 5. John-Campbell; 6. Sutherland-Morrison; 7. Roderick: and 4 daughters; 1. Jane-Falconer; 2. Helen; 3. Wilhelmina; 4. Catharine. Sir James d. 1805, and was succeeded by SKEFFINGTON, of SKEFFINGTON-HALL, co. Leicester.

June 10, 1786.

Sir LUMLEY-ST.-GEORGE SKEFFINGTON succeeded his father, Sir William-Charles-Farrell, Jan. 26, 1815.

The ancient family of Skeffington derives its name from the village of Skeffington, co. Leicester. Simon Skeffington was living there temp. Edward I., and had 2 sons, Geoffrey and John.

The male line of Geoffrey failed in the 3d generation, but the heiress m. William Skeffington, a descendant of John, the younger brother. The 11th in descent from him was sir William, knighted by Henry VII., and in 1529 constituted the king's commissioner to Ireland, where he distinguished himself greatly by his services, civil and military, and d. lord deputy of that kingdom in Dec. 1535. From a younger branch of his posterity are descended the earls of Massereene, in Ireland. The elder branch failed with sir John, who in 1613 was murdered by Michael Bray, husband to his elder brother's widow, at the Hoop Tavern, Gray's-Inn. Bray going down stairs, stopped short at the bottom, with his sword drawn, and as sir John came after him, gave him a mortal wound in his bowels, who, falling down upon him, with his sword just drawn, mortally wounded him also, and so both d. upon the spot; by which sad accident sir John's 4 sisters became co-heiresses. Catharine, the 3d sister, was wife of William Broome, by

by whom she had several children. ORDE, of MORPETH, co. Northumberland.
July 27, 1790.

Sir JOHN ORDE, Bart., Admiral of the Red, married, first, in 1780, Margaret, daughter and heiress of Richard Stephens, of St. Helena, in South Carolina, Esq. (who d. in 1789,) by whom he had John, who d. in his infancy: m., secondly, Jane, eldest daughter of John Frere, of Finningham, co. Suffolk, Esq., by whom he has, 1. John-Powlett, b. June 9, 1803; and 2. Anna-Maria-Fenn, b. May 23, 1806. Sir John, 1766, first entered the R.N.; 1773, was made a Lieutenant; in 1777, promoted to the rank of Commander; 1778, Post-Captain; and in 1783 he was appointed Governor of the Island of Dominica; 1790, he was created a Baronet; 1795, he was promoted to a Flag; 1797, he was made Vice-Admiral of the Blue; 1801, Vice-Admiral of the White; 1804, Vice-Admiral of the Red; Nov. 9, 1805, Admiral of the Blue Squadron; in 1814, Admiral of the White; and Member of Parliament for Yarmouth, Hants, 1810.

The family of Orde appears to be of great antiquity, and was long possessed of considerable landed estates, cos. Northumberland and Durham, which, in the latter county, were held in capite, under the bishop, in right of his palatinate, especially at and in the neighbourhood of Orde, near Berwick-upon-Tweed. Most of these, in both counties, still remain in the family; and part of them, viz. at Orde, Moreham, Grindon, &c. descended to John Orde, esq., father of William Orde, esq., of Morpeth and Nunnykirk, co. Northumberland; of Thomas, 1st lord Bolton; of sir John Orde, bart., vice-admiral, &c.; of 2 daughters, as heir male of his cousin, William Orde, esq., of Sandy Bank House, M.P. for Berwick-upon-Tweed. William Orde, of Sandy Bank, left 3 daughters: the eldest m., 1st, to Henry Ogle, of Cawsey Park, co. Northumberland, esq.; and, 2dly, to sir W. Carr, of Hall-House, in the said county, bart. The second m., 1st, Thomas Foster, of Atherston, in that county, esq.; and, 2dly, Robert Fenwick, of Lemmington, in the same county, esq. The third m. to Walter Kettleby, of Athold, in the same county, esq. These daughters inherited other considerable estates not entailed, viz. Noreham Castle, and its demesnes; Sandy Bank, &c., which continued in the heirs of Mrs. Fenwick, who alone left children. John Orde, esq., (father of sir John Orde, &c.) lived chiefly at Morpeth, and acted for many years as a magistrate and deputy-lieutenant of the co. Northumberland, and d. in 1784. He was m. first, to Mary, daughter of Edward Wards, of Nunnykirk, esq., by whom he had 1 son, William Orde, esq., of Morpeth, and now of Nunnykirk, who inherited the family estates, and also those of the Wards of Nunnykirk, by his marriage with his cousin, Anne, daughter and since heiress of William Ward, esq. He m., 2dly, Anne, widow of the rev. William Pye, and by her had 2 sons and 2 daughters: Thomas, created, Oct. 20, 1797, baron Bolton, d. in 1807, leaving William, lord Bolton, and other issue; 2. John, now sir John Orde, bart. admiral of the red; 3. Anne; and 4. Mary, m. Robert Lisle, of Acton-House, co. Northumberland, esq.

MALET, of WILBURY-HOUSE, near AMESBURY, Wiltshire;

Formerly of ST. AUDRIES, in Somersetshire.

Feb. 12, 1791.

Sir ALEXANDER-CHARLES-ST.-LOO MALET, Bart. succeeded his father, Sir Charles Warre, Jan. 24, 1815.

Malleus, Maule, Mallet, or Malet, was (while defensive armour was in use, and previous to fire-arms) one of the offensive weapons of a well-armed warrior, generally made of iron, and used, like the mace, to destroy, by pounding or bruising the enemy through or under armour that could not be penetrated by edged or pointed weapons. Thus Edward I. was called Malleus Scotorum; and the origin of this family-name is to be attributed to some similar cause, from its having been applied titulary to some person of the race, celebrated for his general prowess, or particular dexterity in the use of this weapon. For the origin of this family, though we have traces of its celebrity in Norway (as kings of that country) previous to the Norman settlement in France; yet, as connected with English annals, it is unnecessary, in this place, to establish the authenticity of its genealogy beyond the conquest, in which great enterprise William, lord Malet de Greville, was one of the great barons that accompanied the conqueror; and on Harold's being slain, was charged by the conqueror with the guard and protection of the fallen monarch, to whose queen he was related; said to have been her brother. He was subsequently invested with great territorial property, and intrusted with the most important commands, particularly the government of the county and city of York.

He

He and his successors, besides their possessions in France, (where they continued to hold an eminent place in the noblesse of Normandy till the late revolution,) acquired vast possessions in England; insomuch that, in consideration of the services and celebrity of the family, it was, at the general survey, possessed of 32 lordships in Yorkshire, 3 in Essex, 1 in Hampshire, 12 in Nottinghamshire; (Vide Peerage of England, published A.D. 1711;) 8 in Lincolnshire, and 221 (or the greatest part of so many,) in Suffolk, of which Eye was the chief. The fortunes of so great a family were necessarily involved in the subsequent vicissitudes of the crown and monarchy; and we find it elevated and depressed accordingly. To its above mentioned great possessions were early added others in Somersetshire, when it held 12 knights' fees, with baronial rank; in which character William, lord Malet's (grandson of the first William) signature and arms are annexed to magna charta.

In succeeding ages, fluctuations ensued in the property and dignity of the family; the baronial rank and territory devolved by females to the families of Pointz and Vivian, or Vivonia. Two branches, however, retained great property and respectability co. Somerset, viz. of St. Audries and of Enmore: the latter was alienated by the marriage of Elizabeth Malet to Wilmot, the celebrated earl of Rochester, temp. Charles II.; from the three daughters of which marriage descend the Lisburn, Sandwich, Bayntum, and Greville families. (Another Elizabeth carried the estate of Woolley, co. Devon, to sir Arthur Acland, whence the present Aclands, co. Devon.)

Sir Thomas Malet, of St. Audries, was knighted and made a judge by Charles I., in whose service he lost a son, was himself imprisoned 2 years in the Tower, and sustained great injury to his property. After the restoration he sat as judge on the trial of the regicides; and in consideration of his inflexible loyalty, and severe sufferings, was distinguished by Charles II. with the grant of a pension of 1000*l.* per annum; and a patent (Vide Kimber and Johnson's Baronetage, vol. iii. p. 322,) of baronetage, dated 1663, under the royal sign manual, now in sir Charles's possession; but dying soon after, at the great age of 83, it remained dormant in the family through 3 generations (John, Baldwin, and Alexander) to the present time, when the same dignity has been conferred on his great great-grandson sir Charles Warre, 1st baronet, by his present majesty, for meritorious services in the East Indies. This gentleman, on his return from India, brought the first testimonials of personal attachment and respect that had ever been transmitted direct from the Peishwa to the king and the East India company, consisting of jewels and rich cloths, the produce and manufacture of that country, which were graciously received by his majesty.

On his return to England, 1798, sir Charles-Warre Malet endeavoured to re-establish himself in some of the ancient possessions of his family, co. Somerset, the principal seat of his family ever since the Norman conquest; but failing in that object, he has chosen Wilbury-House, with the parish and manor of Newton-Toney, co. Wilts, for the future residence of himself and family.

I. Sir CHARLES-WARRE MALET, F.R.S. and F.A.S. the 19th in lineal descent from lord William Malet, who first settled in England with William the conqueror, was created a baronet Feb. 12, 1791. Sir Charles entered into the service of the East India company, and held several offices of great trust and responsibility: in 1785, he was appointed plenipotentiary to the court of the Peishwa, or head of the Mahrattas; previous to which he had visited the Great Mogul, and been created one of the nobles of his empire; left Bombay, Feb. 1798, in which place he had been acting governor, and reached England in July of the same year; m. Sept. 17, 1799, Susannah, eldest daughter of Mr. James Wales, a celebrated painter, who fell an untimely and much lamented sacrifice to the ardour with which he devoted himself in the climate of India to the collection of subjects for his elegant pencil; and had issue, 1. Alexander-Charles-St.-Loo, present bart.; 2. William Windham; 3. George-Grenville; 4. Arthur; 5. Hugh-Poyntze; 6. Louis-Charter, b. May 19, 1776; 7. Elizabeth-Charter, b. Oct. 16, 1781; 8. Emma-Frances, b. Oct. 18, 1782; m.

July 1812, the rev. Robert Ekin, son of the late rev. the dean of Salisbury. Sir Charles Warre d. Jan. 24, 1815, and was succeeded by his eldest son, II. Sir ALEXANDER-CHARLES-ST.-LOO, present baronet.

Arms—Azure, three escallops, or.

Crest—Out of a ducal coronet, or, a griffin's head, ermine.

Motto—Ma force d'en haut.

Arms—See plate 33.

Quarterings—Fitchet—Wobrington. Hull—Aleigh. Cliffe—Mordake. Valetort—Audley. Hache or Hatch—Durwyn. Esse—Creedy and Markham.

N.B. The escallops seem to have been assumed by a crusader of the family (of one of whom there is a monument in the church of Shipton Malet) subsequent to the settlement in England; but prior to the reign of king John, as the arms borne by the companion of William the conqueror are said to have been three buckles, which are still retained by the family of Greville, in Normandy. The motto seems to have been assumed by Baldwin, solicitor to king Henry VIII., probably in allusion to the potence of his royal master. Amongst the great possessions of the family in Somersetshire, were Enmore Castle, St. Audries, Sutton Malet, Curry Malet, Shipton Malet, Poynington, Oak, Compton, Conquest, &c., all which are now alienated.

KENNAWAY, of WILBURY-HOUSE, co. Wilts.

Feb. 19, 1791.

Sir JOHN KENNAWAY, Bart., entered into the service of the East India Company, in 1772, as a Cadet, being then in his 13th year; and after serving through the whole war against Hyder Ali, in the years 1781, 82, and 83, was appointed Aide-de-Camp to Charles, Marquess quess Cornwallis, K.G. In 1788, he was appointed Resident at the Court of the Nizam, with whom, on the breaking out of the war with Tippoo Sultaun in 1790, he concluded a treaty of alliance, for which service he was advanced to the dignity of the Baronetage. Under the auspices of Marquess Cornwallis, he conducted, in 1792, the negotiations for, and concluded the preliminary and definitive treaties of peace between the allied powers and Tippoo, by which half the dominions of the latter were ceded, and 3,300,000*l.* paid to the allies. In 1796, the East India Company settled on him an annuity of 500*l.*

He returned to England 1794, and Feb. 1797, married Charlotte, 2d daughter of James Amyatt, Esq. formerly Member for Totness; and 1784, 1790, 1796, and 1802, for Southampton; by whom he has issue, 1. John; 2. Charles-Edward; 3. Charlotte-Eliza; 4. Maria-Lawrence.

Robert Kennaway, of Kennaway, co. Fife, d. 1682. June 31, 1791.

Sir WALTER-JAMES JAMES, Bart. D.C.L. (formerly WALTER-JAMES HEAD) was created a Baronet, as above, and is Warden of His Majesty's Mint. Sir Walter married, April 25, 1780, Jane, youngest daughter of Charles, 1st Earl Camden, and sister to the present Marquess Camden, K.G. by whom he has had issue, 1. Francis, Captain in the 81st Regiment of Foot, who d. of the wounds he received at the siege of Badajos, April 14th, 1812; 2. John, Secretary of Embassy, and Minister Plenipotentiary at the Court of the Netherlands, m., June 29, 1814, his first cousin, Lady Emily-Jane Stewart, daughter of Robert, Marquess of Londonderry, and sister to Viscount Castlereagh, K.G. His Majesty's principal Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, and to Lord Stewart, G.C.B. and d. at Dublin, of a rapid decline, in April 1818, leaving issue by her Ladyship an only Son, and heir apparent to the Baronetcy, Walter, b. June 3, 1816; 3. Jane, m. in 1803, to John Trower, Esq., of Berkeley Square, and she

she is since deceased, leaving issue; 4. Mary-Anne, m. to the gallant Major-General Sir John Byng, K.C.B., cousin to Viscount Torrington, and has issue; 5. Frances; and 6. Charlotte-Elizabeth, m., July 29, 1817, to Francis-Frederick de Lerber, of the Sovereign Council of the Town Republic of Berne, Major of Artillery, and attached to the Staff of the Swiss Confederation.

The family of Head, of Langley-Hall, in the parish of Hampstead Norris, co. Berks, where they have been seated ever since the reign of king Henry VIII. is a branch of the Heads, baronets of Kent, who are of the greatest antiquity in that county, having assumed their original name of de Hede, from the ancient port now called Hithe, but then Hede, or Hide, and of which family was Hamo de Hede, who, in 1291, was bishop of Rochester, and confessor to king Edward II. The Heads, of Langley-Hall, are also related to the two ancient families of Filmer and Honywood, baronets of Kent.

Richard Head, esq., of Langley Hall, son of Richard Head, esq., who was son of John Head, esq., and m. Elizabeth, daughter of John Wallis, esq., of Soundess-House, co. Oxford (only son and heir of the learned Dr. John Wallis, savilian professor in the university of Oxford, and the most celebrated mathematician of his time) left 2 sons and 1 daughter, viz.; sir Thomas, knighted by king George II. in 1744, and high sheriff for Berks the same year; and Richard, in holy orders, and vicar of Chieveley co. Berks, (of both of whom hereafter) and Elizabeth, m. to John James, esq., of Denford Court, co. Berks, the last heir male of the James family, which is of great antiquity in that county, their ancestors having been representatives in parliament for the borough of Wallingford, in the reign of king Edward III.

Sir Thomas Head m., in 1750, Jane, daughter of Rowland Holt, esq., of Redgrave Hall, co. Suffolk, nephew and heir to the right hon. sir John Holt, knight, lord chief justice of the court of king's bench, by whom he had issue, 1. William, who in 1772 became sole heir to to his uncle, John James, esq., of Denford Court, and in compliance with whose will he assumed the name and arms of James only, by act of parliament, since d.; 2. Walter James, the first and present baronet; and 3. Jane, who m. William Osbaldeston, esq., of Hutton Bushell, co. York, M.P. for Scarborough, and has issue, George, M.P. in the last parliament for East Retford, and several daughters.

Richard Head, in holy orders, and only surviving brother of sir Thomas, d. at Chieveley 1789, leaving issue by Elizabeth, his wife, an only daughter and heiress, Harriot-James Head, b. Nov. 22, 1749; m., July 5, 1778, Morgan Graves, M.A. in holy orders, and nephew to Morgan Graves, esq. of Mickleton-House, co. Gloucester, by whom she had issue, Richard-Charles Head, of Pembroke College, Oxford, b. May 13, 1781; m., Jan. 30, 1806, the honourable Cassandra Twisleton, youngest daughter of Thomas, 10th Lord Saye and Sele, and has issue, Charles Twisleton, b. Sept. 28, 1807, and Augusta Maria Selina, b. Jan. 12, 1810.

Walter-James Head, esq., on succeeding to the estates and possessions of the James family, at the death of his elder brother, William James, esq. also assumed the name and arms of James only, by virtue of the king's sign manual, was created a baronet, as above, and is

ERSKINE, of TORRY, co. Fife.

June 21, 1791.

Sir JAMES ERSKINE, Bart. succeeded his brother, Sir

Sir William, Feb. 13, 1813; Lieutenant-General in the Army; married Louisa Paget, 3d daughter of Henry Bayley, 1st Earl of Uxbridge, and sister to the present Marquess of Anglesey, K.G. G.C.B.

The Erskines of Torrie are a branch of the Erskines, earls of Mar, by the following descent.

John, earl of Mar, high treasurer of Scotland, son to the regent, m., 1st, Anne, daughter to the earl of Perth, and had 1 son, by whom the line of Mar was continued. He m., 2dly, lady Mary Stewart, daughter and sole heiress to Esme, duke of Lennox, by whom he had 7 sons and 4 daughters: James, the eldest, m. lady Mary Douglas, countess of Buchan, and in her right became earl of Buchan, with remainder to his heirs male whatever. Henry, the 2d son, was created lord Cardross during his father's lifetime: he m. Margaret, daughter of sir James Ballandon, and sister to the 1st lord Ballandon, by whom he had 1 son, David, his heir, and 1 daughter, Mary: he d. in 1636. David, his successor, m., 1st, Anne, daughter to sir Thomas Hope, of Craig-Hall, by whom he had 1 son, Henry, colonel of dragoons, whose son, David, succeeded to, and carried on, the present line of Buchan: he m., 2dly, Mary, daughter to sir George Bruce, of Carnock (who was descended from king Robert Bruce,) and sister to Edward and Alexander, earls of Kincardine, by whom he had 4 sons and 3 daughters: 1. Alexander, who d. young; 2. sir William, 1st bart.; 3. John, a colonel of foot; he was a very eminent person, and much attached to the cause of religion and civil liberty; he was in great favour with king William, who appointed him governor of Stirling and Dumbarton castles, and was principal manager of the Scots' East India and African company; 4. Charles, a captain of foot, killed at the battle of Steinkirk, July 24, 1692; and 3 daughters; Veronica; Magdalene; and Mary. David, lord Cardross, d. 1671.

William Erskine, of Torrie, co. Fife, 2d son to David, lord Cardross, a person of great integrity and honour, was a colonel in the army; he served in the cavalry with distinguished reputation, and was appointed deputy-governor of Blackness castle; he m. Magdalene, daughter to sir James Lumsdane, of Innergelly, co. Fife, major-general in the service of Gustavus Adolphus, king of Sweden, and had issue 2 sons, William and James; the latter of whom was captain in the Greys, and lost his life on service in Flanders. William, the eldest, who succeeded his father, was a colonel in the army, and lieutenant-colonel of the 7th light dragoons, which regiment he commanded during the Flanders' war, and was severely wounded at the battle of Fontenoy, from which he never recovered: he m. Henrietta, daughter and co-heiress to William Baillie, of Lamington, by lady Henrietta Lindsay, eldest daughter to William, the 15th earl of Crawford. William Baillie, of Lamington, chief of that ancient name, was paternally descended from sir Alexander Baillie, or Baliol, baron of Caires, lord chamberlain of Scotland, and a younger brother to John Baliol, lord of Galloway, father to John Baliol, king of Scotland: he was also descended from sir William Wallace, regent of Scotland in 1297, (one of the greatest patriots, warriors, and heroes, of this or any other age or country.) The Bailies, or earls of Lamington, became seated there by marriage with sir William Wallace's daughter and only child. The said William Erskine of Torrie had, by his wife, Henrietta, 1 son, sir William, 1st bart. and 2 daughters, Margaret and Henrietta: the former m. —— Stirling, of Keir, esq.

Sir WILLIAM, who succeeded his father, entered the army at an early period. By services of the most splendid nature he added many a wreath to his country's fame, and did honour to the noble race from whence he sprung. He served in various climes for the long period of half a century, seventeen years of which were employed in the most active campaigns, having served in the Flanders, German, and American wars, and that of the French revolution. After the war of Germany he laid at the king's feet 16 stand of colours, taken by the regiment which he commanded (the 15th light dragoons) alone; upon which occasion, his majesty was graciously graciously pleased to create him knight banneret, (the only one of his time), and which distinction has never since been conferred on any one. He was created a baronet, as above, June 21, 1791. In the eventful period of the French revolution, when the British were employed in Flanders, he exhibited a firmness and coolness beyond all praise. He, on every occasion, imparted a brilliancy to his own character, and an addition to the military reputation of England, which will be long remembered, and was, at the time, productive of the most essential benefit. He was as much beloved for his social virtues as he was esteemed and respected, even by the enemy, for his personal bravery and military talents; and it is not too much to say, that England now could boast of an officer who possessed, in a superior degree, such undeniable claims to the confidence and honours which his merits alone occasioned. He attained the rank of lieutenant-general in the army, and colonel of the 26th regiment of foot; but his most distinguished services were with the cavalry. He had received his majesty's commission to proceed to Ireland, to take upon himself the command of the troops in that kingdom, and was preparing to depart, when he was seized with a spasm, and, after a short illness, d. in the full vigour of mind and body, April 1795, in the 68th year of his age.

He m., 1st, Magdalene, only child of sir Robert Myrton, of Gogar, by whom he had one child, who d. in infancy. He m., 2dly, Frances, daughter of James Moray, of Abercairney, by Christian, his wife, daughter to Alexander, earl of Eglinton; (James Moray was chief of that name, and descended from the earls of Strathern.) By this 2d marriage he had 3 sons and 5 daughters; 1. sir William, and 2. sir James, successive baronets; 3. John-Drummond, in the civil service of the East India company; 4. Frances, m. lieutenant-general William Wemyss, of Wemyss Castle; 5. Christian, who d. young; 6. Henrietta, d. unm.; 7. Elizabeth, m. her cousin, James Moray, of Abercairney, esq.; and 8. Magdalene. Sir William d. April 1795, and was succeeded in his title and estates by his eldest son,

II. Sir

II. Sir WILLIAM, lieutenant-general of cavalry, who served in the war of the French revolution, in the expedition to Flushing, and three years in Spain and Portugal. He was much distinguished by a quickness of apprehension, and precision of judgment, on most subjects, but particularly on military matters. He was intrusted with the command of the advanced guard in the pursuit of the French from the lines of Lisbon, in which he acquitted himself to the high satisfaction of the commander of the forces; and after enduring the most fatiguing operations of the campaign in 1812, he was seized with a pleurisy, terminating in a fever, of which he d. at Brozas, in Spain, Feb. 13, 1813, being at that time in command of the British cavalry, unm. He was succeeded by his brother,

III. Sir JAMES, present baronet.

I. Sir RICHARD, created a baronet, June 18, 1792, b. Aug. 10, 1730, entered early into the R.N., and in 1738 accompanied his maternal uncle, commodore Curtis Barnett, commander-in-chief in the Mediterranean; afterwards, 1744, in the East Indies. 1746 he was promoted to the rank of lieutenant; 1759 he was made post. On the commencement of hostilities with Spain, 1762, lord Anson particularly recommended captain King to his majesty, as an officer on whom he could depend, to convey the earliest intelligence of that event to the East Indies. General (afterwards sir Edward, K.B.,) Draper, who was appointed to command the land forces against Manilla, embarked with him on board the Argo, which sailed from Plymouth, Feb. 22. Captain King had the good fortune, which lord Anson predicted, to make a very expeditious passage to India; which, if he had not effected, the enterprise against Manilla must have failed, as the squadron arrived there only a few days previously to the changing of the monsoon. 1763 he was appointed to the Grafton, of 68 guns, in which he arrived in England in July 1764, with the galleon which he had captured in company of the Lennox. 1771 he was appointed to the Ardent, and afterwards to the Asia, which was stationed guardship at Portsmouth. In 1779 he was appointed to the Exeter, of 64 guns, and by the desire of lord Mulgrave and sir William James, the chairman of the East India company, he was nominated to proceed, as 2d officer in command, under rear-admiral

ral sir Edward Hughes, to the East Indies. After his arrival there, in 1780, he was promoted to the rank of commodore. On this station he continued during the whole of the war, and was engaged in all the actions with the French squadron, commanded by M. de Suffrein. In 1784 he received the honour of knighthood. In 1787 he was promoted to the rank of rear-admiral of the white, and 1790 he was appointed commander-in-chief in the Downs. 1791 he was made rear-admiral of the red, and appointed to command the 3d division of the fleet at Spithead. 1792 he was created a baronet, and appointed governor and commander-in-chief at Newfoundland. 1793 he was promoted to the rank of vice-admiral of the blue; he was elected to represent Rochester in 1794, 1796, and 1802. 1794, being vice-admiral of the red, he was appointed commander-in-chief at the port of Plymouth; and in June, 1795, he was promoted to the rank of admiral of the blue. 1799 he became admiral of the white. Sir Richard m. Susannah-Margaret, daughter of William Coker, of Maypowder, co. Dorset, esq., and had issue, sir Richard, 2d baronet; William-Robert, d. 1793; and 1. STIRLING, of Uppal, co. Edinburgh.

July 19, 1792.

Sir GILBERT STIRLING, Bart., succeeded his father Sir James, Feb. 1805.

 This

This surname is of great antiquity in Scotland.

In ancient times, before the competition for the crown between Bruce and Baliol, there were two considerable families of this name, who made a great figure in Scotland, viz. the families of Keir and Calder. It is supposed, that the immediate ancestor of this baronet was Walterius de Striveling, who lived in the reigns of king David I. and Malcolm IV. in the 12th century. Thomas de Striveling, his grandson, a man of extraordinary parts and integrity, being bred to the church, became one of the greatest men in the kingdom. He was appointed lord high chancellor of Scotland by King Alexander II., and d. 1227. From Robert, his elder brother, descended Gilbert Stirling, esq., who m. Margaret, daughter of Alexander Cuming, esq., by whom he had a son, Alexander, of the city of Edinburgh, merchant, m. Joan, daughter of James Moir, esq., by whom he had 7 children: 1. sir James, 1st bart.; 2. Gilbert, a merchant in London, d. unm.; 3. Janet, wife of George M'Queen, esq., Edinburgh, by whom she had a son, Daniel, and 3 daughters, Jean, Margaret, and Alison; 4. Alexander; 5. Seasa; and 6. Elizabeth; all these d. unm.; and 7. Margaret, wife of Charles Robertson, esq., by whom she had 2 sons, Charles and James. The eldest son,

I. Sir JAMES, was created a baronet, July 19, 1792, late lord provost of the city of Edinburgh; m. Alison, daughter of James Mansfield, banker in Edinburgh, esq., and had issue, 1. sir Gilbert, present baronet; 2. Janet; 3. Joan; and deceasing in Feb. 1805, was succeeded by his only son, BARING, of LARKBEER, co. Devon.

May 11, 1793.

Sir THOMAS BARING, Bart., M.P. for Wycombe, and a Merchant in London, born June 12, 1772; succeeded his father, Sir Francis, Sept. 12, 1810; married, 1794, 1794, Mary, eldest daughter of Charles Sealy, of Calcutta, Esq., Barrister at Law, and has issue, 1. Francis; 2. Thomas; 3. John; 4. Charles; 5. Mary, d. Oct. 3, 1812; 6. Charlotte; 7. Emily, d. Dec. 7, 1812; and 8. a daughter, b. Aug. 23, 1813.

John Baring, of the Lutheran church at Bremen, of a family originally from Lower Saxony, had 2 daughters and a son, John Baring, of Larkbeer and Lynbridge, co. Devon, esq., m. Elizabeth, daughter of John Bellair, by whom he had, 1. Thomas, m. Elizabeth, daughter of Francis Parker, esq., by whom he had 6 children; John, Francis, Anne, Elizabeth, Charlotte, and Margaret; 3. sir Francis, 1st baronet; 4. Charles, m. Margaret, daughter and heiress of William Gould, of East Loo, co. Cornwall, esq., by whom he had 2 sons, William and Charles, and 7 daughters, viz., Jaquetta, wife of sir Stafford Northcote, of Pine, co. Devon, bart.; Frances, of William Jackson, of Cowley, co. Devon, esq.; Eleanor; Emily; Lucy; and Caroline; and 5. Elizabeth, wife of John Dunning, esq., created baron Ashburton; (Vide Debrett's Peerage of the United Kingdom;) by whom she had 2 sons; John, who d. an infant; and Richard-Barré, the present lord.

I. Sir FRANCIS, 3d son, of Stratton-Park, co. Hants, b. April 18, 1740, created a baronet May 11, 1793. Sir Francis at an early period distinguished himself by his accurate knowledge and dexterity in financial calculations during the eventful periods of the last 40 years: he exhibited to his countrymen a just knowledge of his country's true interest, and an eager anxiety to promote her commerce by his own individual example. Enabled by his affluence to assist the minister in the various loans required, from time to time, in the service of the state, he soon became the leading member of the monied interest; and even the prosperity of England, at certain periods, may be said to have revolved around him, as its primum mobile. His services on these and other occasions of great national interest, particularly as a director of the East India company, and as a member of parliament, were too important to escape the notice of administration, and certainly entitle his memory to grateful veneration. He m. Henrietta, daughter of William Herring, of Croydon, co. Surrey, esq., cousin and co-heiress of Thomas Herring, archbishop of Canterbury 1747, and by her (who d. Dec. 3, 1804,) he had issue, 1. sir Thomas, the present baronet; 2. Alexander, M. P. in the last and present parliament for Taunton, m. Anne, eldest daughter of William Bingham, of Philadelphia, esq., and has issue; 3. Henry, m., 1802, Maria, 2d daughter of William Bingham, esq.; 4. William, m. July 19, 1810, Frances, 4th daughter of John Thompson, of Waverley-Abbey, co. Surrey, esq.; 5. George, m. Harriet, 2d daughter of sir John D'Oyley, bart.; 6. Harriet, m. Charles Wall, esq.; 7. Maria, m. Richard Stainforth, esq.; 8. Dorothy-Elizabeth, m. P. C. Labouchere, esq.; 9. Frances, m. Thomas-Read Kemp, esq.; 10. Lydia, m., Dec. 20, 1806, the rev. Philip-Laycock Story. Sir Francis was first elected to parliament in 1786, for Grampound; for Calne in 1796; and in 1802 for Chipping Wycombe; and d. Sept. 12, 1810. On his decease, such was the powerful influence of his name in the mercantile world, that even the public funds exhibited the effects of his loss, by a considerable depression; a circumstance highly illustrative of his elevated character as a British merchant, and of his intimate connexion with the financial interests of his country. He was succeeded by his eldest son,

II. Sir THOMAS, present baronet.

Arms—Azure, a fesse, or, in chief, a bear's head, proper, muzzled and ringed, or.

Crest—A mullet, erminois, between two wings, argent.

SALUSBURY, of LLANWERN, co. Monmouth.
April 11, 1795.

Sir THOMAS-ROBERT SALUSBURY, Bart., born May 18, 1783, succeeded his father, Sir Robert, Nov. 15, 1817.

This family is considered, by some, to be a junior branch from Walter de Ewrus, earl of Rosmar and Mante, (who accompanied William the Conqueror into England, and was rewarded with the lordships of Salusbury and Ambrosebury, co. Wilts.) Other genealogists deduce the family from Adam de Salisbury, a younger son of the duke of Bavaria, who came into Wales, and was captain of the garrison of Denbigh, whereby he became possessed of land there, and by his wife, Joyce, daughter of sir William Pomfret, had 2 sons, Alexander and Thomas, who m. Joyce, daughter of Sir William Maundeville, knt., by whom he had John, who was living temp.

temp. Henry III., (probably the same John de Salusbury who founded the abbey of Denbigh,) and who, dying temp. king Edward I., was buried in that religious house: he left issue. 2dly, Henry Salisbury, styled the Black, m. Nesta, daughter and heiress of Kenrick Jais, by whom he had William Salusbury, who served in the baronial parliaments, holden at Westminster, as burgess for Leominster, co. Hereford, and was summoned for the same place in the 11th, 12th, 14th, 15th, 20th, 36th, and 37th, of the same reign. Thomas, a descendant of his, having valiantly behaved himself against the Cornish rebels, headed by lord Audley, was knighted at the bridge foot, upon the king's entering London after the battle of Blackheath, 1496. Henry Salusbury, the 11th in descent from him, was created a baronet 1619, and m., 1st, Hester, daughter of sir Thomas Middleton, knt., by whom he had issue, Thomas, John, Ursula, and Elizabeth; m., 2dly, Elizabeth, daughter of sir John Vaughan, afterwards lord Carbery, by whom he had 1 daughter, Anne, wife of Arthur Stanhope, son of Philip, 1st earl of Chesterfield. He d. Aug. 2, 1632, and was succeeded by his eldest son, sir Thomas, who served in parliament, co. Denbigh, in all the parliaments of Charles II. He m. Jane, daughter of Edward Williams; but having no issue, his sister, Hester, wife of sir Robert Cotton, of Combermere, knt., and bart. was his heir, and the title of baronet was extinct. From Roger, a great uncle of sir Henry, 1st baronet, descended, in the 3d generation, Thomas Salusbury, whose younger son, Norfolk Salusbury, of Place y Ward, co. Denbigh, esq., (who d. 1736,) m. Elizabeth, daughter and heiress of Robert Williams, esq., by whom he had 4 sons, Robert, Thelwall, James, and John. Robert, of Cotton-Hall, co. Denbigh, esq., the eldest son, m. Gwen, daughter and heiress of Ellis Davies, of Nantyrerwhaid, co. Merioneth, esq., by whom he had, 1. sir Robert, present baronet; 2. John, d. unm.; 3. Thomas, in the army, m. Sarah, daughter of Bulkeley Hatchet, of Lee-Hall, co. Salop, esq.; 4. Lynch, vicar of Offley, Herts, m. Jane Offley, by whom he has 3 children, Samuel, William, and Elizabeth; 5. Thelwall, in holy orders, rector of Graveley, co. Herts, m. Elizabeth, daughter of Charles Offley, of Great Ormond Street, London, esq., and has issue, Robert, Mary, and Thelwall.

I. Sir ROBERT, created a baronet April 11, 1795; b. Sept. 10, 1756; m. Catharine, daughter and sole heir of Charles Vane, of Lanwern, esq., and had issue: 1. Thomas, d. young; 2. Sir Thomas-Robert, present baronet; 3. Charles, b. Feb. 4, 1792; 4. Sarah-Catharine; 5. Charlotte-Gwen, m., May 28, 1811, Thomas-Bates Rows, of Courtyrala, co. Glamorgan, esq.; 6. Eliza-beth-Jane; 7. Henry. Sir Robert d. Nov. 17, 1817, and was succeeded by his eldest son,

II. Sir THOMAS-ROBERT, present baronet.

Arms—Gules, a lion rampant, argent, crowned, or, between three crescents, of the last.

Crest—A demi-lion rampant, couped, argent, crowned, or, holding in his paw a crescent, of the last.

Arms—See plate 36.

Seat—Llanwern, co. Monmouth.

GRACE, of GRACE-CASTLE, co. Kilkenny.

April 11, 1795.

Sir WILLIAM GRACE, Bart., succeeded his cousin, Sir Richard Gamon, Bart., M. P. for Winchester, April 8, 1818.

Baron Walter Fitz-Other-de-Windsor founded, say a learned antiquary, a house of peers. In him the noble families of Windsor, Carew, Grace, Fitzmaurice, Gerard, Fitzgerald, Mackenzie, and Fitzgibbon, see their common patriarch. He was governor of Windsor castle in 1080, and his 3d son, Gerald Fitzwalter, lord of Carew, who d. in 1135, was father to William Fitz-gerald, lord of Carew, whose 2d son, Raymond Fitz-william, surnamed Le Gros, was immediate founder of the Grace and Fitzmaurice families. Raymondl e Gros, the

the most powerful of earl Strongbow's coadjutors in the conquest of Ireland, acquired the great district in the co. Kilkenny called "Grace's country:" he was also lord of Lereton, constable of Leinster, and in 1177 viceroy of the kingdom. He m. Basilia de Clare, sister to Richard, (Strongbow) earl of Pembroke, and had issue 2 sons, viz., William le Gros and Maurice Fitz-Raymond. To the latter of these the family of Fitzmaurice trace their origin, as that of Grace does to the former. William le Gros, lord of Grace's country, m. Margaret, daughter of Robert Fitzwarren, of Wales, and the ninth in descent from him was sir Oliver Grace, baron of Courtstown, custos pacis of the co. Kilkenny in 1479, who, by Ellen, daughter of O'More, dynast or sovereign prince of Leix, had issue, sir John Grace, baron of Courtstown, living 1518, who m. Catharine, daughter of the lord Power, of Curraghmore, and had, among other issue, sir John Grace, baron of Courtstown, (from whom descended the successive palatine barons of Courtstown,) and sir Oliver Grace, of Ballylinch and Leagan castles, in co. Kilkenny, and also of Carney-Castle, in co. Tipperary, for which last county he was returned to parliament on the 12th of Jan. 1559. By Mary, eldest sister of Maurice Fitzgerald, created lord viscount Decies in 1569, he had issue, Gerald Grace, of Ballylinch, &c., who d. March 3, 1614, leaving issue, by Margaret, daughter of sir Robert Hartpole, of Shrule-Castle, in the Queen's county, Oliver Grace, of Ballylinch, &c., who d. Aug. 27, 1626, leaving issue, by Margaret, daughter of Edmund Butler, 2d lord viscount of Mountgarret, Gerald Grace, of Ballylinch, a minor aged 13 at his father's death. Sir Thomas Loftus, of Killyan, his granduncle by marriage, obtained his wardship from the court of Wards and Liveries, for the fine of 500*l.*, on the 12th of Dec. 1626. He m. Ellen, eldest daughter and eventual co-heir to Edmund Butler, 3d lord Dunboyne, by his wife, Margaret, sole heir to Thomas Butler, 4th lord Caher, and being in the army of his uncle, the lord Mountgarret, he was slain at the battle of Kilrush, on the 10th of April, 1642, leaving issue John Grace, of Ballylinch, &c., who, though a minor during the civil wars, wars, lost the great inheritance of his family, which was distributed among Cromwell's followers. He d. unm., and his next brother, William, continued the line, leaving issue, by Ellinor, sister of Edward Butler, 2d lord viscount Galmoy, 1. Oliver Grace, of Shanganagh, (now Gracefield,) in the Queen's county, of whom presently; and 2. John Grace, who m. Anne, daughter and heir to John Grace, of Thomastown, and had an only child, Elizabeth Grace, m. to Richard Gamon, of Dutchworth-bury, in co. Herts, by whom she had issue sir Richard, the late baronet; and Anna-Eliza Gamon, m. to James Brydges, the last duke of Chandos, whose only child, lady Anna-Eliza Brydges, was m. in 1796 to the present marquess of Buckingham, and has issue, Richard, earl Temple, M. P. for co. Bucks. Sir Richard Gamon represented the city of Winchester in parliament for above thirty years, and was created a baronet April 11, 1795, with remainder, in failure of male issue, to his cousin, Richard Grace, then of Southville, in the Queen's county, M. P., but denominated in the patent "of Grace-Castle," an ancient residence of his family, in the co. of Kilkenny. Sir Richard Gamon m. in 1796, lady Amelia Murray, eldest daughter of John, duke of Athol, K. T., and d. April 8, 1818, leaving an only daughter, Charlotte-Amelia Gamon, on which the baronetcy devolved upon William Grace, esq., agreeable to the limitations in the patent in favour of his father, the late Richard Grace, of whom presently. We now return to Oliver Grace, of Shanganagh, (now Gracefield) in the Queen's county, M. P. for Ballynakill, chief remembrancer of the exchequer of Ireland, and a member of the privy council to king James II. He d. June 8, 1708, having m. Elizabeth, only surviving child of John Bryan, of Bawnmore, co. Kilkenny, (by his 2d wife, Ursula, 2d daughter and eventual co-heir to Walter Walsh, of Castlehole, by Magdalen Sheffield, only sister of Edmund Sheffield, 2d earl of Mulgrave, and grandaunt and eventual sole heir to Edmund Sheffield, 4th earl of Mulgrave, and 2d duke of Buckingham and of Normanby,) by whom (who m., 2dly, Edmund Butler, 6th lord viscount Mountgarret,) he had, among other issue, Michael Grace, of Gracefield, who inherited, as co-heir at law with his cousin, Robert Grace, of the line of Courtstown, the undevised part of the great Sheffield estates, in the cos. of Sussex and Middlesex. He m. Mary, daughter of John Galway, of Lota, in the co. of Cork, by Elizabeth, sister of sir John Meade, of Ballintobber, bart., and d. Feb. 19, 1760, leaving, besides other issue, 1. Oliver Grace, of Gracefield; 2. John Grace, of Sheffield, who d. Sept. 19, 1780, unm.; and 3. William Grace, of whom presently. Oliver Grace, of Gracefield, m. Mary, daughter and eventual heir to John Dowell, of Mantua, co. Roscommon, and d. in 1779, leaving issue, 1. Michael Grace, of Gracefield; and 2. John Grace, of Mantua, who m. Mary, daughter and co-heir to Patrick Hussey, of Ardinore, in co. Kerry, and dying in April 1811, was succeeded by his only son, Oliver-Dowell Grace, now of Mantua. 1. Michael Grace, of Gracefield, m. Mary, daughter and co-heir to Nicholas Plunket, of Dunsoghly-Castle, co. Dublin, and d. Aug. 25, 1785, leaving issue an only daughter, Alicia Grace, m. to Morgan Kavanagh, 3d son of Thomas Kavanagh, of Borris, in the co. of Carlow, esq. We now return to William Grace, 2d surviving son of the first Michael Grace, of Gracefield. He m. Mary, daughter and eventual sole heir to Richard Harford, of Dublin, and d. in London Nov. 23, 1777, leaving issue, 1. Richard, of Southville; 2. John, who d. unm. at the siege of Belgrade, in Germany, Oct. 21, 1789; and Clara-Louisa, m. in 1782 to William Middleton, of Stockeld-Park, co. York, and has issue, 1. Peter; 2. Francis; 3. Anne; and 4. Barbara-Middleton. Richard Grace, of Southville, on whom, as already mentioned, the baronetage of the late sir Richard Gamon was entailed, has been characterized as one of the most highly educated and perfectly accomplished, as well as one of the handsomest men of his day. He combined quick with singularly strong parts, and all the worthiest feelings of the human heart belonged to him. In the Irish parliaments he represented the borough of Baltimore, and was considered the successful candidate for the Queen's county at the period of his death, which occurred at Southville, in the 41st year of his age, on the 9th day of

of Jan. 1801. He m. Jane, daughter of the hon. George Evans, and aunt to the present lord Carbery, (see Debrett's Peerage,) by whom he had issue, 1. sir William Grace, present baronet; 2. Sheffield Grace, of Lincoln's-Inn, barrister at law; 3. Percy Grace, a captain R.N.; 1. Jane, m., in 1814, to George-F. Brooke, esq., youngest son of Francis Brooke, of Colebrooke, in the co. Fermanagh, and has issue, Francis and Anna-Eliza Brooke; 2. Louisa-Caroline.

I. Sir RICHARD GAMON, of Michenden, co. Middlesex, created a baronet April 11, 1795, with remainder to Richard Grace, of Raheen, Queen's county, b. Aug. 14, 1748; m., 1st, Grace, daughter of James Jeffreys, esq., (by Elizabeth, daughter of colonel William Cosby, and relict of lord Augustus Fitzroy, and mother to Augustus Henry, 3d duke of Grafton, K.G., and the first baron Southampton,) by whom he had no issue; m., 2dly, July 2, 1796, lady Amelia, relict of Thomas Ivie Cook, esq., daughter of the late, and sister to the present duke of Athol, and by her (who d. Sept. 19, 1806,) he had an only child, Charlotte-Amelia, b. April 12, 1797. Sir Richard d. April 8, 1818, and was succeeded, agreeable to the patent of limitation, by

In the 14th century we find Robert Hawley, of whom a singular story is on record: During the priorship of the gigantic and courageous Nicholas Lithington, first prior of the abbey-church of St. Peter, in Westminster, Robert Hawley and John Schakell, esqrs., in the battle of Nazers, in Spain, had taken the Spanish earl of Dene prisoner, who delivered up his son as an hostage for his ransom. The youth was left unnoticed by his father for some years, when John, duke of Lancaster, thought fit to demand him; the captors released him without a consideration; upon this they were committed to the Tower, from whence they escaped; but Schakell was retaken, and Hawley fled to the choir of St. Peter's abbey for sanctuary, whither sir Allen Roxal, constable of the Tower, and sir Ralph Ferrers, with a number of armed men, pursued him: after a stout resistance on his part with a small sword, with which he frequently drove his antagonists back, he was at last killed in the chancel, at the very time of high-mass, Aug. 11, 1378, together also with a faithful servant, and a priest, who remonstrated against such violent proceedings. The church was shut for 4 months after this melancholy and barbarous outrage. Subsequently to this we find Thomas Hawley successively Carlisle herald, and norroy king at arms, temp. Hen. VIII.

William Hawley, living in 1502, had a son, John Hawley, of Anler, co. Somerset, esq., who m. Dorothy, Waldon, of Shapwick, co. Somerset, by whom he had 2 sons, William and Jeremy. William m. M. POORE, of RUSHALL-HALL, co. Wilts.

July 8, 1795.

Sir JOHN-METHUEN POORE, Bart., born June 8, 1745, created a Baronet, as above, with remainder, in default of issue male, to his brother, Edward, and his issue male.

This

This family originally spelt their name Poer, and is of great antiquity in the cos. Wilts and Gloucester. Richard Poer was high sheriff of the latter county in 1187; and there is a curious record in the herald's college, that he was killed defending the Lord's day. This Richard Poore had 2 sons, Philip and Richard, who was the 1st dean of Salisbury, bishop of Chichester, then of Sarum, and 3dly, of Durham, and d. April 15, 1237, and was buried at Sarrant, co. Dorset, in a nunnery of his own founding: he laid the foundation of Salisbury cathedral in a very pleasant place, called Merifield. The building, with its lofty spire, and double transept, venerable by a kind of sacred cheerfulness and majesty, was finished at a prodigious expense in 40 years, and dedicated, in 1258, in the presence of king Henry III., of which an old bard sings, not ineligantly:

"Regis enim virtus spectatur in isto;
Præsulis affectus, artificumque fides."

This church, the king's delight, in wisdom's rays,
The bishop's zeal, the builder's faith, displays.

But much more elegantly says the celebrated and learned Daniel Rogers:

"Mira canam! soles quot continent annus in una,
Tam numeroso ferunt, æde fenestra micat;
Marmoreasque capit fusas tot ab arte columnas
Comprensas horas quot vagus annus habet;
Totque patent portæ quot mensibus abundant
Res mira, at verâ res celebrato fide."

Wondrous to tell! as many windows here
As solar revolutions in one year;
As many marble pillars rise around
As hours within the fleeting year are found;
As many doors as months admittance give;
Strange as it seems, we must the tale believe.

His brother, Philip, was seated at Ambresbury, in Wiltshire, from whom was descended Abraham Poore, esq., of Enford, co. Wilts, who m. Anne, daughter of John Herne, gent., by whom he had 2 sons: 1. Edward; 2. John,

2. John, who d. without issue Feb. 27, 1797; and 2 daughters; Anne, who d. unm.; and Hester, m. her cousin, Smart Poore, of Fighel Dean, esq. Edward Poore, the eldest son, b. May 22, 1715, and d. April 10, 1738, m. Barbara, daughter of Paul Methuen, of Bradford, co. Wilts, esq., (who d. June 8, 1784) by whom he had 2 sons: 1. Edward, b. Nov. 22, 1742, d. Dec. 3, 1795, who m. Anna-Maria, daughter of James Montagu, of Lackham, co. Wilts, esq., by whom he had 2 sons: 1. Edward, who m. 1st, Martha-Anne, 2d daughter of George Wolff, esq., consul-general from Denmark, by whom (who d. Feb. 16, 1801) he had a son, Edward, b. Dec. 4, 1795, m., Jan. 6, 1818, Agnes, 3d daughter of sir John Marjoribank, of Leeds-Court, co. Berwick, bart.; and a daughter, Matty-Wolff; and 2. John-Montagu, who m. Elizabeth, only daughter of the rev. Charles Chauncey, rector of Ayott St. Peter, Herts. The 2d son of Abraham is,

I. Sir JOHN-METHUEN, created a baronet, July 8, 1795, with remainder to the issue male of his brother, Edward Poore, esq.

MURRAY, of Lanric, co. Perth.

July 23, 1795.

Sir JOHN MURRAY, Bart., late Colonel in the Army, in the East India Company's service, and Auditor-General in Bengal; married Anne, daughter of Roderic Macleod, Esq., by whom he has a son, Evan-John.

Though

Though this family have, in the last two or three generations, assumed the name of Murray, they are, in fact, of the race of MAC GREGOR. The royal descent of this most ancient clan might be traced from the chronicles of the Scottish kings to the remotest antiquity; but we shall carry it no further back than prince Gregor, 3d son of king Alphin, son of the celebrated Achaius, king of Scotland, who began to reign 787. The 5th in descent from him was Gregor Garubh, or the Stout, who m. a daughter of the ancient house of Lochow, predecessor of the family of Argyll. He fought under Duncan I., in his battles against the Normans and Danes, highly resented the murder of that monarch by Macbeth, and was a powerful promoter of the restoration of his son, Malcolm, prince of Cumberland. In the early part of the 17th century there happened great animosities between the Macgregors and the Colquhouns, Buchanans, and Græmes, which produced several bloody conflicts; and their adversaries having favour at court, the Macgregors were persecuted with great fury. To such a height of ferocity were matters carried, that a price being set upon the heads of the clan by the privy council, two of their enemies, who had shared considerably of their estates, got bloodhounds, with which they hunted them, devouring and mangling them wherever they were found. So keen and powerful were the conductors of their destruction, that a very severe act was made against them, whereby their name was proscribed, and all persons were at liberty to mutilate or slay them without being liable to law; nay, encouraged to it by a promise of their moveable goods and gear. In this situation the Macgregors continued till the time of the solemn league and covenant, which, as their principal enemies were interested in, afforded them a respite. They were much courted to join the confederacy, upon promises of future friendship; but rebellion against majesty had ever been detestable to them, and they declared, "That, as they bore the crown on the point of their swords, they would not fail to use the latter in support of the former." Patrick Macgregor afterwards joined Montrose in support of the royal cause with above a thousand of his clan. Mr. Nisbet, Nisbet, in mentioning the loyalists, says, "The Macgregors also, a clan inferior to none in bravery and activity, followed their chief."

Patrick was in particular esteem with Montrose, two of whose letters are carefully preserved, addressed to "His special and trusty Friend, the honourable Patrick, Laird of Macgregor:" that great man, in the strongest terms, expressed his hearty approbation of his unshaken loyalty, and assured him that "His Majesty's affairs being once upon a permanent footing, the grievances of his Family and Clan should be effectually redressed." But their chief hopes died with this great hero; though they were, in consequence of their loyalty, restored to their name, by act of parliament, in the reign of Charles II. Patrick m. Marian, daughter of Macdonald, of Auchatrichatan, chief of the most powerful tribe of Macdonalds in Glenco, by whom he had 3 sons: 1. John; 2. James, a major in the army, who went to America, where he married, and acquired a great estate. He was at last killed by a party of rebel Indians; but some of his posterity still flourish near New York; 3. Duncan, d. unm. John, the eldest son, was a steady loyalist: he m. Ann, daughter of Macgregor, of Ross, by whom he had a son, John, and several other children. John Macgregor, alias Murray, m. Catharine, eldest daughter of Hugh Campbell, of Lix, esq., descended from some of the first families of Scotland, by whom he had 5 sons: 1. Robert; 2. Peter, m. and left a daughter, Catharine, wife of John Gregorson; 3. Duncan, who now represents the family, was sorely wounded at the battle of Preston in 1745; he has a son, John; and a daughter, Drummond-Mary; 4. Evan (of whom hereafter;) 5. John, who signalized himself at the siege of Carthagena, in 1740, and in the succeeding war was killed at Ticonderago. Robert, of Glencarnock, the eldest son, assumed the name of Murray, was attached to the interest of the Stuart family, and had the command of a regiment of his own clan in 1745. The duke of Cumberland sent to assure them, that if they would lay down their arms, and return home, they should be restored to their name, and otherwise favoured by government; or if they would join him, that their commanders should have the same rank, and their promotion be esteemed the peculiar care of his royal highness. This message produced a spirited but polite refusal; and after the battle of Culloden, the Macgregors marched in a body to their own country with flying colours, and then dispersed into small parties. Soon afterwards the king's troops burnt all the houses on Glencarnock's estate, carried off the cattle, &c.

Glencarnock having at length surrendered himself to the duke of Argyll, was, with the earl of Kelly and others, confined for several years in the castle of Edinburgh. He m., 1st, Christian, daughter of John Campbell, esq., by whom he had 1 daughter, Christian, wife of captain John Graham, and has issue; 2dly, Robina-Jacobina, daughter of major Donald Cameron, by whom he had several children, all of whom d. young, except John, who went abroad a volunteer under general lord Loudon, and highly distinguished himself upon several commands; but at the siege of Louisburgh, a cannon-ball carried off his head; 3dly, Mary-Anne, daughter and heiress of William Drummond, esq., by Mary, sister of sir John Miln, governor of Guernsey, bart., by whom he had no issue. He d. at Edinburgh, Oct. 1758. We now return to Evan, 4th son of John, and brother of Robert, in whose regiment he was a major, and suffered exceedingly in the same cause. He was afterwards appointed an officer in the 88th regiment, and served in Germany with distinguished gallantry. He m. Janet, youngest daughter of John Macdonald, esq., by Alicia Mackenzie, 3d daughter of the brave major Kenneth Mackenzie, by whom he had several children: 1. sir John, 1st bart.; 2. James, d. young; 3. Alexander, m. Frances, daughter of Mr. Paschall, by whom he had Frances-Janetta, who d. young; Evan-Edward-Hastings-Paschall; and Alexander, captain in the 90th regiment of foot; 4. Peter, late an officer in the service of the East India company, m. Eliza Tuting; 5. Robert, also in the military service of the East India company; and 2 daughters, Alicia and Peggy.

This family has long been settled co. Berks, in which county it possessed considerable estates, a part of which is still remaining, though the greater part was sequestered by the parliament during the civil war in the 17th century, in consequence of the active part taken in favour of king Charles I. by the then possessor, lieutenant-colonel Roger Burgess. This gallant officer was particularly distinguished as the only person who successfully resisted Oliver Cromwell, whom he repulsed in his attack on Farringdon. After which Cromwell led off his force and joined Fairfax. James Burgess, esq., grandson of the above colonel Burgess, was b. in 1686, and d. in 1755. He m. Mary, daughter of the rev. Robert Jones, by whom he had James, who d. in 1771; and George, b. May 17, 1725, who entered into the army in 1745, was aid-de-camp and principal secretary to general Bland in Scotland, and afterwards secretary and receiver-general of the garrison of Gibraltar. In 1758 he was appointed a commissioner of the excise, and receiver-general of the salt-duties, in North-Britain, and in 1768 comptroller-general of the customs there. He

He d. March 16, 1786. He m., Dec. 23, 1748, the hon. Anne-Wichnoure Somerville, only daughter of James, 10th lord Somerville: by this lady, (who d. Oct. 29, 1778) he had 2 daughters; Frances-Ann, b. Sept. 10, 1753, and m., March 28, 1781, to James-Roper Head, of Hermitage, co. Kent, esq.; and by her (who d. Feb. 26, 1809) he had 5 sons and 3 daughters; and Mary-Ann, b. Dec. 1763, unm., and 1 son,

I. Sir JAMES BLAND, created a baronet Oct. 31, 1795.

BELLINGHAM, of CASTLE-BELLINGHAM, Ireland.

March 16, 1796.

Sir WILLIAM BELLINGHAM, Bart., F.A.S., a Director of Greenwich Hospital, and Receiver-General of the Land and Assessed Taxes for the City of London. He married, Dec. 3, 1783, Hester-Frances, youngest daughter of the Hon. and Rev. Robert Cholmondeley, 2d son of George, 3d Earl of Cholmondeley.

This ancient family derives its name from the town of Bellingham, in Tyndale, co. Northumberland, where it appears to have been seated immediately after the conquest; and its descent to sir William Bellingham, the present baronet, is in a direct male line of generations, without any interruption, from Alan de Bellingham, who lived temp. William the conqueror; and about the year 1076, m. —— Beauchamp, by whom he had a son, William de Bellingham, living 1120, and had issue, Richard, living 1150, m. —— Abbott, and had a son, Eudo de Bellingham, living 1197, and was sheriff of Westmoreland in 1196 and 1197, m. —— Malet, by whom he had a son, Roger, who, by —— Mowbray, had John

John de Bellingham, who m. —— St. John, and left issue a son, Robert, of Bellingham and Owstone, co. Northumberland, who was living in the reign of king Edward II., m. Christiana, daughter and heiress of Gilbert de Burshead, knt., by which marriage he acquired the estate of Burshead, near Kendal, where the family appears to have resided for many years. Alan Bellingham, (8th son of sir Robert Bellingham, knt., by Elizabeth, daughter of sir Richard Tunstall, of Thusland, co. Lancaster, knt.,) who, about the 4th of king Henry VII., purchased Levens, near Kendal, from the family of Redmans, soon after which the present hall was built, and from thence became the chief residence of the family. Though the Bellinghams appear to have had other mansions in Westmoreland at the same time, viz. at Burshead, Helsington, and at Fawcet-Forrest, where they occasionally resided, as well as at Bellingham, co. Northumberland. He was treasurer of Berwick, and deputy-warden of the marches; and by Elizabeth, daughter of William Gilpin, of Kentmere, esq., left a son, Thomas Bellingham, who m. Margery, daughter of Thomas Beck, of Holbrink, and had issue, 1. Alan; and 2. Thomas, m. a daughter of Thomas Blenkinsop, of Helbeck, esq. Alan, of Helsington, the eldest son, was a bencher of the Middle-Temple, one of the king's council at York for the northern parts, knight of the shire co. Northumberland, 1570; he d. May 7, 1577, having had issue by his 2d wife, Dorothy, daughter of Thomas Sandford, of Askham, co. Westmoreland, esq., by whom he had 5 sons, 4 of whom d. unm.; and 5 daughters; James, the 5th and only surviving son, received the honour of knighthood at Durham in 1603, from king James I., on his first coming into England, and d. about 1641, having m. Agnes, daughter of sir Henry Curwen, of Workington, co. Cumberland, knt., and had issue, 1. Henry, created a baronet in 1620, which title became extinct in 1650; 2. Thomas, d. unm.; 3. Alan, of Leven's-Hall, co. Westmoreland, represented the county in parliament in 1661; d. Feb. 1, 1672, having m. Susan, daughter of Marmaduke Constable, of Masham, co. York, esq., by whom he had, 1. James Bellingham, of of Lavens, esq.; 2. Thomas, d. unm.; 3. Henry was an officer in a regiment of cavalry raised in the North for suppressing the rebellion in Ireland; and at the termination of that rebellion had lands granted him co. Louth, (which county the Bellinghams represented from 1660 to about 1755, without intermission,) now called Castle-Bellingham. These lands were confirmed to him by patent from king Charles II., and he added to them very considerably by purchase: he represented co. Louth in 1665; and dying Feb. 18, 1676, was buried at Castle-Bellingham, having m. ——, daughter of —— Sibthorpe, and by her (who d. Dec. 1669) had Anne, who m. Robert Bickerton, of Cantiluff, co. Armagh, brother of Jane, dutchess of Norfolk, 2d wife of Henry, 6th duke of Norfolk; and Thomas Bellingham, of Castle-Bellingham, esq., raised a regiment of cavalry, and served as its colonel with king William in Ireland, where he acted as his guide during the march of the army from Dundalk to the Boyne, served in that action, and after it accompanied the king, and put him in his carriage at Duleck. For these proofs of attachment to king William, king James's army, in their retreat towards the Boyne, destroyed Bellingham Castle by fire: he m., Feb. 18, 1671, a daughter of —— Handcock, by whom (who d. Jan. 6, 1720) he had issue 2 daughters, who both d. unm.; and Henry. Col. Thomas, their father, d. Sept. 15, 1721, and was buried at Castle-Bellingham. Henry Bellingham, esq., his only son, was member for Dundalk; m., Aug. 15, 1700, Mary, daughter and co-heiress of Thomas Moore, esq., and sister of Elizabeth, wife of Dacre Lennard, afterwards Barret, esq., by whom he had issue, 1. Henry, knight of the shire for the county of Louth, m. Margaret, daughter of Hugh Henry, of Straffan, co. Kildare, esq., and d. without surviving issue, May 1755; 2. Alan; 3. Elizabeth, m. the rev. John Fortescue, uncle to William-Henry, the last earl of Clermont; 4. Anne, d. unm.; 5. ——, m. the rev. William Codrington, of Monaghan; 6. Abigail, m. Thomas Aston, of Drogheda, esq.; and 7. Jane, m. Thomas Wilson, of Newry, esq.

Alan Bellingham, of Castle-Bellingham, the youngest son, son, m. Alice, daughter and co-heiress of the rev. Hanse Montgomery, rector of Killinshee, vicar of Ballywalter, and curate of Grey Abbey, and by her (who d. in 1783) had issue, 1. Henry, who d. Sept. 8, 1800, having m. Elizabeth, natural daughter of Richard Tennison, of Thomas-Town, co. Louth, esq., by whom he had Alan, Henry-Tennison, Dorothy-Eliza, and Henrietta; 2. Alan, d. Nov. 1800, having m., 1st, Anne, daughter of John Cairnes, of Kellyfaddy, co. Tyrone, esq. and sister of major William Cairnes, by whom (who d. about 1787) he had issue, Alan, Henry, John, and William: and 2dly, Mary, daughter of Ralph Smith, esq.; 3. O'Bryen Bellingham, of Castle-Bellingham, esq., d. June 6, 1798, having m. Anne, daughter of Edward Tandy, of Dublin, esq., and had issue, Alan, Elizabeth, and Anne; 4. sir William, present baronet; 5. Thomas, R. N., d. unm.; 6. Elizabeth, m. major William Cairnes, d. in 1779; 7. Alice; 8. Lucy; 9. Mary-Anne, m. the rev. William Woolsey, of Prior-Land, co. Louth.

I. Sir WILLIAM, the 4th son, was created a baronet March 16, 1796, with remainder to the issue male of his father.

HIPPISLEY, of WARFIELD-GROVE, co. Berks.

April 30, 1796.

Sir JOHN-COXE HIPPISLEY, Bart., D. C. L., F. R. and A. S., Recorder, and one of the Representatives in Parliament for the Borough of Sudbury from 1802 to 1812, a Bencher of the Honourable Society of the Inner Temple, and a Manager of the Royal Institution. Sir John married, 1st, 1780, Margaret, 2d daughter of Sir John Stuart, Bart., of Allanbank, co. of Berwick, (who d. Sept. 24, 1799,) by whom he has 1 son, John-Stuart, and 3 daughters; 1. Margaret-Frances, m. Thomas-Strangways Horner, Esq., of Mells-Park, co. Somerset; 2. Windham-Barbara; 3. Louisa-Anne. Sir John m., 2dly, Elizabeth, daughter of the late Thomas Horner, of Mells-Park, Esq., and relict of Henry-Hippisley Coxe, of Stone-Easton-House, Esq., one of the Representatives in Parliament for the County of Somerset.

In the years 1779 and 1780, being then in Italy, Sir John Hippisley was engaged in many important communications to Government. On his return to England in the following year, in consequence of those services, he was recommended in the strongest terms by Lord North, then at the head of the Treasury, to the Court of Directors of the East India Company; in consequence of which, he was immediately appointed to that service with the advanced rank of 4 years. He resigned his employments in 1787, having held offices of great trust and importance in the kingdom of Tanjore during the war with Hyder Ally, and his son, Tippoo Sultaun. In 1790 he was appointed Recorder of Sudbury, which appointment was confirmed by his Majesty on the 6th of July following. At the general election in 1790 he was elected one of the Representatives for that Borough, for which he has served in 5 parliaments. Sir John returned to Italy in the year 1792, where he continued till 1795, in which interval he was employed in many important negotiations; the beneficial result of which was acknowledged in the most flattering manner by his Majesty's Ministers. On his return to England, his Majesty was pleased, in consequence, to confer upon him the dignity of a Baronet of Great Britain.

In 1795, at the instance of the present Elector and King of Wurtemburgh, then Hereditary Prince, he was engaged in the negotiation of his marriage with the Princess Royal of Great Britain; an alliance which was then considered as eventually of great importance, his Serene Highness being the brother-in-law of the Emperors of Germany and Russia. In consequence of the success of that negotiation, the reigning Duke, by letters patent, granted to Sir John Hippisley and his posterity the right of bearing the arms of the House of Wurtemburg, accompanied with the device or inscription of the Great Order of Wurtemburg, viz. Amicitiæ virtutisque fœdus. This grant his Majesty was graciously pleased to confirm by his sign manual, commanding it to be registered in his College of Arms.

On the marriage of the Hereditary Prince with the Princess Royal, his Majesty, in conjunction with the reigning Duke of Wurtemburg, was also graciously pleased to appoint Sir John Hippisley, together with the Duke of Portland, Lord Grenville, and Mr. Chancellor Pitt, one of the Commissioners and a Trustee of her Royal Highness's marriage settlement.

The benevolent and munificent act of his Majesty in favour of the late unfortunate Representative of the House of Stuart, and the expressive feelings of dignified gratitude with which the boon was accepted and acknowledged, are facts generally known, and as generally applauded. The distresses of the Cardinal of York were originally notified to his Majesty in consequence of the letters addressed to Sir John Hippisley by the Cardinal dinal Borgia; and the transaction must necessarily be considered as forming an interesting epoch in the history of our Country.

Sir John Hippisley served the office of High Sheriff co. Berks in the year 1800, and in the same year was named in the charter of the Royal Institution of Great Britain, one of the first Managers of that Corporation. He is also a Fellow of the Royal and Antiquarian Societies, and a Member of the Government Committee of the Turkey Company.

The family of Hippisley is traced from an early period as seated in Somersetshire; the principal branch has been chiefly resident at Camely, and afterwards at Stone-Easton.

Richard Hippisley, b. the 14th Edward III., resided at Cameley, when that manor and many other lordships were granted to him. In the 36th of Henry VIII., on the dissolution of the priory of Bruton, certain lands belonging to that priory were also granted by the crown to his descendant, John Hippisley, whose son and heir, John, is certified to hold the manors of Camely, Stone-Easton, and other lordships, by knight service, John Hippisley, temp. Hen. VII., m. Agnes, daughter and heiress of sir William Hody, lord-chief-baron of the exchequer, son of sir John Hody, lord-chief-justice of England, 18 Hen. VI.; and we find in the visitation of Somerset in the heralds' college, that John Hippisley, of Stone-Easton, m. the daughter of J. Flower, by whom he had, 1. John, m. Dorothy, the daughter of sir John Horner, of Cloford and Mells; 2. William, who d. in 1630. William m. E. Burley, by whom he had 3 sons; 1. Thomas; 2. Richard, captain of Standgate-Castle; 3. sir John Hippisley, who m. Catharine, daughter of sir Roger Norton. Sir John was ranger of Bushy-Park. In the civil wars he sided with the parliament, and was a commissioner to treat with the king. Marston-House, now the seat of the earl of Cork, was purchased by the 1st earl of sir John Hippisley.

Others

Others of this family were distinguished at the same period by their adherence to the royal cause. Gabriel Hippisley, equerry to the king, is stated to have been severely fined by parliament for his attachment to Charles I.

Thomas Hippisley, sir John's eldest brother, who d. about 1640, had 5 sons and 7 daughters; 1. William, whose only son d. unm.; 2. Thomas, a captain of foot in Holland, d. unm.; 3. Toby, of Hambleton, who d. 1681, having m. a daughter of Samuel Hodgkinson, clerk; 4. John; and 5. Edward, who both d. in the service of king Charles I.

Returning to the eldest branch of the family seated at Camely: John m. Dorothy, daughter of sir John Horner, and had 10 sons.

John, the eldest, m. Elizabeth, daughter of John Organ, by whom he had 5 sons. His eldest was also named John, and m. Margaret, daughter and heiress of John Preston, by whom he had 9 sons and 3 daughters.

From George, 7th son, descended the present John Hippisley, rector of Stow-in-the-Would, co. Gloucester, who m. Margaret, eldest daughter of John-Hippisley Coxe, of Stone-Easton, co. Somerset, of which marriage there are 2 sons now living, Richard and Henry; and 1 daughter, Frances-Anne. Richard, the eldest son, m. Charlotte, daughter of sir John Mordaunt, bart. Henry is a fellow of All Souls College, Oxford.

John, eldest son of John, m. Margaret Preston, d. unm.; and from Richard, the 2d son, who m. Elizabeth Yorke, descended from Preston Hippisley, whose daughter and sole heiress conveyed the estates of the principal branch of the Hippisleys, by marriage, to John Coxe, whose descendant, Richard-Hippisley Coxe, represented the county of Somerset in three successive parliaments from 1768. Upon his death, the representation of the family devolved on his brother, Henry-Hippisley Coxe, who, in 1793, was returned one of the representatives in parliament for the same county: he d. without issue, having m. Elizabeth-Anne, daughter of Thomas Horner, esq., who m., 2dly, in 1804, sir John-Coxe Hippisley, present baronet.

The

The Hippisleys of Cameley were unquestionably the common stock of the other branches settled in Somersetshire: the most ancient is that of Yatton, afterwards settled at Bristol. Richard Hippisley, recorder of Bristol, 4th Edw. VI., who d. in 1570.

John Hippisley, of Yatton, son of Richard and his wife, Mary, d. in 1639. Elizabeth, his relict, was buried at Yatton in 1641. John, the eldest son of John, and Dorothy, twins, were b. at Yatton in 1636. John m. the daughter of H. Atwood; of which marriage, John, the eldest son, b. 1671, m. Dorothy, the only daughter of William Coxe, of East Harptree, co. Somerset; of which marriage were 9 sons and 8 daughters. Of the sons, only John, b. 1711, and William, b. 1718, attained manhood. The eldest, John, d. unm. in 1740. William m. Anne, eldest daughter of Robert Webb, of Cromhall, co. Gloucester, the representative of the ancient family of Clyfford-House, co. Somerset. The last heir male of this family was Thomas Webb, son of Robert, of Cromhall-Court and Heath-End-House, both in the co. Gloucester, who d. without issue in 1802; the only brother of Anne, the wife of William Hippisley: of this marriage were 2 sons; sir John, the present baronet, named also Coxe, from his grandmother; and William, who d. an infant.

Arms—Quarterly; 1st and 4th, Hippisley, on a field, sable, three mullets of the first between two bendlets, or; with a bezant in chief for difference; 2d, Coxe, quarterly, gules and vert, four bezants; 3d, Webbe, of Clyfford, sables, three escallops, in bend, argent. The whole surmounted with an escutcheon of the arms of Ulster.

Crest—A hind's head erased, gorged with a collar, sable, with three mullets, or, issuant from a ducal coronet.

This family has been, from a long series of generations, established at Montauban, in the province of Languedoc, in France. By a reference to a patent, signed by Henry IV., July 6, 1579, still extant, we are informed, that the said Jean Horace had been appointed to the offices of "Conseiller à la Chambre de l'Edit," and of "Maitre des Requestes ordinaires du Roi en son Hotel." To him succeeded Samuel, his eldest son, who had m. Rachael, daughter of —— de Valette, of a noble family in Guienne, Dec. 9, 1614, who had also a son named Jean Horace, m. to Jane, daughter of —— de la Lauze, of an ancient family in the province of Quercy, Jan. 27, 1643. Samuel, only son of Jean-Horace Pechell, b. at Montauban in 1644, and m. marquise Thierry de Sabonniers, of the same place, where he had resided, with many other descendants of those noble protestants who had placed Henry IV. on the throne. But on the revocation of the Edict of Nantes, by Louis XIV., this couple were objects of severe persecution, and, after having having suffered almost unheard-of cruelties, monsieur Pechell was at length embarked, with felons, for the West Indies, from whence he effected his escape, first to Jamaica, and then to Ireland, where he obtained a pension from king William, and a commission in a regiment commanded by marshal Schomberg. His wife, with her only son, Jacob, fled to Geneva; there she remained, until hearing of her husband's arrival in Ireland, she found the means of joining him, where they lived for many years, having had the good fortune to receive several considerable remittances from France. Their 2 daughters had been taken from them before they left their native country, placed in a convent, brought up to the Catholic religion, and some years afterwards obtained a grant of all their father's lands, by virtue of a letter from Louis XIV., of which their heirs are at this time in possession. One of them m. Mr. de Cahuzac, the other Mr. de St. Sardos.

Jacob Pechell, above mentioned, b. 1679, embraced the military profession, and served in different corps in Spain and Flanders with peculiar credit. He m. Jane, daughter of John Boyd, of Dublin, esq., and aunt to the present baronet of that name; he had a numerous issue, 4 of which only arrived at the age of maturity, viz. 1. Samuel, b. Jan. 13, 1716, one of the masters in chancery, d. without issue in April 1782, having m., 1st, Frances, daughter of James Gaultier, d. in Dec. 1767; 2dly, Margaretta, daughter of sir Thomas-Pym Hales, bart; 2. George, a lieutenant of marines, who was killed at the attack of Fort St. Lazare, in Carthagena; 3. Paul, 1st baronet; 4. Mary, wife of the late brigadier-general Caillaud, of Aston-Rowant, co. Oxford.

I. Sir PAUL-PECHELL, 3d son, b. Nov. 12, 1724, created a baronet May 1, 1797, served as a cornet in the royal dragoons, in Flanders, and was wounded at the battle of Lafeldt; in 1747 he was aid-de-camp to lieutenant-general Hawley, and afterwards to the hon. lieutenant-general sir George Howard, K. B.; and after having arrived at the rank of lieutenant-colonel, he retired in 1767. He m., in Feb. 1752, Mary, only daughter and heiress of Thomas Brookes, of Paggleshan, co. Essex, Essex, esq., by whom he had 2 sons: 1. sir Thomas-Brooke, 2d baronet; 2. Augustus, b. KNIGHTLEY, of FAWSLEY, co. Northampton.

Dec. 30, 1797.

Sir CHARLES KNIGHTLEY, Bart., born 1781, succeeded his uncle, the Rev. Sir John, Jan. 29, 1812; married, Aug. 24, 1813, Selina-Mary Hervey, eldest daughter of Felton-Lionel Hervey, of Englefield Green, co. Surrey, Esq., by Selina, only daughter and heiress of Sir John Elwell, Bart., by Selina, daughter of Peter Bathurst, Esq., and relict of Lord Ranelagh, and sister to Lieutenant-Colonel Sir Felton-Lionel-Bathurst Hervey, C.B. Bart., and has issue, a daughter, b. 1817.

The Knightleys are originally co. Stafford, taking their name from a manor so called, in that county, which they have possessed ever since the conquest: at that time, Rinaldus, one of the followers of king William I., had a grant of it; but they removed to Fawsley, co. Northampton, 1415, when sir Richard Knightley, knt., purchased that manor. Sir Richard Knightley, K.B. was one of the richest private subjects of his time, having landed property to the amount of £13,000 per annum: he had an extreme aversion to the church of England: his attachment to puritanism grew till his zeal exceeded his prudence, and certain libels against the church were with difficulty discovered to have been printed in a small turret at Fawsley. For this offence, his sovereign, queen Elizabeth, summoned him before the star chamber, when he was deeply fined. Sir Richard sat in several parliaments in that reign and the succeeding one. His death happened in 1615; he m., 1st, Mary, daughter of William Fermor, esq., by whom he had 2 sons and 1 daughter; and after her death he m. the lady Elizabeth, 6th daughter of the great duke of Somerset, protector to his nephew, king Edward IV.; she d. 1602. The issue of this marriage was sir Seymour Knightley, and 6 other sons; yet the male line became extinct in this branch in a very few years. Upon failure of

of the name in his descendants, the estate of Fawsley came to Richard, son of Thomas Knightley, of Burgh-hall, co. Stafford; he was also a zealous enemy to the hierarchy in the church, and the regal prerogative in the state. He d. 1650. Jane, his widow, daughter of sir Edward Littleton, bart. d. 1657, by whom he had 9 sons and 4 daughters; his eldest son, and heir, sir Richard Knightley, K.B. was member for Northampton in the last parliament of Charles I., and was as strenuous against him as his father; took the covenant, and was one of the committee of the parliament navy, yet opposed the death of his sovereign, for which he was secluded, with many others, from sitting in the house of commons. He was appointed, by the protector, Oliver, one of the assessors of the monthly taxes, in his own county of Northampton, which he represented in the parliament called by the protector, Richard, in 1658-9; he was afterwards one of the council of state, in 1660, which greatly promoted the Restoration, when he was received with much grace by his majesty; he d. June 29, 1661. He m., 1st, Elizabeth, eldest daughter of the celebrated John Hampden, esq.; and, 2dly, Anne, one of the daughters of sir William Courteen, knt., and relict of Essex Devereux, esq.; she d. Feb. 5, 1702.

Lucy Knightley, 3d son of Richard Knightley, esq., (b. April 23, 1623, d. in Oct. 1691) m. Elizabeth, daughter of Giles Dent, alderman of London, (who d. Jan. 21, 1710) by whom he had 7 sons and 7 daughters: 1. Lucy; 2. Giles; 3. Richard, of whom hereafter; 4. John; 5. Devereux, who both d. young; 6. Valentine; 7. Giles, of Charwelton, co. Northampton, b. Aug. 10, 1774, d. 1783, The daughters were, 1. Elizabeth, wife of John Stratford, esq.; 2. Mary, of Jacob Turner; 3. Jane, of William Strudwick, esq.; 4. Rebecca, of John Mapletoft, M.D.; 5. Susannah, of John Ashford, esq.; 6. Lucy, of Thomas Cary, esq.; and 7. Dent, of Malachy Thurston, esq. Richard Knightley, of London, and afterwards of Fawsley, esq., 3d son of Lucy, m., 1st, Elizabeth, daughter of Henry Walden, esq., a judge in the island of Barbadoes; and, 2dly, Mary, daughter of John Upton, esq. By his last lady he had no issue; but by his his first he had 2 sons: 1. Lucy, hereafter mentioned; and 2. Richard, m. Anne, daughter of John Andrews, esq.: and 2 daughters, Elizabeth and Deborah. Richard, the father, d. in July, 1728, and was succeeded by his eldest son, Lucy: m., 1st, Jane-Grey, daughter and co-heiress of Henry Benson, of Dadford, co. Northampton, esq., by Elizabeth, sister of Thomas, earl of Stamford; and, 2dly, Anne, daughter of the rev. William Adams, by whom he had no issue. By his first lady he had 2 sons, Valentine, his successor, and Richard, who d. young, and 4 daughters: 1. Elizabeth; 2. Jane, wife of Richard Williams, esq.; 3. Lucy, of Joseph Smith, of Stow Park, co. Northampton, esq.; and 4. Deborah, d. young. He d. in Aug. 1738, and was succeeded by his only surviving son, Valentine Knightley, of Fawsley, esq., M.P. co. Northampton, b. Sept. 9, 1718; m. Elizabeth, daughter of Edward Dummer, of Swaithland, co. Hants, esq., by whom he had 5 sons: 1. Lucy, m. Catharine, daughter of sir James Dashwood, bart., but had no issue. He represented co. Northampton in 3 parliaments; 2. Valentine, d. unm.; 3. sir John, 1st bart.; 4. Charles, in holy orders, b. 1753, d. about 1787, having m. Elizabeth, only daughter of Henry Boulton, the elder, of Molton, co. Lincoln, and Uppingham, co. Rutland, esq., and left issue, sir Charles, present bart.; Valentine, b. 1782; Henry; Elizabeth; and Sophia, b. in June, 1787, m., 1807, John Story, of Leckington, co. Leicester, esq.; and 5. James, m. Mary Davies, but has no issue: and 2 daughters, Elizabeth, m. John-Willis Fleming, of Stoneham-Park, co. Hants, esq.; and Jane, m. John Kingston, of Belmont, esq., M.P. for Lymington.

I. Sir JOHN, 3d son, b. Feb. 17, 1746, in holy orders, created a baronet Dec. 30, 1797, with remainder, in default of issue male, to the heirs male of his next brother, the rev. Charles Knightley, deceased. Sir John m. Mary, only daughter of John Baines, esq., by Elizabeth Johnson, d. Jan. 29, 1812, without issue, and was succeeded by his nephew, ANSTRUTHER, of ANSTRUTHER, co. Fife, North Britain.

May 18, 1798.

Sir JOHN ANSTRUTHER, Bart., born Feb. 6, 1818, succeeded his father, Sir John Carmichael, Feb. 6, 1818.

This family is of great antiquity in the county of Fife; and the first of this family upon record, was styled, de Candela dominus de Anstruther.

Willielmus de Candella lived in the reigns of David I. and Malcolm IV. in the 12th century, and took the name of his estate. He was the undoubted proprietor, 1153, of the lands and barony of Anstruther: but how long his ancestors possessed them before him cannot at this period be ascertained. Sir James Anstruther, the 12th in descent from William, was appointed heritable carver to James VI. 1585, and was constituted one of the masters of the household to his Majesty, 1592, with all the profits and privileges belonging to these offices, which are hereditary in the family. He m. Jean, daughter of Thomas Scott, of Abbotshall, who was lord-justice-clerk in the reign of James V. by whom he had 2 sons, and 5 daughters. Sir James d. in 1606, and was succeeded in his offices by his eldest son, sir William, who was appointed one of the gentlemen of the bedchamber to James the VI., and upon his succession to the crown of England he accompanied him, and was created K.B. at his coronation. He was also gentleman usher to Charles I., and m., Eupheme, daughter of sir Andrew Wemyss, one of the senators of the college of justice, by whom he had no issue: he d. in 1649, and was succeeded by his nephew, sir Philip, son of his brother, sir Robert, who was frequently employed in negotiations of the highest importance. In 1620 he was sent ambassador-extraordinary to the court of Denmark; and in 1627, to the emperor and states of Germany. He was afterwards plenipotentiary to the diet at Ratisbon, and in 1730, ambassador at the meeting of the princes of Germany, at Hailbrun, &c., and in all these negotiations he he acquitted himself with fidelity and honour. He m. Catharine, daughter of sir Edward Swift, knt., by whom he had 2 sons and 1 daughter: 1. Robert; 2. Philip; 3. Ursula, wife of —— Austin, esq., near Guilford, in Surrey. Robert, his eldest son, m. Anne, daughter of sir John Corbet, of Stoke, co. Salop, but d. without issue male. Sir Philip, the youngest son, was taken prisoner at the battle of Worcester, had a fine of 1000 marks sterling imposed upon him by Oliver Cromwell, and his estate sequestrated till the Restoration 1660. He m. Christian, daughter of major-general Lumsdin, by whom he had 5 sons. Sir William Anstruther, of that ilk, bart., eldest son of sir Philip, member of the Scots parliament for Fifeshire, in 1681, m. Helen-Hamilton, daughter of John, 4th earl of Haddington, by whom he had

Sir John Anstruther, bart., was appointed master of his majesty's works in Scotland, July 16, 1717. He m. Margaret Carmichael, eldest daughter of James, 2d earl of Hynford, by whom he had 2 children, who d. young. Sir John, b. Dec. 27, 1718, late M.P. for the burghs of Anstruther, Crail, &c. He m., Oct. 4, 1750, Janet, daughter of James Fall, of Dunbar, in East Lothian, esq., by whom he had, 1. Philip, b. Jan. 13, 1752, who m. Feb. 19, 1778, Anne, daughter of sir John Paterson, bart., succeeded his father in 1799, and d. without issue, Jan. 5, 1808, by which sir John succeeded to the family estate, and to the Scots title of 1694; 2. sir John, 1st baronet; 3. James, and 4 William, who d. young; 5. Robert, colonel of the Tay Fencibles; 6. Margaret, d. young; 7. Jean, wife of Charles Parker, esq., by whom she had one son and 4 daughters.

I. The right hon. sir JOHN, 2d son, was created a baronet May 18, 1798, b. March 27, 1753, was bred to the law, and in 1798 was appointed chief-justice of the supreme court of judicature in Bengal, which office he resigned in 1806; m. Maria, daughter of Edward Brice, of Berners Street, esq., and had issue, 1. sir John, present baronet; 2. Chester, baronet. Sir Thomas was brought up in the naval service of his country by admiral sir Edward Hughes, K.B. in the East Indies, and obtained his lieutenancy 1780, was made a commander and post captain 1782; and returned to England as captain of the admiral's ship, 1785, having served in all the actions against the French in India

India as a highly approved and distinguished officer, and was soon after selected as a most skilful navigator to accompany commodore, afterwards admiral Blankett, upon a particular service in the Indian seas; on his return was captured by the French fleet, in the Castor frigate, and being a prisoner on board the Sans Pareille of 80 guns, in the glorious victory of Lord Howe, June 1, 1794, was named by his lordship, upon her capture on that day, to command her; the admiralty immediately after gave him the command of the Culloden, a well manned 74, whose crew at first rejected him as their captain, and afterwards served and fought under him with uneclipsed eclat in the celebrated victory of earl St. Vincent over the Spanish fleet, Feb. 14, 1797. Captain Trowbridge was so instrumental in the success of that day, that lord St. Vincent despatched him to their mutual friend, Nelson, with eight sail of the line in the Mediterranean, and those ships, with the four Nelson had, destroyed the French fleet of superior force at the battle of the Nile, Aug. 1, 1798. Commodore Trowbridge was then separately and successively employed on various and important services in the Mediterranean, and for his distinguished gallantry on various occasions was created a baronet of Great Britain, Nov. 23, 1799, with an honorable augmentation to his armorial bearings allusive to his military exploits. On the commodore's return to England in the Culloden, 1801, he was selected by earl St. Vincent to be his lordship's captain of the channel fleet, and afterwards appointed a lord of the admiralty, with his chief, the earl being appointed first lord thereof. On the promotion of flag officers, April 23, 1804, sir Thomas was made an admiral, and sent, 1805, to the East Indies, and returning from that station was lost at sea in the Blenheim of 74 guns. Sir Thomas was succeeded by his only son,

II. Sir EDWARD-THOMAS, present baronet.

KINGSMILL, (late BRICE) of ASTON, co. Gloucester.

Nov. 24, 1800.

Sir ROBERT KINGSMILL, Bart., born in 1772, (son of the late Edward Kingsmill, of Belfast, Esq.,) succeeded his uncle, Admiral Sir Robert, Nov. 23, 1805, married, 1796, Elizabeth, daughter of Charles Newman, late of Calcutta, Esq., and by her (who d. Oct. 4, 1817) has issue Elizabeth-Catharine, b. Sept. 1797; and Anna-Maria, b. Jan. 12, 1800, d. April 18, 1818.

Richard Kingsmill, of Barkham, co. Berks, sometime of Basingstoke, co. Hants, left one son, John Kingsmill, esq., one of the justices of the common pleas, who m. Joan, daughter of sir John Gifford, knt., and dying in 1504, left 1 son,

Sir John, who m. Constance, daughter of John Goring, by whom he had 4 sons: 1. William; 2. sir George, justice of the common pleas, m. Sarah, lady Hastings, daughter of sir James Harrington; 3. Richard, surveyor of the court of wards, d. 1600. Sir William, the eldest son, m. Bridget, daughter of George Raleigh, by whom he had 1 son, sir William Kingsmill, knt., who d. 1600. Sir William, his great-grandson, d. Nov. 1698; he m., 1st, Frances, daughter of Thomas Colwell, alderman of London; 2dly, Rebecca ——, by whom he had, 1. Rebecca, who d. young; and 2. Penelope, wife of John Waterman, by whom she had 1 daughter, Rebecca, becca, wife of Laurence-Head Osgood. By his first lady, sir William had 3 sons and 1 daughter, Frances, b. 1682, wife of Hugh Corry, esq., by whom she had issue, 1. Elizabeth; 2. William, who d. in 1763; 3. Henry; and 4. Catharine, who d. young. Elizabeth, wife of Robert, son of Charles Brice, who d. 1746, which Robert is 1st baronet. Edward Brice, of Belfast, esq., his brother, principal surveyor of his majesty's revenue of the port of Belfast, took the surname and arms of Kingsmill by royal sign manual, Dec. 1787; d. July 4, 1796; m. Catharine, daughter of George Spaight, by whom he had 1 son, sir Robert, present baronet, and 3 daughters: 1. Margaret, wife of Cutland Skinner, captain 70th regiment of foot: she d. without issue; 2. Prudentia, wife of George Bateman, esq., captain in the guards, who d. Oct. 22, 1809; and 4. Dorothy, d. unm., Nov. 8, 1808. Robert, b. 1772, m. Elizabeth, daughter of Charles Newman, esq., by whom he has issue, Eliza-Catharine, b. in 1797.

I. Sir ROBERT BRICE, (son of Charles Brice, of Castle Chichester, near Kilroot, Ireland, esq. by Jane, daughter of —— Robinson, of Newton Ardes, co. Down, esq.,) having entered into the R.N. in the subordinate ranks of midshipman, &c., until he attained the command of the Swallow sloop of war, eminently displayed a diligent attention to the duties of his several stations, by which he not only established his own credit, but acquired the esteem, confidence, and love of all his superiors in rank. His very outset in life, as a naval commander, was indicative of his future prospects in life: being employed in a cruise off the coast of France, he fell in with and captured the Sultan, a privateer from Bayonne, which, although she equalled his own vessel in force, fell almost without resistance, from the peculiar adroitness with which he effected his conquest.

From this period, 1761, to Feb. 1, 1793, he was promoted to the rank of rear-admiral of the white squadron. He passed through the gradationary steps in the service in the Crescent frigate; the Vigilant of 64 guns, in which ship he was at the memorable encounter that took place between D'Orvillier's and admiral Keppel's (afterwards (afterwards viscount Keppel) fleets off Ushant, and particularly distinguished himself; the Elizabeth of 74 guns; and the Duke, of 90 guns. Soon after his advancement to the flag, his distinguished services were farther rewarded by being appointed commander of the fleet on the Irish station.

The passage between Ushant and Cape Clear is a very important one to England in time of war, as it lies near to the Irish and English channels, through which more ships, whether foreign or domestic, have occasion to pass, than any other part of the ocean: these latitudes he was commanded to protect: and it would be slight praise to say that this service was merely well performed, when to him, in this instance, might have been well applied the words, used by to Cæsar, "Veni, vidi, vici." Not a month passed without the capture of some vessel of consequence; and to him, Ireland, most probably, is indebted for her present preservation, by his scrupulously guarding every inlet and avenue that might admit an enemy. In 1796 he effected the complete destruction of a squadron of 4 frigates from Brest, expressly fitted out to attack Ireland; and soon afterwards it was his good fortune to combat and defeat the shattered remnant of another French fleet from Brest (originally consisting of no less than 17 ships of the line, 27 frigates, cutters, and other vessels, having on board a large body of troops to be landed in Ireland) which had been just successfully encountered by sir John Borlase Warren, G.C.B. For those gallant services, he was advanced to the dignity of the baronetage of England, Nov. 24, 1800, with remainder to the issue male of his brother, Robert Kingsmill, of Belfast, in Ireland, esq. Sir Robert assumed the name and arms of Kingsmill by act of parliament in 1766; m. Elizabeth, daughter of Hugh Corry, esq., and deceasing Nov. 23, 1805, without issue, was succeeded by his nephew, II. Sir ROBERT, present baronet, was sheriff for Hampshire 1811, and is son of his brother, Robert Kingsmill, of Belfast, esq.

Edward, b. Aug. 8, 1791, m. Jan. 2, 1812, Emily, 2d daughter of John Swinfen, of Swinfen, co. Stafford, Esq.; 4. John, b. Aug. 22, 1798; 5. Jonathan, b. Oct. 12, 1799; 6. Mary, b. June 17, 1784, m. Jan. 9, 1816, George-Robert Dawson, of Castle Dawson, co. Londonderry, Esq.; 7. Elizabeth, b. April 13, 1786, m., Dec. 30, 1805, the rev. William Cockburn; 8. Eleanora, b. March 25, 1794; and 9. Anne, d. young: and 2dly, Oct. 18, 1805, Susannah, youngest sister of the Rev. Sir William-Henry Clerke, of Bury, co. Lancaster, Bart., by whom he has no issue.

Anthony Wood speaks of a George Peele, student at Christ Church, Oxford, in 1573, where going through the several forms of logic and philosophy, he took the degrees of arts, that of master being completed in 1579; he was esteemed a celebrated poet; and his comedies and tragedies (of which Wood gives a list) were often performed in London with great applause.

Robert Peel, of Oswaltwitch, co. Lancaster, m. Anne, daughter of ——, and d. 1736, leaving issue, among other children, William Peel, of the same place, who, by his wife, Jane, daughter of Laurence Walmesley, of Darwin, co. Lancaster, esq., had, among other children, sir Robert, present baronet, who having spent the earlier part of his life on his father's estate at Peele Cross, near Lancaster, which, for several generations, has been in the possession and borne the name of the family, very early in life, and while fortune appeared to shut the door of advancement against him, entertained a strong presentiment of becoming the founder of a family; and even at the youthful age of 14 he frequently avowed his determination to raise himself to rank and consequence in society; founding his hope to be "suæ faber fortunæ," on a conviction that any situation in a free country is accessible to a good capacity, aided by prudence and industry. The high consideration in which he is now held, and his splendid fortune, afford striking proofs of the truth of this presentiment, and the effects of persevering industry in a country where such exertions have the encouragement and support of good laws impartially administered. Mr. Peel gave uncommonly early proofs of quickness of perception; hence probably arose that spirit in his enterprises, and that attention to active habits, which enabled him to steer clear of those reveries which usually accompany man in his progress to superior heights. The cotton trade was, at this period, (1770) but a very inconsiderable branch of commerce, although the ingenious sir Rutland Arkwright had made some happy discoveries in the application of mechanical powers to the great abridgment of human labour, the comparatively rude state of this infant trade called forth the best energies and inventive faculties of Mr. Peel; and becoming sensible of the improvements of which machinery was susceptible, he devoted himself to explore the powers of mechanical combinations with a view to their conversion to the purposes of commerce, the best sinew of the strength of England. Sir Robert, in 1802, brought a bill into parliament for the amelioration of the condition of apprentices in the cotton and woollen trades; a measure which, more fully than any other, developes the pure benevolence and complexion of his character: he had long lamented the existence of various evils among the poorer classes; and it must prove one of the highest satisfactions of his life, that he has been instrumental in lessening the sum of human misery, and particularly of those to whose labour he is, in some measure, indebted for his present affluence. In private life, sir Robert is no less estimable: although his concerns are so multifarious as might lead one to suppose that this multiplicity would distract his thoughts, his mind is so little fettered, as to enable him to give a considerable portion of time to intellectual pursuits. As the merit by which he acquired it made him worthy of his fortune, so the use which he makes of it, in communicating the means of comfort to all around him, exceedingly endears him to an extensive circle, and gives him a just claim to the honours he has received. At all times accessible to the meanest petitioner, his hand is prompt to second the benevolent impulses of his heart; and none leave his presence before their wants have been listened to with sympathy, and charitably relieved: his heart, purse, and hand, are thus truly the shadow of each other.

I. Sir ROBERT, was created a baronet Nov. 29, 1800.

Arms—Argent, three sheaves of as many arrows, two and one proper, banded, gules; on a chief, azure, a bee, volant, or.

STIRLING, of Faskine, co. Lanark.

Nov. 4, 1800.

Sir WALTER STIRLING, Lord of the Honour of Otford, co. Kent, created a Baronet, as above, F.R. and A.S., served the office of Sheriff, and is a Deputy-Lieutenant co. Kent, elected a Representative in Parliament for Gatton in April 1798, and in 1807 for St. Ives, co. Cornwall; born June 24, 1758; married, April 28, 1794, Susannah, daughter and sole heiress of George-Trenchard Goodenough, Esq., F. R. S., (lineally descended from William of Wykeham, Bishop of Winchester, which entitles his heirs to their education at Winchester College, as kin of the founder,) and by her (who d. June 8, 1806, in childbed,) had issue, 1. Walter-George, b. March 15, 1802; 2. Mary-Jane, b. March 28, 1795, m., Jan. 2, 1816, James, only son of sir Charles Flower, Bart.; 3. Dorothy-Anne, b. May 2, 1796, m., July 25, 1814, John-Barrett Lennard, Esq., 2d son of Sir Thomas Lennard, Bart.; 4. Matilda-Georgiana, b. Feb. 27, 1798, m., Aug.

m., Aug. 3, 1816, Henry-Dawkins Milligan, Esq.; and 5. Susannah-Maria, b. May 31, and d. June 7, 1806.

Henry, the 3d son of David, earl of Huntingdon, brother to king William the Lion, in 1165 assumed the name of Stirling because he was born at Stirling. The family afterwards took the name of Strivylen, or Stravelyn, and seated themselves at Calder; from which branch sir Walter, present baronet, is descended. Sir Walter Stirling, knt., a captain R.N., m. Dorothy, daughter of Charles Willing, esq., and Anne Shippen, of Philadelphia, and by her (who d. in 1782) had issue, 1. sir Walter, present baronet; 2. Charles, vice-admiral of the white, (who ranks, according to seniority, as captain, by his majesty's order in council,) sentenced by court-martial of May 9, 1814, to remain on the half-pay list, and not to be included in any future promotion, m. Charlotte, 2d daughter of Andrew Grote, esq.; and 3. Anne, who m. her 1st cousin, Andrew Stirling. Sir Walter d. in 1786, and was buried at Harmondsworth, co. Middlesex, Dec. 2, 1786.

It is worthy of remark, that there are now living four baronets of this name: sir Thomas Stirling, of Ardoch; sir John Stirling, of Glorat; sir Gilbert Stirling, of Uppal; and sir Walter Stirling, of Faskine, present baronet.

Arms—Argent on a bend engrailed, azure between two roses, gules, seeded, or, and barbed, vert, three buckles, of the fourth, all within a bordure of the fifth; above the shield is placed a helmet befitting his degree, with a mantling, gules, the doubling, argent.

Crest—On a wreath of his liveries, a dexter-armed arm, issuing out of a ducal coronet, grasping a dagger, in fesse, all proper; the last hilted and pomelled, or.

Supporters—Two hinds, semé, étoiles, ducally gorged.

In an escroll, above the Crest, this Motto—Gang forward.

Arms—See plate 42.

Residences—Pall-Mall, London; Shoreham-Castle, co. Kent; and Faskine, co. Lanark.

VAVASOUR, of SPALDINGTON and MELBOURNE, co. York.

March 20, 1801.

Sir HENRY-MAGHULL-MERVIN VAVASOUR, Bart., a Major-General in the Army, succeeded his father, Sir Henry, March 15, 1813: married, Nov. 28, 1807, Anne, eldest daughter of William Vavasour, of Dublin, Esq., and has a son and heir, b. June 17, 1814; and a daughter, b. July 21, 1816.

Sir Henry is the 2d son of Henry Nooth, (descended from the family of Vandynoor, in Brabant,) by Bridget, eldest daughter and co-heiress of John Mervin, co. Dorset, esq.

The family of Vavasour came into England with William the Conqueror. They took their name, says Camden, from their office, being the king's vavasours, a degree then little inferior to the dignity of a baron, and anciently had the article Le affixed to their name. Thomas Vavasour, esq., the 19th in descent from Manger le Vavasour, who first settled in England, m. Dorothy, daughter of sir Ferdinando Leghe, of Middleton, knt., who d. in 1679, settling his estate on his sole daughter, Mary Vavasour, and her descendants, on condition of their assuming the name and arms of Vavasour. She m., in 1680, sir Ralph Asheton, bart., and had issue 2 sons, who d. young; and 3 daughters. Anne, the eldest of these, inherited her mother's estate at Spaldington, and m., in 1701, Humphrey Trafford, of Trafford, esq., and had issue, Humphrey, Cecil, Sigismund, Anne, and Elizabeth, who all d. without issue, except Elizabeth, who d. in 1788, having m. Maile Yates, of Maghull, esq., and had issue, 1. Anne-Asheton, m. sir Henry Vavasour, 1st baronet; 2. Mary, m., 1st, John Aspinall, esq., sergeant-at-law; and 2dly, Henry Aspinall, of Lincoln's-Inn, esq., and d. 1794; 3. Catharine-Eleanora, m. Robert Campbell, of Asknish, co. Argyll, esq.

I. Sir

I. Sir Hugh went to the East Indies in 1762, and returned in 1775; was chosen a Director of the East India Company in 1784, Deputy-Chairman in 1799 and 1800, and Chairman in 1800 and 1801, Colonel of the 2d Regiment of Royal East India Volunteers in 1796, and M.P. for Ashburton 1802 to 1806.

The surname of Inglis, according to Douglas, is of great antiquity in the south of Scotland; it appears from the records that there were several free barons of the the name in that country: above 500 years ago, we find Walter de Inglis, John de Inglis, Philip de Inglis, men of rank and property when king Edward I. had overrun that country in 1296. They had large possessions in the shire of Roxburgh in very early times, particularly in the lands and barony of Branksholm. Sir William Inglis, knt., the immediate ancestor of this family, flourished in the reigns of Robert II. and III., was rewarded by his sovereign with the lands and barony of Manner, in 1395, for his combat with sir Thomas Struthers, an English knight, whom he killed on the spot. Alexander Inglis, of Edinburgh, the 7th in descent from the above-named sir William, had 2 wives. Robert, his eldest surviving son and heir (by his 2d wife, Marion, daughter of Robert Douglas, esq., laird of Cowthrople,) b. 1661, m., in 1690, Janet, daughter and heiress of Edward Cleghorn, of Edinburgh, esq., and had issue 19 children: Robert, 3d son, b. in 1699, d. 1748, having m., 1725, Mary, sole daughter and heiress of James Russell, esq., and had issue 13 children; of whom 4 only grew up to maturity; John, the eldest, succeeded to the estates of his great maternal uncle, John Wightman, of Maulslie, esq., and assumed the name of Wightman. Hugh, the youngest, but only surviving son, is the present baronet.

I. Sir HUGH was created a baronet June 6, 1801.

BROOKE-DE-CAPELL BROOKE, of GREAT OAKLEY, co. Northampton.

June 14, 1803.

Sir RICHARD-BROOKE-DE-CAPELL BROOKE, Bart., F. R. S., married, Aug. 18, 1788, Mary, only child and heiress of Major-General Richard Worge, Colonel 86th Regiment of Foot, (who, 1766, m. Miss Jane Bowman,) and has issue, 1. Arthur, Lieutenant Royal Regiment Horse Guards, b. Oct. 22, 1791; 2. William, b. June 12, 1801; 3. Mary-Anne; 4. Sophia; 5. Louisa; and 6. Augusta.

The Brookes are a family of great antiquity, settled originally co. Chester. William Broke, (for so this family spelt their name till the 17th century,) was living in in 1159; he was the immediate ancestor of the Oakley branch of this family: the 7th in descent from him was sir Nicholas Broke, who is stated in the county visitations in the herald's office to have m. the daughter of sir John Bush, knt., and to have been lord of the manor of Chester-waver, co. Warwick, where he was buried Sept. 10, 1271. Ancient pedigrees state that Roger Broke, or de Broke, as Bridges styles him in his "History of Northamptonshire," m., temp. Edward I., Agnes, one of the daughters and co-heiresses of Philip de Covely, who possessed the manors of Holdenby and Ravensthorpe; and that Edward Broke, temp. Edward II., m. the heiress of sir Edward Gournay, knt. The visitations in the college of arms state that William Broke, (4th in descent from sir Nicholas,) m. the niece of sir Thomas Billinge, lord-chief-justice, 6 Edward IV. He appears, by various family-deeds, copies of which are in the British Museum, (vide Harleian Catalogue, No. 4028, p. 166, 170—175,) to have exchanged the manors of Astwell, Fawcote, and Wappenham, co. Northampton, (April 24, 11 Edward IV.) with Thomas Lovett, for the manors and towns of Great Oakley and Rushton, and other considerable estates in the parishes of Bulwick, Henswicke, Stanion, Newton, Weekly, and Little Oakley, in the same county. This exchange took place on the marriage of his son, John, with Margaret Lovett. The said John m., 2dly, Isabel, daughter of Thomas Wake, of Blisworth, styled the great Wake, who was representative co. Northampton the greater part of his life: by this second marriage, he had issue Thomas Broke, who m. the daughter of Giles Poulton, of Desborough: his son, Thomas Broke, m. Jane, heiress of Thomas Moore, of Bourton, co. Bucks, who was descended, through the Paulets, from Joan, wife of Gilbert de Clare, earl of Gloucester, the daughter of Edward I.: his son, Arthur Broke, m. Catharine, daughter of sir Edward Watson, of Rockingham, grand-daughter of sir Edward Montague, of Boughton, chief-justice of England, which said Catharine was also descended from the above-named Joan, by her 2d husband, Ralph de Monthermer.

Sir Thomas Broke, son of Arthur, m. Judith Shugburgh, descended from Guy, earl of Warwick, and William the Conqueror. Edward Broke, his brother, m. the daughter of sir William Pelham, knt., and settled in Ireland, where he was muster-master-general. Arthur, son of sir Thomas, m. Dorothy, eldest daughter of sir Thomas Neville, knt., of Holt, co. Leicester, descended from Neville, lord-high-admiral to William the Conqueror.

Thomas, son of Arthur, was member co. Northampton, 5th, 6th, and 7th Charles II., and m. Margaret, daughter of sir John Walter, co. Oxford, knt., lord-chief-baron of the exchequer. Arthur, son of Thomas, m. Dorothy, daughter and heiress of William Wheelows, of Gayton, esq., who was gentleman of the privy chamber to Charles II. Arthur, his son, 22d in lineal descent from William, 1st mentioned, m. Mary, only surviving child of that very eminent divine, Zaccheus Isham, D.D., prebendary of St. Paul, &c., and had issue 2 daughters; Mary, the eldest, and Dorothy, the wife of Thomas-Cecil Maunsell, of Thorpe Malsor, esq., who d. without issue; Mary, m. Richard Supple, of Ahadoe, co. Cork, esq., and had issue one child, sir Richard-Brooke-de-Capell Brooke, present baronet, who, on the death of his father in 1797, changed his name to Brooke, as directed by the will of his great uncle, Wheeler Brooke, esq., and at the same time obtained the royal license to reassume the name of De-Capell, the original paternal name of this family: his ancestor, Philip-de-Capell, having gone over to Ireland with Robert Fitzstephen in the reign of Henry II., and having been present with him at the conquest of the kingdom of Cork, who, for his services, granted to him and his heirs the estate of Ahadoe, and other considerable property in that county, held by knights's service, and the payment of a pair of spurs annually at Easter; (vide the grant in Birmingham Tower, and the copy of it in the college of arms, London.) This estate, subject to the same quit-rent, has been in possession of the family to the present time; and it appears by the Down survey in the castle of Dublin, to be described as the property of William Supple, esq., English protestant.

Keating,

Keating, in his "History of Ireland," p. 552, mentions the name of Supple, as one of those remaining who were descended from the English who first settled in Ireland. Edward Grimstone, sergeant-at-arms 1615, published a translation from the French of a work relative to Ireland, in which this family are mentioned as gentlemen of note at that period, and as decended from English ancestors. An ancient MS. in the British museum gives a list of English families who came into Ireland in the reign of Henry II., Richard I., and king John, (Vide No. 4814, Plut. D.); and among these names occurs James Chappell, otherwise Capell, otherwise Supple, Baron.

William-Supple Fitz-Edmund, 1628, m. Catharine, daughter of sir Richard Smythe, of Ballynatra, and grand-daughter of Roger Boyle, father of the 1st earl of Cork, and from whom are descended the earls of Cork and Shannon. William Supple, his son, m. the sister of sir William Fitzgerald; and, 2dly, —— Uniacke. William, his son by the 1st wife, m. the daughter of Garret Fitzgerald, of Lesquinland, esq. By these intermarriages, the family became nearly allied with the Desmond family and the Fitzgeralds of Cloyne. William, his son, m. the eldest daughter of sir Richard Hull, one of the justices of the court of common pleas in Ireland, and had issue Richard, who m. Mary, daughter and co-heiress of Richard Fitzgerald, of London, esq.: their issue was, Richard, before-mentioned, father of sir Richard-Brooke-de-Capell Brooke, the present baronet; Mabella, d. unm.; and Anne, who m. William Bull, of Dublin, esq., and has issue 1 son, who m. miss Mott, and d. without issue, and 4 daughters; 1. Anne, m. William Vavasour, of Kildare Street, Dublin, esq., and has issue, Henry, captain royal engineers; Anne, m. sir Henry Vavasour, of Melbourne-Hall, co. York, bart.; Richard, in holy orders, m. miss Vavasour, of Rochdale; and Frances, unm.; 2. Mary, relict of Robert Graydon, co. Kildare, esq., and had issue; William, m. miss Putland, of Merrion-Square, Dublin; George, captain royal engineers, m. miss Lyle; Anne, m. captain Benjamin Carter, R.N., and had Mary, unm.; Robert, a lieutenant lieutenant East India company's service, d. 1814; and John, captain 88th regiment, was killed at the battle of Talavera; 3. Sophia, relict of William Pollard, of the county of Westmeath, esq., and has Sophia, who m. John-Hill Foster, esq.; Maria, unm.; and William-Dutton, m., 1st, the daughter of George Rochfort, esq., M.P. for Westmeath, who d. 1812; and 2dly, miss Pakenham, one of the daughters of admiral the hon. Thomas Pakenham; and 4. Catharine, deceased, m. Edward Greatrakes, esq., left 3 daughters and 1 son, of which 1 daughter is now living.

WATSON,

WATSON, (now KAY) of EAST-SHEEN, co. Surrey.
Dec. 5, 1803.

Sir WILLIAM KAY, Bart., Deputy-Commissary-General to the Army, born Dec. 5, 1777, succeeded his great uncle, Sir Brook Watson, Oct. 2, 1807, agreeable to the limitation of the Patent.

I. Sir BROOK WATSON, b. Feb. 7, 1735, m., in 1760, Helen, daughter of Colin Campbell, goldsmith and jeweller, of Edinburgh; was created a baronet, as above, and, in default of issue male, with remainder severally and successively to his great nephews, William and Brook-Kay, and their heirs male. Sir Brook entered early into the sea-service, but, bathing in the harbour of the Havannah, 1749, a shark took off his right leg below the knee, which compelled him to quit the navy. In 1755 he served as commissary with colonel Moncton, in Nova Scotia; 1758, in the same station, at the siege of Louisbourg; in 1759 settled as a merchant in London; and 1782 served as commissary-general to the army in North America; on his return, in 1784, he was elected M.P. for the city of London, appointed a director of the bank of England, and chosen alderman of cord-wainers' ward; in 1785 he served as sheriff for London and Middlesex. In reward for his services in America, parliament unanimously voted an annuity of £500 to his wife during her life; in 1793 he attended the duke of York to the continent as commissary-general to the army; he returned in 1795; was elected lord-mayor of London in 1796; appointed colonel of a regiment of provisional cavalry, raised by the city of London in 1797; and commissioned by his majesty, as commissary-general of England, in 1798; which commission he re-signed early in 1806. Sir Brook was the son of John Watson, of Kingston-upon-Hull, esq., (eldest son of John Watson, of Cawood, co. York, esq., afterwards of Kingston-upon-Hull, by his 2d wife, Sarah, daughter of —— Schofield, esq.) Sir Brook's sister, Elizabeth, m. Richard CUMING GORDON, of ALTYR, in Elgin, and GORDONSTONE, co. Perth.

May 12, 1804.

Sir WILLIAM-GORDON-CUMING GORDON, Bart., born July 20, 1787, succeeded his father, Sir Alexander-Penrose, Feb. 10, 1806. The

The family of Cuming is said to be descended from the ancient family of the Comines in France. Robert Cumine, earl of Northumberland, was employed against the rebels in Northumberland, as they were then termed, anno 1068. William Cumine was lord high chancellor of Scotland in the reign of king David I., who succeeded to the throne in 1124. It is agreed that the Cumines had large possessions in lands, and much greater power, than any other name in Scotland, from the reign of Malcolm III., styled Canmore, to that of king Robert Bruce. The Cumines, lords Badenoch, were undoubtedly chiefs of the whole clan. From them were descended the Cumines, earls of Buchan, earls of Monteith, &c. The Cumines of Altyr, descended from a younger son of the lords of Badenoch, appear now to be the representatives of that great and once flourishing family.

Alexander Cuming, of Altyr, (15th in descent from sir John Cuming, lord of Badenoch, who d. 1249,) m. Anne, daughter of John Wortley, esq., and had issue, Elizabeth, d. unm., and an only son, Alexander, m. Grace, daughter of —— Penrose, esq., and niece and sole heiress of John Penrose, of Penrose, Cornwall, esq., and had issue, 1. sir Alexander, 1st baronet; 2. John-Penrose; 3. Edward; 4. George; 5. William; 6. James, d. young; 7. Jane, m. Jonathan Rashleigh, of Silverton, co. Devon, esq., and has issue; 8. Mary, m. William Veale, co. Cornwall, esq., and has issue; and 9. Amelia, m. John Quick, of Newton-House, co. Devon, esq.

I. Sir ALEXANDER-PENROSE, eldest son, was created a baronet May 12, 1804, lieutenant-colonel of the Strathspey, or 1st regiment of fencible men, heir of entail, and representative of the late sir William Gordon, of Gordonstoun, bart. He assumed the name and arms of Gordon, agreeable to the will of sir William Gordon, bart., above named; he m. Helen, daughter of sir Ludovick Grant, and sister of sir James Grant, bart., and has issue, 1. Camden, remarking of the King's County, in Ireland, says, "and the noble English families of Warren, Herbert, Colbey, Moore, and Leicester; and the Irish ones of O'Connor, Mac Coghlan, O'Mailey, Fox, and others, manfully maintain the lands left them by their ancestors;" and again speaking of Mayo, he observes, "this county is not so famous on account of its towns, as of its inhabitants, they being of Irish extraction, as the O'Mailies, Jais, Mac Vadines, &c." In this county, Mayo, there is a place called Ibh Maile, that is, O'Mailly's county; a sufficient evidence that the family has been of considerable importance in former times. Notwithstanding, however, these testimonies in favour of its antiquity, we are compelled to commence the genealogy of the present branch at a comparatively modern period, with Owen Malley, of Burrishowle, co. of Mayo, esq., a descendant from Bryan M'Cormick O'Malie, who inhabited the castle of Morske and the manor of Strade, co. Mayo, from his father, Cormacies O'Maley, who held from the crown, for military services, and d. abroad, in the service of queen Elizabeth, in 1589; m. Martha Brown, of the Neal, co. SIR WILLIAM-HENRY-ST. LAURENCE CLARKE, born Aug. 3, 1801, succeeded his father, Major-General Sir William, Feb. 7, 1808.

William Clarke served in the army under king William III.; m. Diana, daughter of —— Busked, of Castle Magner, in Cork, esq.; Silvester, the youngest son, was a citizen of Cork, (who d. in 1797;) m., in 1730, Catharine, daughter of Robert Atkins, of Highfield, in Cork, esq., and had issue, William, Helena, and Margaret. William Clarke, of Cresses-Green-House, esq., merchant, had issue, 1. major-general sir William, 1st baronet; 2. Frederick, b. 1769; m. Elizabeth Beland; 3. Henry-Silvester, m., 1797, Henrietta Berkenhout; 4. Charles-William, b. 1785, a captain 84th regiment of infantry; and and 5. Anne, b. 1783, m. the rev. Thomas Walter, rector of Kilmaloda, co. Cork.

I. Sir WILLIAM, the eldest son, was created a baronet June, 23, 1804, b. Sept. 1, 1762: he entered early into the army, in which profession he acquired a considerable degree of reputation; he became commandant of the British forces at Goa in 1799: during his residence there he received the repeated thanks of the governor-general and council of India, for his ability, zeal, prudence, and conciliatory conduct; the rank of major-general in the Portuguese service was conferred upon him by the prince-regent of Portugal, in virtue of which he commanded the troops of Portugal nearly 7 years. Jan. 1, 1805, he was appointed a major-general in the British service: in Jan. 1806 he returned to England on his quitting Goa: he received the most marked testimonials of the approbation of the Portuguese government, and was presented with a valuable sword. In 1807 sir William returned to India on the military staff of that country, being particularly selected by the governor-general in council; he was next appointed to the command in the Mysore, but unfortunately fell a sacrifice to the climate of Seringapatam on the 7th of Feb. 1808, having m. in 1799, Margaret, daughter of Thomas Prendergast, of Dublin, esq., and by her had issue, 1. sir William-Henry-Laurence, present baronet; 2. BURROUGHS, of Castle-Bagshaw, co. Cavan. Ireland.

Dec. 1, 1804.

Sir WILLIAM BURROUGHS, Bart., so created, as above; married Letitia, daughter of William Newburgh, burgh, of Ballyhaise, and Drumcarn, co. Cavan, Esq., (by Letitia, daughter and heiress of Broghill Perrot, of Ballyhugh, Esq.) and by her (who d. in 1803) had issue, 1. William, b. Sept. 15, 1784, in the Coldstream Regiment of Foot-Guards, who d. of wounds received before Bayonne, May 11, 1814; 2. Letitia, d. young; 3. Maria-Isabella, d. unm., in 1798; and 4. Louisa.

This family, and several others in England and Ireland, which now bear the names of De Burgh, Burgh, Bourke, Burke, Boroughs, Burrough, and Burroughs, derive their origin from Robert de Burghs, who came from Normandy with William the Conqueror, and in 1068 was created earl of Cornwall, and his brother, Odo de Burgho, bishop of Baieux, was created earl of Kent. One branch of Robert de Burgho's family went to Ireland in the reign of Henry II., and there gave rise to the noble families of Clanricarde, Mayo, and several other families of distinction in that kingdom. Another branch, from which the present baronet is descended, settled in Lincolnshire, and was advanced to the dignity of the peerage by queen Elizabeth, who, on sending sir Thomas Burroughs, then a K.G., to Ireland, as lord-deputy, created him a peer. Thomas, lord Burroughs, who, in some of the Peerages, is styled lord Burrough, and in others, Borgh, and Borough, d. in the government, without male issue, when the title became extinct, and his estates in Lincolnshire passed into the Newcastle and Gainsborough families: he was accompanied to Ireland by a collateral relation of the same name, who acquired a large landed property in the county of Wicklow, and was the immediate ancestor of sir William, the present baronet: his grandson, Thomas Burroughs, m. Elizabeth Lewis, and by her had issue, Francis Burroughs, who m. miss Mushet, niece to the then lord bishop of Derry, and by her had issue, 1. Thomas, m., 1st, his own relation, miss Rainsford; and 2dly, miss Nugent, of the Westmeath families, and d., leaving issue, 2 sons; Thomas, who m. Catharine, daughter of the right hon. sir Henry Cavendish, by Sarah, baroness baroness Waterpark, by whom he left issue; George, who possesses the family estate in Wicklow; Edward, Margaret, and Catharine; 2. Lewis, 2d son, in holy orders, D.D., archdeacon of Derry, m. Mary, daughter of Richard Cane, of Larabrian, co. Kildare, esq., by Anne Lyons, of River Lyons, in the King's County, who was nearly allied to the noble families of Drogheda, Mountcashel, Wellesley, Charleville, Boyne, and Harberton, and by her had issue 4 sons: Medlicott, in the army, m. Mary Moorecroft, relict of captain Morrison, and by her (who is since deceased) had issue, William and Mary; Newburgh, in holy orders, archdeacon of Derry, and chaplain to the late duke of Dorset when ambassador at Paris, m. Anne Trevor, daughter and heiress of Isaac Bornford, of Tyrrelstown, co. Meath, esq., and by her left issue, Sackville, William-Hamilton, Lewis, and Anne; 3. sir William, created a baronet Dec. 1, 1804, and after having been involved in a great lawsuit for a large estate claimed by his wife and her sister, the lady of sir William Richardson, of Castlehill, in Tyrone, bart., as co-heiresses of their brother, William-Perrot Newburgh.

I. Sir WILLIAM went to India, where he was appointed advocate-general in Bengal by marquess Cornwallis, then governor-general of India, and for his public services in that country was, in 1804, created a baronet; on the same occasion he also received a grant, making an addition to the family arms.

Arms—In a field, gules, the trunk of an old oak radicated, proper, with two olive branches, proper; to which arms were added,, on the creation to the title, a chief, or, charged with an eastern crown, of the field, between two annulets, azure.

Crest—Originally, a lion passant, gules; and by the late grant, now standing on an eastern crown, or.

Motto—Audaces fortuna juvat.

LOPES, of Maristow-House, co. Devon; and Westbury, co. Wilts.

Oct. 5, 1805.

Sir MANASEH-MASSEH LOPES, of Maristow-House, in the parish of Tamerton Folliot, co. Devon, M.P. for Barnstaple in the last Parliament, a Magistrate for the County, and a Lieutenant-Colonel of the Roborough Volunteers; born in Jamaica, Jan. 27, 1755; married Charlotte, daughter of John Yeates, co. Monmouth, Esq., assumed the name of Masseh, in addition to that of Lopes, and was created a Baronet, as above, with remainder to his nephew, Ralph Franco, only son of his late sister, Esther, wife of Abraham Franco, deceased.

The family of Lopes derives its immediate origin from Morat Lopes, of the island of Jamaica, esq., whose ancestors resided there for more than a century, and possessed considerable wealth and influence.

I. Sir MANASEH-MASSEH, of Maristow-House, near Plymouth, co. of Devon, and of Westbury, co. of Wilts, (with the honours and estate annexed,) created a baronet Oct. 5, 1805, with remainder to his nephew, Ralph-Franco, only son of his late sister, Esther, wife of

A. Franco, esq., b. Sept. 10, 1788, member in the last and present parliaments for Westbury, Wilts, who m., May 8, 1817, Susannah Gibbs, eldest daughter of A. Ludlow, esq., of Heywood-House, Wilts, by whom he has issue, a son and heir, Massey, b. June 14, 1818.

DOYLE, of the Island of GUERNSEY.

Oct. 5, 1805.

Sir JOHN DOYLE, created a Baronet, as above, G.C.B. and K.C.; a Lieutenant-General in the Army, Colonel 87th Regiment of Foot; born in 1750.

Sir John was originally intended for the study of the law: but, on the death of his father, purchased an Ensigncy in the 48th Regiment of Foot, and in 1775 exchanged into the 40th Regiment of Foot, on that Regiment being ordered to America: after his return from America, he was appointed Private Secretary to the Prince of Wales; in 1793 he raised a Regiment, the 87th, (or Prince of Wales's Regiment,) and was advanced, by the brevet promotions, to the rank of Colonel; in 1794 he accompanied the Earl of Moira on his expedition to the Continent; on his return was placed at the head of the War Department in Ireland under the successive administrations of the Earls Fitzwilliam and Camden; he was appointed a Brigadier-General on the Staff in 1797; was sent to Gibraltar, and afterwards served in Egypt under Sir Ralph Abercrombie,

crombie, K.B., and his successor, Lord Hutchinson; on his return to England he was appointed Major-General on the Staff, and made Lieutenant-Governor of Guernsey; 1805 he was promoted to the rank of Lieutenant-general, and obtained his Majesty's permission to wear the Order of the Crescent.

The family of Doyle, or D'Oyle, is said to have descended from that of O'Toole, lords and princes of Imale, co. Wicklow, which county was then divided between this powerful sept and that of the Byrnes. Tirlogh O'Toole and his brother Art petitioned king Henry VIII. to be restored to the territory of Fercullen, from which their ancestor had been expelled by the earls of Kildare, and promised, if taken into favour and restored, to become loyal subjects, and to hold their estates by knights' service, to be obedient to the laws, wear the English apparel, teach their children the English language; and, in short, would do all such services as were customary with the Walsh's, Archbold's, and Harold's, and other English families of their neighbourhood in the march of Dublin to do. The king granted their petition, and restored to Art the manor of Castle-Kevin; and the castle and manor of Powerscourt were granted to Tirlogh-Barnaby O'Toole, son and heir of Art, who joined with his brother-in-law, Pheah-M'Hugh O'Byrne, in the rebellion of Hugh, earl of Tyrone, forfeited this property, at present the most beautiful and best cultivated in Ireland, and it was granted to various persons; Powerscourt being given to —— Wingfield, esq., ancestor to the viscounts Powerscourt, (in the Peerage of Ireland.)

The Doyle branch of the O'Toole's was chiefly seated about Arklow, and spread into many wealthy and powerful families, as appears by records in the Ulster's office, in Dublin, some of which seated themselves co. Wexford, Carlow, and Kilkenny. From the Carlow branch of the Doyles descended William Doyle, of Clomony, co. Carlow, esq., who m. Jane, daughter of How-

SCOTT, of GREAT BARR, co. Stafford.

April 30, 1806.

Sir JOSEPH SCOTT, born 1752, created a Baronet, as above; married, 1777, Margaret, daughter and heiress of Edward Whitby, Esq., of Sheet End, co. Stafford, and has issue, 1. Edward-Dolman, m., Feb. 20, 1815, Catharine-Julia, eldest daughter of Sir Hugh Bateman, Bart.; 2. William, in Holy Orders, m., July 18, 1818, Maria, Maria, 3d daughter of the Rev. Dr. Gabell, of Winchester College; and 1 daughter. Sir Joseph was appointed High Sheriff of the County of Stafford in 1779, and elected one of the Representatives in Parliament for the City of Worcester in 1802.

The ancient family of Scott has been seated at Great Barr, co. Stafford, from the reign of Edward I. In 1296, the ancestor of the present baronet, who was in the suite of John Baliol, king of Scotland, when that monarch was detained a prisoner in London, and commanded, with the rest of his countrymen, from passing to the north of the river Trent, under pain of losing their heads, fixed himself as near that stream as the thick forest of Cannock (at present stripped of its woods,) would then allow. From that period to the present, the family have lived in a substantial and honourable independence, intermarried with divers families of good note, occasionally dividing itself into various heads and collateral branches. The lands possessed by these several families, (of which, in 1690, there were not less than 9, all freeholders,) are, for the most part, now centred (the name of Scott entirely) in the present baronet.

To this Thomas le Scott the family arms were granted in 1663, as follows:

Arms—Argent, on a fesse, gules, cottised, azure, three lambs, between three Catherine-wheels, sable.

Crest—A beacon, fired, laddered, gules, on a mountain, vert.

Motto—Regi patricæque fidelis.

Arms—See plate 47.

Seat—Great Barr-Hall, co. Stafford.

MORRIS,

MORRIS, of Clasemount, co. Glamorgan.

May 12, 1806.

Sir JOHN MORRIS, Bart., born July 12, 1745; married, May 2, 1774, Henrietta, daughter of Sir Philip Musgrave, of Eden-Hall, co. Cumberland, Bart.; and by her (who d. June 16, 1812) has issue, 1. John, m., Oct. 5, 1809, Lucy-Julia, youngest daughter of John Byng, 5th Viscount Torrington, and has issue, Henrietta, Julia, John, Armine, Lucy, Cecilia, Elizabeth, George-Byng, and Beatrice; 2. BATEMAN, of Hartington-Hall, co. Derby.

Nov. 11, 1806.

Sir HUGH BATEMAN was created a Baronet, as above, with remainder, in default of issue male, to the eldest surviving heir male, in succession, of his daughters, Catherine-Juliana, b. Nov. 10, 1796, m., Feb. 20, 1815, Edward-Dolman, eldest son of Sir Joseph Scott, Bart., and Amelia-Anne, b. Sept. 28, 1798, m., Dec. 24, 1814, Sir Alexander Hood, Bart., born March 21, 1756; m., Feb. 4, 1786, Temperance, daughter of John Gisborne, of Derby, and of Yoxall-Lodge, co. of Stafford, Esq., and has issue 2 daughters, as above.

The name of Bateman appears in the reign of Edward III., when William Bateman, bishop of Norwich, (and founder of Trinity-Hall, Cambridge,) was sent to Avignon non to lay before the pope his claim to the crown of France; and Bartholomew Bateman, member for Norfolk, 1338, was his brother. The paternal ancestors of sir Hugh Bateman resided for several generations in the parish of Hartington, co. of Derby, previous to Hugh Bateman, who was baptized there in 1554; whose daughter, Grace, b. at Hartington-Hall, in 1589, m. George Parker, esq., ancestor of the earls of Macclesfield; and Robert Bateman, b. at Hartington, and younger brother of the above Hugh, was chamberlain, and some time representative in parliament for the city of London, and was an eminent merchant there. He founded and endowed the divinity lectureship of Ashbourne, co. of Derby, and dying 1645, bequeathed lands in the counties of Essex, Dorset, and Denbigh, amongst his 4 sons; viz. 1. Robert, styled of Rotterdam, in Holland; 2. sir Anthony Bateman, M.P. for the city of London, 1664; 3. sir William Bateman, knt.; and 4. sir Thomas Bateman, created a baronet, 1664, and styled of How-Hall, co. of Norfolk, from the lands which he had purchased in that county of sir Thomas Foote. The 3 last sons were aldermen of the city of London, and suffered considerable losses from the great fire in 1666, when the duke of York, (amongst other efforts for the assistance of the public upon that melancholy occasion) exerted himself much to save sir Thomas Bateman's house, in Colman-street, from the flames. Sir Thomas d. leaving no issue. Robert Bateman, grandson of the above-named Hugh, m. Anne, 3d daughter of sir William Thorold, then of Marston, co. of Lincoln; he was grandfather of Hugh Bateman, of Derby, and of Hartington-Hall, esq., who m. Elizabeth, 2d daughter of William Sacheverell, of Morley, co. of Derby, and of Barton, co. of Nottingham, esq., and representative in several parliaments co. Derby; and his brother, Robert Bateman, was first doctor of physic in the university of Cambridge, and afterwards rector of St. Columb, co. of Cornwall, and deceasing, left 2 daughters. Richard Bateman, eldest son of the last-named Hugh, m. Catharine, sister of William Fitzherbert, of Tissington, co. of Derby, esq., (father of Alleyne Fitzherbert, lord St. Helen's; Helen's; vide Debrett's Peerage of the United Kingdom;) and left issue, 1. sir Hugh, present baronet; and 2. Richard Bateman, barrister-at-law, b. March 13, 1757.

I. Sir HUGH, eldest son, was created a baronet Nov. 11, 1806.

Arms—Three crescents, with an etoile of six points, above each crescent, gules, on a field, or, with a canton, (for difference) azure, on the sinister corner of the field.

Crest—A crescent and etoile above it, six points, gules, between two eagles' wings, or.

Motto—Sidus adsit amicum.

Arms—See plate 47.

Seat—Hartington-Hall, co. Derby.

FRASER, of LEADCLUNE and MORAR, co. Inverness.

Nov. 11, 1806.

Sir WILLIAM FRASER, Bart., succeeded his father, Sir William, Feb. 16, 1818.

The family distinguished by the surname of Fraser are of great antiquity in Scotland, although they are unquestionably of Celtic or Gaelic origin, and came from Provence and Languedoc at one era, and from Brittany and Normandy at another. French history mentions, that Julian de Berrie, on the 10th of April, 916, presented Charles, king of France, at Au Bergne, near Bourbon, a basket of ripe strawberries, which were so much thought of, that he gave him the surname of Frase, afterwards written Fraisau, and Fraizel, in France, by the great families of Guise and Froizeller, dukes of that kingdom, the marquess Montagnard, and many others, whose armorial bearings are distinguished by strawberries on their shield, in like manner as they are sculptured and remain to this day on the cross of Peebles.

Sir George M'Kenzie, lord-advocate of Scotland, and other antiquaries, justly say, that one of this family came into Scotland with the embassy from Charlemagne in in 807, and was created the 1st thane of Man, the lineal ancestor of Oliver Fraser, or Frizel, 13th thane of Man, who built Oliver Castle, in Tweed's Muir, and erected it into a constabulary, and is to this day first called over in the roll of Peebles.

Sir Simon Fraser having thrice saved the life and remounted king Robert de Brus, in the battle of Methven, had the 3 crowns quartered into his armorial bearings.

The loyalty, fidelity, and martial achievements acquired by the Frasers at Roslin, Inverness, Perth, Edinburgh, Bannockburn, &c., are well recorded in history, and led to the alliance with king Robert's sister, who was twice married; by which marriages, sir John Campbell, ancestor of Argyll, and sir Alexander, son of sir Simon Fraser, ancestor of Lovat, were uterine brothers, and related to all the nobility of both kingdoms, as appears by the grants and charters preserved and described by Mr. Robertson, in the register-office, Edinburgh, page 19, Register, No. 145, Charters of King Robert de Brus: "Marie, spouse Alexandri Fraser, militis sorori nostre dilecte, et Johanne Campbell, filio suo nepoti nostro, pro hernagio et servitio, omnes terras et tenementa, que fuerunt Davidis, Comiti Atholiæ, in comitatu Athole, que idem David Foris fecit."

In the reign of king Alexander III., sir Simon Fraser, son of sir Bernard Fraser, lineally descended from thane Oliver, was gifted with the lordship of Loveth, (vulgo, Norvich,) by charter, dated at Dunfermline, 1253, and appointed, with his brother, sir Francis Fraser, and William Fraser, archbishop of St. Andrew's, and lord-chancellor of Scotland, along with his cousin sir Richard Fraser, auditors in the competition for the crown of Scotland between Bruce and Baliol, 1291.

From lord Hugh Fraser, created by king James I. of Scotland, lord Fraser, of Loveth, 3d of March, 1426, descend lineally the lords Loveth, or Lovat; and from Alexander, 2d son to lord Hugh Fraser, of Lovat, descended Alexander Fraser, of Farraline, father of Hugh Fraser, of Leadclune, esq., called Hustan More, father of Hugh Fraser, called Hustan Ogg, father of William Fraser, esq., a 3d son, who had issue, by his 2d wife, of

of the family of Keith Marschall, sir William, 1st baronet, as above mentioned, and an only daughter, Jane, m., 1763, to the hon. colonel Archibald-Campbell Fraser, of Lovat, (the 38th chief of the Frasers.)

I. Sir WILLIAM, created a baronet Nov. 11, 1806, F.R.S., and an elder brother of the Trinity-House, m. Elizabeth, daughter by the first m. of James Farquharson, of the city of London, merchant, esq., and has issue, 1. sir William, present baronet; 2. James-John; 3. Jemima-Maria; 4. Anna, m., Jan. 17, 1818, major Henry-Edward Keane, of the 7th lancers, 3d son of sir John Keane, of Belmont, co. Cork, bart.; 5. Jane-Helen, m. on the same day, John Grove, M.D., 2d son of Thomas Grove, of Fenn, co. Wilts, esq.; 6. Henrietta-Sophia; 7. Eleanor-Caroline; 8. Mary-Octavia; 9. Elizabeth-Amelia; 10. Emma; 11. Louisa-Albina; and 12. Georgiana-Harriet. Sir William d. Feb. 16, 1818, and was succeeded by his eldest son,

II. Sir WILLIAM, present baronet.

Arms—Quarterly: first and fourth, azure, a bend, engrailed, argent, for Fenton, between three Frasers of the last, for Fraser; in the dexter chief, a canton, girony, of eight, or and sable, to show the descent from the family of Farraline, by a marriage with the only daughter of Garthbeg, who was descended from the family of Argyll: second and third, argent, three antique crowns, gules.

Crest—On a wreath of the colours, a buck's head, erased, gules.

*Supporters—Two stags, proper, armed and unguled, or, collared, azure, and pendent from each collar an inescocheon, girony of eight, or and sable, each supporter resting one foot on an anchor, sable.

THOMPSON, of Hartsbourne, Manor-Place, co. Herts.

Nov. 11, 1806.

Sir THOMAS-BOULDEN THOMPSON, Knt., Baronet, K.C.B., born Feb. 28, 1768; an Admiral, and Treasurer of Greenwich Hospital, married, Feb. 25, 1799, Anne, eldest daughter of Robert Raikes, of Gloucester, Esq., by whom, who was b. Sept. 17, 1771, he has issue, 1. Anne, b. June 17, 1800; 2. Thomas-Boulden, d. young; 3. Thomas-Raikes-Trigge, b. April 1, 1804; 4. Thomas-John, d. in 1807; and 5. a daughter, b. in Sept. 1810.

Sir Thomas entered into the R.N. in 1778; in Nov. 1790 he was made Post, and was afterwards employed, with the immortal Nelson and others, in the attack on Santa Cruz, in the island of Teneriffe; in which, notwithstanding it proved unsuccessful, an intrepidity was displayed by the officers and men that was never surpassed, and the gallant Nelson lost his right arm on the occasion. The share which Sir Thomas had in the Battle of the Nile was mentioned officially with the highest respect: the heroism of his character and the vigour of his genius were afterwards fully manifested in his subsequent engagement in the disabled Leander, though but of 50 guns, with the French ship, le Genereux, of 74; on which occasion he did not yield until he had given his foe a severe experiment of British prowess. On his return to England, after being exchanged, he received the honour of Knighthood, Feb. 13, 1797, and a pension of £300. per annum: he also participated in the victory of Copenhagen in 1801, in which he had the misfortune to lose a leg. Sir Thomas was created a Baronet as above, with, we believe, his pension increased from £300. to £500. per annum.

Copenhagen

Richard Thompson, of Hull, m., and had issue, Edward Thompson, b. at Hull, Nov. 20, 1738, entered into the naval service; in 1756 he was sent to America, where he experienced many adventures, but not very successful ones: in 1759 he was in the Dorsetshire, when the British fleet, under the command of admiral lord Hawke, gained the glorious victory over Conflans. Being the intimate friend of the celebrated Charles Churchill, in the leisure of peace Mr. Thompson had opportunities of cultivating his favourite study of poetry, which contributed something to the slender income of a half-pay lieutenant. By the friendship of David Garrick, esq., he obtained a captain's commission, and was appointed to the command of the Hyæna, in which he had the good fortune to capture a French East-Indiaman: in 1785 he had the command of the Grampus, on board of which he died on the coast of Africa in 1786. He m. Sarah, daughter of —— Boulden, of Kent, esq., by whom he had BERRY, of Catton, co. Norfolk.

Dec. 12, 1806.

Sir EDWARD BERRY, Bart., Captain R.N., K.C.B., so created, as above, for his brilliant Naval Services; born April 17, 1768; married, Dec. 12, 1797, Louisa, daughter of Samuel Forster, of Norwich, D.D.

Sir Edward was promoted to the rank of Post-Captain March 16, 1797, for his distinguished bravery in boarding the San Nicholas of 80 guns, and the San Joseph of 112, the 14th of February, off Cape St. Vincent, with Lord Nelson, being the first person that boarded both those ships, under cover of small arms; received the honour of Knighthood Dec. 12, 1798; commanded the Vanguard at the glorious battle of the Nile; was captured by the Genereux, French 74, when charged with the despatches, on board the Leander, after a severe action; in 1798 was appointed to the Command of the Foudroyant of 80 guns; was present at the capture of the said Genereux, and the Guillaume Tell of 80 guns. In the course of this engagement the Foudroyant expended 162 barrels of powder, and fired 2749 cannon-shot of various sizes; she had 88 men killed and 61 wounded. In the same year Sir Edward conducted the Royal Family of Naples from Palermo to Leghorn, on which occasion he received a gold box and valuable ring from the amiable but ill-fated sister of the much-lamented Maria-Antionette, Queen of France. In 1805 Sir Edward made an extraordinary escape from the French squadron off Cape Finisterre, in the Agamemnon, in which ship he was in the weather column, at the glorious battle off Cape Trafalgar, Trafalgar, and at the victory off St. Domingo, Feb. 6, 1806.

This family came originally from the north of England. Edward Berry, a captain in the army, m., 1671, Eliza Morton; and by her (who d. April 19, 1743) had issue: 1. James, d. 1740; 2. John, d. June 2, 1750; 3. William, d. Nov. 25, 1768; and 4. Edward, d. Feb. 10, 1747, having m. Anne Clements, (who re-m. —— Wright, esq., and d. 1762,) and had issue James and John, d. unm.; Anne, m. —— Brown, esq., and had no issue; and Edward, a merchant in London, who d. Jan. 25, 1716, having m., 1766, Elizabeth, daughter of the rev. SIBBALD, of SITWOOD-PARK, co. Berks.
Dec. 13, 1806.

Sir JAMES SIBBALD, created a Baronet, with remainder, in default of issue male, to David Scott, of Duninald, co. Forfar, Esq.; married Eliza, daughter and co-heiress of William Delegard, Esq., Member of the Council at Bombay; and by her (who d. April 12, 1809) had no issue.

Sir James was in the Civil Service of the East India Company, Ambassador to the Court of Hyder Ali Khaun; in 1770 Chief of Salsette, Basseen, and Bednoor.

It appears from sir Robert Sibbald's "History of Scotland," that the name of Sibbald is very ancient in North Britain: it appears from the same author, that Duncanus Sibbald was witness to the charter of Rogerus Comes de Winton, to Syerus de Seton, temp. Alexander II., in 1246; and in the same year Donatus Sibbald is witness to the charter of the same earl of Winton, to Adam de Seton, de Moritagio heredis alani de Fauside. Mattheus Sybbald is testis to several charters of Duncan, the last earl of Fife, of the Macduffs; and Thomas-Sybald Miles, is testis in several charters in the reign of king Robert II., particularly that writ of alienation of the earldom of Fyfe, by Isabella, Cometissa de Fyfe, to Robert Stuart, earl of Monteith, 1371; and a charter of the same king Robert to Thomas Sibbald de quinque Marcis, annui redditus de firmis burgi de Crail, from whom descended Babington Sibbald, of London, merchant, m. Elizabeth, daughter of —— Long, esq., descended from the Longs of Rood Ashton and Steeple Ashton, co. Wilts, and had issue, James, of London, merchant, d. 1777, m. Elizabeth, daughter and heiress of Robert Williams, of Bloomsbury Square, esq.; and by her, (who d. in 1774) had issue James and George, of Harley-street. Sir James, the eldest son, was created a baronet, as above.

—— Delegard, of London, esq., left issue, 1. Anne-Maria,

Maria, who took the name of Draycott before marriage, m. at St. James's-Church, May 3, 1764, George Fermor, earl of Pomfret, and d. Sept. 23, 1787, leaving George, the present earl, and other issue: 2. William Delegard, a member of the council at Bombay, d. there in 1760, leaving issue, 1. William, who assumed the name of Draycott, an officer in the civil service of the East India company, in Bengal, d. there in 1768; 2. Eliza, daughter and co-heiress, m. sir James Sibbald, present baronet; 3. Henrietta, m., July 13, 1778, George Hartwell, of London, merchant; 4. Louisa, d. March 23, 1803, having m. David Scott, of Duninald, co. Forfar, esq., M.P. for that co. 1790, d. in Oct. 1805, leaving issue, Diana, who m. Josias-Henry Stracey, of Berner's Street, esq., banker; Louisa, m. James Salmon, esq., military secretary for conducting the military correspondence with India; Amelia-Sibbald; and David Scott, of Duninald, late representative in parliament for the borough of Yarmouth, on whom the title is in remainder.

I. Sir JAMES, created a baronet December 13, 1806, with remainder to the issue male of David Scott, of Duninald, esq.

JONES,

JONES, (late TYRWHITT) of STANLEY-HALL, co. Salop.

Oct. 3, 1808.

Sir THOMAS-JOHN-TYRWHITT JONES, Bart., born July 12, 1793, succeeded his father, Sir Thomas, Nov. 24, 1811, M.P. in the present Parliament for Bridgenorth.

The family of Tyrwhitt is of very ancient establishment in England, and has been much celebrated for the scientific knowledge and literary works of some of its later individuals.

Robert Tyrwhitt, in the reign of king Edward II., possessed the lordship of Kettleby, whose son, sir William Tyrwhitt, by the daughter and heiress of —— Gravett, became father of sir Robert, and he of sir William; whose grandson, sir Robert, had issue, sir William, of Kettleby, who was buried in Lincoln cathedral 1522. Some of the individuals of this family were high sheriffs, co. York, 1435, and of Lincoln in 1481.

Thomas Tyrwhitt, son of the rev. Dr. Tyrwhitt, (by the eldest daughter of Edmund Gibson, lord bishop of London) pursued the study of the law, and was called to the bar at the commencement of the war, 1756; he accepted the office of deputy-secretary at war, under his friend, William, 2d viscount Barrington; 1762 he succeeded Jeremiah Dyson, esq., as principal clerk of the house of commons; but the too constant fatigues and late hours of that office proved too much for his health; and at the close of the three years he resigned it to John Hatsell, esq., the person who at present so ably fills that arduous situation. He became F.R. and A.S.S., and d. Aug. 15, 1786, having been highly distinguished for his extraordinary share of classical learning and critical acumen, besides a knowledge of almost every European tongue. Mr. Tyrwhitt was deeply conversant in the learning of Greece and Rome, of which latter acquisition some valuable tracts are indubitable testimony: he

he was also thoroughly toned in the old English writers, and his critical efforts were zealously directed to restore the genuine text of Shakespeare.

The family of Jones is, doubtless, of ancient British origin; and wherever its possessors might at various periods have fixed themselves, still their primary connexions may be traced to some part or other of Wales. Under this supposition, the opportunity is here made use of in noticing the very celebrated sir William Jones, late chief-justice in Bengal; a connexion rather flattering than the contrary to the present family, even should it prove erroneous. The origin of sir William Jones's family, on the maternal side, has been traced to the ancient princes and chieftains of North Wales. It may be sufficient to observe, that the father of sir William was William Jones, the celebrated mathematician, born in Anglesea, 1675, who so eminently distinguished himself in the commencement of the last century, and was honoured with the friendship of the great earl of Hardwicke, sir Isaac Newton, the earl of Macclesfield, and many other distinguished persons. By his wife, Mary Knix, he had 3 children, the youngest of whom was the above sir William Jones, knt.; his father d. in 1749, of a disorder wholly incurable, a polypus of the heart.

I. Sir THOMAS-JONES, b. Sept. 1, 1765; and in 1790, in pursuance of the will of his cousin, sir Thomas Jones, of Stanley-hall, co. of Salop, knt., took the name and arms of Jones only, by the king's sign manual, created a baronet Oct. 3, 1808; m., April 25, 1791, Harriet-Rebecca, 4th daughter of Edward Williams, of Eaton, co. Salop, esq., by whom he had issue, 1. Thomas-John-Tyrwhitt, present baronet; 2. Edward, d. young; 3. Harriet-Emma, b. Oct. 16, 1797, m., May 21, 1818, John Mytton, of Halston, co. Salop, esq.; 4. Charlotte, b. Nov. 7, 1799; 5. Charles-Tyrwhitt, b. March 24, 1801; 6. Edmund-Tyrwhitt, b. April 4, 1802; and 7. a daughter, b. May 10, 1805, d. an infant. Sir Thomas d. Nov. 24, 1811, and was succeeded by his son,

II. Sir THOMAS-JOHN-TYRWHITT, present baronet, sheriff co. Salop, in 1816.

CORBET, of MORETON-CORBET, co. Salop; and LINSLADE, co. Bucks.

Oct. 3, 1808.

Sir ANDREW CORBET, Bart., married, April 23, 1790, Mary, eldest daughter of Thomas Taylor, of Lymme-Hall, co. Chester, Esq., and has issue, 1. Andrew-Vincent, b. June 15, 1800; 2. Judith, b. Jan. 29, 1802; 3. Richard, b. May 16, 1804; 4. Robert, b. Dec. 2, 1805; and 5. Vincent-Roger, b. Dec. 8, 1808.

As to the antiquity of this family in England, it is well known that Corbeau, or Corbet, a noble Norman, came over with William the Conqueror, in whose reign he was one of the principal persons entrusted and employed under Roger, earl of Shrewsbury, in his county of Salop, together with Robert and Roger, two of his sons, of whom Ordoricus Vitalis, who was a contemporary author, gives a character, that "the said earl was a prudent and moderate man, a great lover of equity, and of discreet and modest person;" and adds, "he being freely assisted by the wisdom and courage of the said Corbet, and his 2 sons, Robert and Roger, (among other principal persons,) was as glorious amongst the greatest nobles as any of them all, by keeping the Welsh in awe, and the whole province in peace."

Roger, eldest son, gave Wentelage to the Benedictine monks, of the great abbey in the east part of Shrewsbury, which was built there in 1083, and is styled by Rapin, Rapin, and other writers, St. Bennet's, to which William and Everard, his sons, were consenting; at the same time Robert, his brother, bestowed on the monks of the said abbey, Nutenore, with the tithes of that town, and the tithes of Joche-Hulle, as also the town of Lochestone.

The above-named Robert had a son, Robert, lord of Alcester, co. Warwick, who d. without issue; and 2 daughters. Sandford styles him sir Robert, and says, that "Sybil, one of his daughters, had a son, Reginald, created baron of Castlecomb and earl of Cornwall; and from her, by Henry Fitzherbert, chamberlain to Henry I., are descended the noble family of Herbert, earls of Pembroke, and other peers of this family;" and Philpot says, from the said "Sybil Corbet are descended the noble family of the Finches, earls of Winchilsea and Nottingham, &c., of the said family." From Alice, another daughter of sir Robert, who m. William Botreaux, of Boscastle, the noble family of the earls of Huntingdon are descended. The said Roger Corbet, brother of Robert, had issue William Corbet, of Wattlesborough and Caus-Castle; and Everard. Their cousin William, (frequently styled Corbet,) was a monk of the above mentioned abbey at Shrewsbury, afterwards prior of Chich, co. Essex, founded in 1120, by Richard de Baums, bishop of London, from whence he was, in 1123, translated to the see of Canterbury, in which he continued till 1136, when he d. during his primacy. Part of his cathedral was burnt, which the archbishop repaired at his own expense, then invited the king, queen, David, king of Scots, and the nobility of both kingdoms, to the dedication, which he celebrated in their presence, May 4, 1130, being Rogation Sunday, with such solemnities, that the like was never equalled since the dedication of the Temple of Jerusalem by Solomon; in and at which dedication the church's name was changed from the church of the Holy Trinity to Christ's Church, which last name it continues to this day. The above-named William, eldest son of the said Roger Corbet, had also 2 sons, Thomas of Wattlesborough, and Robert of Caus.

Thomas, eldest son, who travelled into foreign countries, left his lands in custody of his brother, Robert of Caus. From the said Thomas, of Wattlesborough, are descended the present sir Andrew Corbet, of Moreton-Corbet, bart.; and sir Corbet Corbet, of Stoke and Adderley; and from Robert, of Caus, the Corbets of Leigh and Hope descended, also the Corbets of Newton, Leighton, Slindom, and Longnor. Sir Richard Corbet is in the register of those noblemen and gentlemen who accompanied king Richard I. to the siege of Acon; since which we find nineteen of this family in the rolls of those who served in the several battles, sieges, and actions following: viz. at Agincourt, Grafton, the sacking of Cadiz, and in the several wars against the Welsh, Scots, French, and others, in the reigns of Hen. III., Edw. I., Edw. II., Edw. III., Hen. V., Edw. IV., Hen. VII., and Hen. VIII. In 1192 sir Fulk Corbet was knighted: between which period and 1625, we find seventy-one knights of this family, of which Roger was a knight-banneret 1344. Another Roger was knighted in the field beside Tewkesbury, May 4, ——. Robert was the seventh knight of the bath of fifty-seven knights made at the marriage of prince Arthur 1498. In 1231, upon complaint from Llewellin, prince of Albeth, against Thomas Corbet, and others, the king returns an answer, dated at Baldoff, Feb. 20, eodem anno, whereby he clears him of the said charge. The said Thomas was one of the baron-marchers 1232. To the above-named Thomas, among other baron-marchers, 1237, the king sent his precept, dated March 8, at Tewkesbury, to attend him at Oxford, upon Tuesday next after the octave of Easter, there to consult touching prince Llewellin's taking homage of the great men in Wales: the said Thomas also attended the king 1256 in his expedition into Wales, and had command to assist Hamon L'Estrange in preventing the incursions of the Welsh towards Montgomery; and 1257 to fit himself with horse and arms to attend the king at Chester, on Monday next after the feast of St. John the Baptist, thence to march against the Welsh, then in hostility. The said Thomas, who m. Isabel, daughter of Reginald, and sister sister of Roger Valletort, baron of Haberton, her brother giving with her, in free marriage, thirty-three knights' fees and a half belonging to the said barony; d. in 1291. From him descended Peter Corbet, who had summons forthwith to attend the king, to advise in parliament about the most important affairs of the realm. The said Peter was summoned by writ, dated Canterbury, Oct. 3, 1294, to attend the king's brother at Plymouth, upon All Saints' Day, in order for them to sail thence to carry on the wars in France.

July 15, 1295, Peter Corbet was witness to an instrument in custody of the chamberlain of the exchequer, whereby several noblemen of Scotland renounce a confederacy between the king of France and themselves; and the said Peter was again, 1296, in the wars against France; 1298 he was found to be one of the next heirs of Roger Valletort, a great baron in the west: the same Peter, baron, &c. d. seised of the manor of Denneweston, a member of the barony of Caus, &c., 1299, after having been summoned to parliament in 1294, 6, 8, and 9. From the aforesaid Peter descended Peter Corbet, another baron of the realm, (Thomas d. during the lifetime of his father; and John, b. 1297,) to whom, 1301, the king sent a summons to John, earl of Surrey, and among others, to the said Peter Corbet, concerning his army in Scotland: in 1304 Henry de Pomroy and Peter Corbet made seizin of the manor of Tremington, and the advowson of the church, together with the borough of Aih, the manor of Calistock, and the advowson of the church, and fifty, or fifty-four, knights' fees in Cornwall and Devonshire; which by writ, dated April 6, was sent to the judges; on which occasion was produced a grant from Roger Valletort of the premises, and of Sutton and Makaton to Richard, king of the Romans and earl of Cornwall, and to the heirs of his body, who dying without issue, the king entered upon his lands, against which they prayed relief, which judges remitted their complaint to the parliament, and the parliament remitted it to the judges. The said Peter gave his ancient seat of Newton, formerly called Brown-Castle, a garrison to Caus, and the township thereto thereto belonging, to his nephew sir Robert Corbet, for his great and good services: in 1326 writs were issued, dated at Ramsay, summoning persons to appear at Newcastle-upon-Tyne, the Monday after the Ascension, to attend the king's service in his expedition into Scotland; on which occasion Pryce Corbet, of Caus, was summoned among others: Oct. 2, 1336, Williams, earl of Northampton, was commissioned to treat with Philip, king of France, touching king Edward's right to that crown; on which occasion the said sir Robert Corbet, of Newton, going with the earl, had letters of protection, which protection was afterwards renewed by letters patent, dated at the Tower of London, May 3, 1337: July 14, 1344, the king summoned several to attend him with horse and arms at the feast of St. Laurence, and sail along with him into France; on which occasion a writ was directed to Hugh Courtney, earl of Devon, &c.; Roger Corbet, of the co. Salop, knight and banneret, &c.; and Dec. 5, 1362, Walter Corbet had letters of safe conduct to come to England, with two persons to attend him. In 1401 sir Robert Corbet was the king's chamberlain, and one of the proxies of lady Phillippa, the king's daughter, for her marriage with Errick, king of Denmark; the proxy was dated at the prince of Wales's castle, May 14, 1404; in 1235, Brickmarsh, co. Warwick, was the inheritance of William Corbet, of Chaddesley-Corbet, co. of Worcester. Queen Elizabeth, in 1574, made sir Robert Corbet her envoy to the king of Spain, &c.

In order to point out the descent of the families of Moreton-Corbet, Stoke, and Adderley, the reader must revert to Thomas Corbet, eldest son of William Corbet, of Wattlesborough and Caus, who, while on his travels, left his lands in custody of his brother Robert, of Caus-Castle: this Robert left issue sir Roger, who, by his first wife, was father of sir Richard Corbet, knt., who m. Joan, daughter and heiress of Bartholomew Turret, of Moreton, and had issue Richard, of Moreton, who gave Kinwilton to the monastery of Buldwas, father of sir Robert, who m. 2 wives; 1st, Matilda, daughter of lord of Ideshill, in 1306; and 2dly, Catherine, daughter of

of lord Strange, of Knocking: by his first wife he had issue sir Thomas Corbet, of Moreton, father of sir Robert, who d. in 1374. Sir Roger, his son, m. Margaret, daughter and heiress of Edrington, the lord of Shawbury, and d. in 1394. Robert, his son, m. Margaret, daughter of sir William Malleroy, knt., d. in 1439, leaving issue sir Roger Corbet, knt., who m. Elizabeth, daughter of Walter, lord Ferrars, of Chartley, (which Elizabeth m., 2dly, sir Thomas Leighton, of Wattlesborough,) and was father of sir Robert Corbet, who m. Elizabeth, daughter of sir Henry Vernon, of Haddon, and had issue, 1. sir Roger, of whom hereafter; 2. Richard, m. the daughter of —— Saville, esq., d. without issue; 3. Reginald, one of the judges of the court of common-pleas temp. Elizabeth, who m. Grace, daughter of John Gratewood, esq., whose grandson, John Corbet, was created a baronet 1627; and from whom descended sir Corbet Corbet, of Stoke and Adderley. Sir Roger, eldest son, m. Anne, daughter of Andrew, lord Windsor, and had issue sir Andrew Corbet, knt., who m. Anne, daughter of sir Robert Needham, knt., and had issue, 1. sir Robert, m. Anne, daughter of Oliver, 1st lord St. John, of Bletsoe, and had Elizabeth, who m. sir Henry Wallop, knt., (ancestor of the earls of Portsmouth,) and Anne, m. Adolphus Cary, esq.; 2. sir Richard, K.B., m., but d. without issue; and 3. sir Vincent, who m. Frances, daughter of William Hamfreston, of Hamfreston, esq., and had issue sir Andrew Corbet, of Moreton-Corbet, knt., d. 1637, leaving issue by Elizabeth, daughter of William Boothby, esq., 2 sons, sir Vincent, knt.; and Richard Corbet, of Shawbury, esq., and afterwards of Moreton-Corbet, as heir to his great nephew, sir Vincent Corbet: he d. 1690, having m. Grace, daughter of sir William Noel, of Kirby-Mallory, co. Leicester, who d. in 1687, leaving issue Richard Corbet, of Shawbury-Park; and Moreton-Corbet, who d. 1710, having m. Judith, daughter of sir John Bridgman, of Castle-Bromwich, co. of Warwick, bart., leaving issue Andrew-Corbet, m. Frances, daughter of William Prynce, of Shrewsbury, esq., by whom (who d. in 1760) had issue 2 sons, viz. Andrew, d. unm., April

April 21, 1796; and Richard-Prynce; by whom, at his decease, in 1757, he was succeeded by Richard-Prynce Corbet, esq., 2d son, d. Jan. 30, 1799, having m. Mary, daughter and heiress of John Wicksted, of Wem, co. Salop, esq., by whom he had a son, sir Andrew; and a daughter, Mary, m. Moreton-Aglionby Slaney, of Shifnal, esq.

WOOD, of GATTON, co. Surrey.

Oct. 3, 1808.

Sir MARK WOOD, created a Baronet, as above, holds the rank of Colonel in the East India Company's service, and M.P. for Gatton. Sir Mark, on the decease of John Wood, Esq., late Governor and Captain-General of the Isle of Man, without issue male, became the heir male and representative of the ancient Woods of Largo, and chief of the name; and, Aug. 18, 1809, Sir Mark obtained a grant from the Lyon-Office, Edinburgh, of the arms granted to Sir William: married ——, and has issue, Mark, M.P. for Gatton in the last Parliament; ment; and Rachael, m., June 13, 1818, William-Joseph Lockwood, of Dews-Hall, co. Essex, Esq.

There have been several families of this name in North Britain, from which country the present family derives its origin, the Woods of Colpny, co. Aberdeen; of Boynton, baronets; of Craig, of Largo, of Grange-haugh, &c.; all of whom bore trees or boughs in their armorial bearings, in allusion to their ancient name, de Boreo, so written in various early evidences, writs, and records, particularly in a charter of king William to the town of Inverness, in the 2d year of his reign, and several charters of king Alexander II.; in the former of which we find the names of Willielmus de Boreo, cancellarius regis, and Hugo de Boreo, mentioned as witnesses; and in the latter, Thomas de Boreo, in the same capacity. The immediate ancestor of the branch of the Woods now under consideration was Alexander Wood, of Perth, co. Fife, esq., a lineal descendant from the Woods of Largo, who d. 1778, leaving issue, 1. sir Mark, present baronet; 2. George, colonel in the Bengal infantry; 3. sir James, knt., entered at an early age into the R.N.; in December 1806, he was appointed to assist in the expedition destined against Curaçoa, which surrendered to the British arms in Jan. 1807: he was second in command on this gallant enterprise; for his spirited conduct in which he received a gold medal and the honour of knighthood.

Andrew, who entered into the R.N. at the same time with his brother, sir James, and went to India some time subsequent to the peace in 1783. At the period when a war was expected with Spain, he was sent, by order of government, in the command, as a lieutenant of a small vessel, to the Streights of Sunda, for the purpose of informing thirty rich East India ships of the circumstance. Unfortunately his ship was wrecked at the entrance of the Streights, and with difficulty he and his crew escaped to the shore: impressed, however, with a strong sense of the importance of his mission, he took an open boat, and in defiance of the elements and of the Malays, (who murdered more than half of his crew,) he cruised in the Streights during three months, and succeeded in giving the necessary information to twenty-nine sail out of the thirty. Approving highly of his diligence and intrepidity, marquess Cornwallis, sir Archibald Campbell, and sir William Meadows, K.B., concurred in recommending him for promotion. Anxious to reach England, Mr. Wood bought a boat of less than 5 tons, had her decked, and with 3 Lascars on board, embarked for the Cape of Good Hope, where he safely arrived after a passage of 63 days. Not finding any ship at the Cape that was proceeding to England, conceiving the most perilous part of his voyage to be over, he again embarked in his small boat with three foreign seamen; but, to the deep regret of all who knew him, he has never since been heard of. The 5th son was Thomas, who d. abroad.

I. Sir MARK, the eldest son, was created a baronet Oct. 3, 1808.

OUSELEY, of CLARAMONT, co. Herts.

Oct. 5, 1808.

Sir GORE OUSELEY, Bart., Knight of the Russian Order of St. Alexander Neuski, Knight of the Sun and Lion of Persia; born June 24, 1770; married, April 12, 1806, Harriet-Georgiana, daughter of John Whitelocke, Esq., and has issue, 1. Mary-Jane, b. March 28, 1807; 2. Wellesley-Abbas, b. at Tabriz, (ancient Tauris,) Aug. 3, 1813; and Alexandrine, b. at St. Petersburgh, Oct. 6, 1814: the Ceremony of the Baptism was performed Nov. 30, in the Palace of the Empress Dowager of all the Russias, who was one of the Sponsors. Sir Gore was (March (March 10, 1810) appointed Ambassador Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary at the Court of his Majesty the King of Persia.

The family of Ouseley, Ousley, Owesley, and, according to the crude orthography of early times, is of high antiquity, and was formerly divided into many branches. The principal stock, or elder line, seems to have fixed themselves in Shropshire; and to have intermarried with several ancient houses, as the Brays, Conways, Staffords, Salisburys, &c. Richard Ouseley, the undoubted ancestor of the present baronet, who, in 1571, we find lord of the manor of Courtein-Hall, co. Northampton, m., 1st, the relict of sir Miles Partridge, and by her had no issue: and 2dly, Magdalen, daughter of John Wake, and by her (who survived him 9 years) had 12 children. This John was grandson of Roger Wake, of Blisworth, co. Northampton, who was distinguished by the appellation of "the great Wake;" and through this marriage the posterity of Richard Ouseley descended from many of the most ancient and illustrious families in England. It appears from the will of Richard Ouseley, which was proved in the prerogative court of Canterbury, that he received the manor of Courtein-Hall in gift from the crown; and he speaks of it in that document as a very inadequate reward for "50 years' service;" probably in the army; he d. July 10, 1580.

John Ouseley, the eldest of his numerous issue, succeeded to his estates, and was knighted by James I., July 23, 1603. He embraced in early life the military profession, and is frequently mentioned by the more minute historians of that period as captain of 100 men. It appears from "Purchas's Pilgrim," (vol. i. p. 1925) that, in 1589, the earl of Essex, then commanding the English in Portugal, sent captain Ouseley, (undoubtedly the gentleman of whom we are speaking,) envoy to the emperor of Morocco: he m. Martha, daughter of Bartholomew Tate, of Delapré Abbey, near Northampton, esq., (the present seat of Edward Bouverie, esq.,) and dying in the prime of life at the siege of Breda, where he had a command, was buried at Williamstadt.

Sir

Sir John was succeeded by his eldest son, Richard, who, about the year 1650, sold the manor of Courtein-Hall to sir William Jones, knt., who bequeathed it to William Wake, esq., from whom it passed, by inheritance, to sir William Wake, bart., the present possessor. Richard Ouseley m. Mary, daughter of Mark Parker, of Olney, or Underwood, co. Bucks, esq.; and Richard, his son, was b. at Courtein-Hall, 1625, and dying without issue, was succeeded by his next brother, Jasper, who m. Sarah, daughter of —— Chambers, of the kingdom of Ireland, and left a son, Jasper, b. in 1660, and d. 1755, having m. Dorothy, daughter of the rev. James Johnstone, of North Britain. William Ouseley, the son of this 2d Jasper, b. 1693, m., 1st, Elizabeth, daughter of —— Morley, co. of Carmarthen, and had issue, William, b. 1727, who m. Priscilla, daughter of William Gray, esq., and by her had Elizabeth, (who is now living) the relict of Robert Wills, esq.; by his 2d marriage, (Feb. 7, 1739-40) with Margaret, daughter of George Lee, co. York, esq., he had Ralph, father of the present baronet, who m. Elizabeth, daughter of Henry Holland, of Limerick, esq., and dying Feb. 18, 1803, left issue, 1. sir William, LL.D., the eldest son, who was knighted under the viceroyalty of the marquess Cornwallis; author of several learned oriental works; and who, with every natural and acquired qualification to render him assistance, accompanied his brother, sir Gore, in his embassy to the court of Persia; m., March 6, 1796, Julia-Frances, daughter of the late lieutenant-colonel John Irving, and has issue, William-Gore, b. July 26, 1797; Julia-Frances, b. June 18, 1799; John-Ralph, b. May 12, 1801; Eliza-Martha, b. May 28, 1803; Amelia, b. Jan. 5, 1806; Richard, b. June 29, 1809; 2. sir Gore, present baronet; 3. Eliza, relict of the rev. Robert Warren, by whom she has several sons and daughters; and 4. Alice, unm.

I. Sir GORE, second son, created a baronet Oct. 3, 1808.

Arms—Or, a chevron, sable, between three holly leaves, vert, a chief, sable.

 Crest—

Crest—A wolf's head erased, sable, out of a ducal coronet, holding in his mouth a bleeding hand, gules.

Motto—Mors lupi agnis vita.

Arms—See plate 50.

HOOD, of TIDLAKE, co. Surrey.

April 13, 1809.

Sir ALEXANDER HOOD, Bart., succeeded his uncle, Sir Samuel, Dec. 24, 1814; married, Aug. 3, 1815, Amelia-Anne, youngest daughter of Sir Hugh Bateman, Bart., and has issue a son and heir, b. Oct. 23, 1816; a daughter, b. Feb. 4, 1818.

The first of this family on record is Alexander Hood, of Mosterton, co. Dorset, who m. Elizabeth, daughter of the rev. Mr. Beach, and had issue, 1. Alexander; 2. Arthur, in holy orders, d. unm.; 3. Samuel, in holy orders; 4. Elizabeth; and 5. Hannah. Alexander, the eldest son, succeeded at Mosterton, having m. Anne Way, and had issue, Arthur, who sold the estate at Mosterton, d. unm.; and Samuel Hood, of Kingsland, co. Dorset, esq., who m. Anne, daughter of James Bern, of Westbury, co. Wilts, esq., and had issue, 1. Arthur, who was unfortunately drowned in the Pomona sloop, which foundered in a hurricane on the Leeward Island station in 1775; 2. Alexander, m. miss Elizabeth Periam, an heiress, and had issue, sir Alexander, present baronet, captain R.N., who, after having circumnavigated the globe, with captain Cook, and served many years with indefatigable zeal and great reputation, was killed on board the Mars, April 21, 1798, at the close of a successful action with the French ship l'Hercule, (a victory that will ever exalt the national glory of Great Britain,) leaving sir Alexander, the present baronet, and a widow to deplore the loss of a most affectionate husband and parent; and 3. sir Samuel, K.B., K.T.S., and K.F., anxious anxious to pursue the paths of naval honour chalked out before him, entered at the age of 14 as midshipman on board the Courageux, then commanded by Samuel, the present viscount Hood. In this ship, and the Robust, commanded by the late viscount Bridport, K.B., he remained until 1779; having, in 1798, been present, in the latter ship, at the capture of the two French frigates, the Pallas and the Licorne; and in the same year shared in the memorable engagement between admiral Keppel and D'Orvilliers, when he had the honour of serving as aide-de-camp to the captain of the Robust.

In 1780, Mr. Hood having removed to the Lively sloop, was present at the capture of la Duchesse de Chaitres, a French privateer, after a short action. At the latter end of this year, lord Hood having hoisted a rear-admiral's flag in the Barfleur, Mr. Hood accompanied him as acting lieutenant and lieutenant until the 31st of Jan. 1782, (when he was promoted to the rank of commander, and appointed to the Renard sloop,) intermediately exerting himself in the battle with De Grasse, off Martinique, April 29, 1781; in that of the Chesapeake on the following 5th of September; and in the actions at St. Kitts on the 25th and 26th of January. Notwithstanding his recent appointment, as the Renard was only a convalescent ship, he was present at the actions of the 9th and 12th of April, 1782; and on the 19th of the same month, at the capture of a French squadron in the Mona passage. During this year also he met with a very serious accident: when the Barfleur was lying in Port Royal harbour, in Jamaica, a fire having broken out in a merchantman not very distant, captain Hood was actively employed in the hold in making some necessary clearance to enable the Barfleur to escape out of the reach of the flames, when a hawser, suddenly removed from the spot where he stood, materially injured one of his legs, the consequences of which he feels to this day.

From this period, in consequence of the peace, captain Hood was placed in a state of inactivity, until 1785, when he was appointed to the Weazle sloop, and directed to survey the coasts and harbours on the Halifax station. For his vigilance and activity in this service he obtained a post-captain's commission, and the command of the Thisbe frigate; in which he returned to England in 1789. In 1790 he was appointed to the Juno, and ordered to Jamaica: on this station, however, nothing particular occurred until the following year, when, at his personal risk, in a small boat, and in a violent hurricane, he had the gratification of rescuing three men from a wreck at sea. Perceiving some hesitation on the part of his sailors to dare the waves, he was the first to enter the boat, undauntedly exclaiming, "I never gave an order to a sailor in my life which I was not ready to undertake and execute myself."

For this gallant and humane exertion, the government of Jamaica remitted the sum of 100 guineas, for the purchase of a sword, to their agent in London; which, on captain Hood's return to England, in 1791, was presented to him, accompanied by the most flattering testimonies. Captain Hood enjoyed an interval of relaxation until 1793, when being reappointed to his old ship, the Juno, and ordered up the Mediterranean, he was very actively employed, and had a very narrow escape, in consequence of entering Toulon harbour after its evacuation by his noble relative. Never, perhaps, was greater presence of mind exhibited by a commander and his crew than in this imminent peril.

Early in the following year, captain Hood was employed in the reduction of the island of Curaçoa, during which he superintended the exertions of the British seamen on shore, and rendered the greater service in the attack on Bastia, aad the capture of Calvi: on which latter occasion he served in l'Aigle frigate. Captain Hood was next employed, in the same vessel, in the command of a small squadron in the Archipelago, for protecting the trade, and blockading a squadron of the enemy's frigates of equal force at Smyrna. For his exertions in effecting these important purposes, he received the thanks of the Levant company, and British factory at Smyrna, conveyed in the most handsome manner.

In 1796, captain Hood was appointed to the Zealous, of of 74 guns, in which, during that year, he was actively employed under sir John Jervis, (now earl of St. Vincent, K.B. and K.T.S.,) off Toulon; and by his spirited and judicious conduct in effecting the return of the British troops and seamen from their disastrous attack, he had the satisfaction to endear himself to that gallant officer, and to his country. In 1798, captain Hood was employed in blockading the port of Rochefort; and afterwards despatched to reinforce the squadron of earl Nelson, previous to the battle of the Nile, in which captain Hood bore a most prominent part, he being the first to push on against the enemy, and capturing le Guerrier in 12 minutes from the commencement of the fire of the Zealous, without the loss of a man, or the slightest injury. He next engaged alone the four French ships which escaped, until called off by signal, sustaining loss in the unequal conflict of only one man killed, and seven wounded. Captain Hood was subsequently honoured with the thanks of both houses of parliament, and was presented with a sword by the city of London.

After this victory off Aboukir, admiral Nelson proceeded to Naples, and left captain Hood in the command of a squadron on the coast of Egypt: with this force he kept the port of Alexandria closely blockaded. He also contributed, in a material degree, to the interests of England by his amicable communications with all the pachas and governors under the grand seignior, and particularly with Jozzar, the celebrated pacha of Acre. While on this station, he took and destroyed more than 30 sail of the enemy's transports; and was honoured by the grand seignior with a very valuable snuff-box.

In 1799, captain Hood joined lord Nelson at Palermo, and was employed in reducing the Sicilians to obedience and expelling the French out of the kingdom of Naples. At Salerno, with only 40 marines belonging to the Zealous, captain Hood kept in check a force of 3,000 men, who were attacking that place: twice also he drove the French out of Salerno by the fire from the Zealous. Captain Hood was afterwards employed on shore at Naples, in taking charge of castle Nuovo, and kept the city perfectly quiet during the sieges of St. Elmo and of Capua. His Sicilian majesty acknowledged these services by presenting him with a valuable box, and at the same time conferring on him the rank of commander of the order of St. Ferdinand and of Merit.

In 1800, he was appointed to the Courageux, of 74 guns; in which he was, for some time, actively employed in the Channel fleet. The Courageux afterwards formed part of a detached squadron under sir John-Borlase Warren, K.B., at Ferrol and Vigo, until Jan. 1801, at which period captain Hood removed into the Venerable, another 74 gun ship. After some intermediate services, he was in the action of the 6th July at Algesiras under sir James Saumarez. The failure of success in this battle arose entirely from the winds failing: the Venerable had 8 men killed and 25 wounded on this occasion. After this action, Linois, the French commander, was reinforced with 5 Spanish sail of the line. Notwithstanding the crippled state of the English ships, sir James Saumarez determined to follow up the enemy: he did so, and a glorious victory, in which captain Hood bore a distinguished part, was the consequence. The Venerable lost all her masts, and had 30 men killed and 100 wounded. Captain Hood had afterwards the satisfaction of receiving the particular thanks of the lords of the admiralty, in addition to the unanimous thanks of both houses of parliament, for his great and extraordinary exertions.

In 1802 he was appointed a joint commissioner of the Isle of Trinidad, and on the death of rear-admiral Totty, was appointed commander-in-chief on the Barbadoes and Leeward Island station. On the recommencement of hostilities, in conjunction with general Grenfield, he captured the islands of St. Lucia and Tobago, and totally destroyed the enemy's trade in those seas. He next, in conjunction with the same general, captured Demarara, Isequibo, and Berbice, and then reduced Surinam. He also took and destroyed an infinite number of the enemy's privateers and ships of war on the Leeward island station; and protected trade in all quarters, to the entire satisfaction of all parties.

For these numerous and signal services he was appointed a knight of the military order of the Bath.

In 1805, sir Samuel Hood returned to England, having previously received the most gratifying addresses from the respective legislative assemblies, and accompanied by elegant services of plate, as presents from the Leeward islands and Barbadoes. After his return, sir Samuel was appointed a colonel of marines; and early in 1806 he received an appointment to the Centaur, under the orders of the earl of St. Vincent, who gave him the command of seven sail of the line, and other vessels, to watch the enemy at Rochefort. After some months' perseverance in this service, he fell in with a squadron of the enemy, consisting of five large frigates and two corvettes, full of troops: in the action which ensued, sir Samuel was severely wounded, and was afterwards under the necessity of having his right arm amputated: he succeeded, however, in capturing four of the frigates, notwithstanding only three of his ships, the Centaur, Monarch, and Mars, were able to come up with the enemy. For his gallant conduct, and in consideration of the severe injury he had received, his majesty was pleased to order sir Samuel Hood a pension of 500*l.* per annum. Soon after this period sir Samuel Hood's professional services having acquired him a great degree of popularity, he had the honour of being returned as one of the members for the city of Westminster: and on April 13, 1809, he was created a baronet.

I. The gallant sir SAMUEL, G.C.B., K.M.T., and K.F., and vice-admiral of the white, created a baronet April 13, 1809; m. Mary-Frederica-Elizabeth Mackenzie, daughter of Francis, lord Seaforth, on whose death, 1815, the title became extinct. Sir Samuel d. at Madras June 13, 1815, and was succeeded, agreeable to the limitation of the patent, by his nephew, BAIRD, of Yardley, Bury, co. Herts; and Fernton, co. Perth.

April 13, 1809.

Sir DAVID BAIRD, Bart., so created as above, (with remainder, in default of issue male, to his brother Robert, of Newbyth, co. of East Lothian,) G.C.B. and K.C., a General in the Army, and Colonel 24th Regiment of Foot: married, Aug. 4, 1810, Miss Preston Campbell, of Fernton and Locklane, co. of Perth.

In 1680 two branches of this family were advanced to the dignity of the Baronetage of North Britain; viz. Baird, of Saughton-Hall, co. of Mid-Lothian; and Baird, son of sir John Baird, of Newbyth, knt., which latter title is extinct.

Sir John Baird, of Newbyth, 2d baronet, m. Janet, sole daughter of sir David Dalrymple, of Hailes, bart., lord-advocate of North Britain, 5th son of John, 1st viscount Stair, (who m., 2dly, general James Sinclair, of Dysart,) and by her had no issue. Sir John d. in 1746, having, 1737, entailed his estates on his cousin, William Baird, esq., (eldest son of William Baird, one of the baillies of Edinburgh, and city-treasurer, 2d son of sir Robert Baird, of Saughton-Hall, knt.,) m. Alicia, 4th daughter of —— Johnstone, of Hiltown, co. Berwick, esq., and by her had issue, 1. William; 2. Robert, m. ——, daughter of David Gavin, of Langton, by Elizabeth, sister of James Maitland, 7th earl of Lauderdale, and had issue; John, 3d son, midshipman of the Glasgow, gow, d. a few days after the attack on Algiers, by a wound on the head, Sept. 1816; 3. John; 4. James, d. unm.; 5. sir David, G.C.B. and K.C., present baronet; 6. Joseph, major-general in the army, d. at the Cape of Good Hope, April 4, 1816, having m., Feb. 27, 1802, the hon. Hester-Charlotte Tonson, eldest daughter of William, lord Riversdale, (by Rose Bernard, eldest sister of Francis, earl of Bandon,) and has issue, William, b. Feb. 5, 1803; Charlotte, b. June 4, 1804; Alicia; Esther; Sidney; and David; 7. Mary, m. Feb. 2, 1770, John Erskine, of Dunn, esq., by whom she was mother of Margaret, countess of Cassilis; 8. Catherine, m., Dec. 30, 1776, James Rainie, esq.; 9. Janet; 10. Alicia, m., Sept. 26, 1776, captain Andrew Wauchope, and has issue, Andrew and William; 11. Sydney; 12. Susanna; 13. Anne, m., Jan. 17, 1790, George Gordon, of Halhead, esq.; and 14. Charles, m., June 18, 1782, George, lord Haddo, son of George, 3d earl of Aberdeen.

I. Sir DAVID, 5th son, was created a baronet April 13, 1809, who choosing a military profession at an early period, passed through its ascending gradations with increased reputation, until he attained the rank of major-general, (June 23, 1798) being then lieutenant-colonel 71st foot: Nov. 2, 1805, he became a lieutenant-general; and in 1814 he attained the rank of a general. Sir David has distinguished himself on several important occasions. At Seringapatam he headed the storming party, which tore his metropolis from the hands of the perfidious Tippoo Sultaun. As commander-in-chief he captured the Cape of Good Hope: in Egypt his gallantry was such as to procure for him the order of the Bath, (Aug. 18, 1804) and the insignia of the order of the Crescent from the Ottoman Porte. At the bombardment of Copenhagen he was wounded in the shoulder and arm: and in the battle of Corunna he lost his arm immediately after the fall of the gallant sir John Moore, K.B.

Arms—Gules in chief, within an incresant an etoile of light points, argent, (in allusion to the badge of the Ottoman order,) in base, a boar passant, or; on a canton, canton, ermine, a sword erect, proper, pommel and hilt gold.

Seats—Yardley Bury, co. of Herts; and Fernton, co. of Perth.

SEYMOUR, of HIGH-MOUNT, co. Cork; and of FRIERY-PARK, co. Devon.

May 31, 1809.

Sir MICHAEL SEYMOUR, Bart., born Nov. 8, 1768; married Jane, 3d daughter of Captain James Hawker, R.N., and has issue, 1. Jane-Ward, b. Oct. 26, 1798: 2. John-Hobart, b. March 4, 1800; 3. James, b. July 26, 1801; 4. Michael, b. Dec. 3, 1802; 5. Edward, b. Oct. 5, 1804; 6. Richard, b. March 2, 1806; 7. Frances-Anne, b. Aug. 14, 1807; and 8. Dorothea, b. Sept. 4, 1809.

Sir Michael being attached to the R.N., commenced his professional career in Nov. 1780, under the auspices of the Hon. Captain James Luttrell, brother of Henry, Earl of Carhampton: in Nov. 1790, he received his promotion as Lieutenant in the Magnificent; and in Earl Howe's memorable action, June 1, 1794, he was

junior Lieutenant on board the Marlborough, commanded by the Hon. Admiral George Berkeley, (now Sir George Berkeley, G.C.B.): in this action he was so severely wounded, that he suffered the loss of his left arm; and his sufferings were marked with peculiar severity. In 1806, on Lord Barham's promotion to the office of First Lord of the Admiralty, he was appointed to the Command of the Amethyst Frigate: this Frigate having been cruising off l'Orient 14 weeks, when on the Night of Nov. 10, 1808, the French Frigate, La Thetis, was discovered, which, after a gallant resistance, was captured: which action, for gallantry, skill, and courage, has never been exceeded; and of which his Majesty was pleased to signify his approbation by presenting Captain Seymour with a Gold Medal; the Committee of the Patriotic Fund at Lloyd's Coffee-House voted him One Hundred Guineas; the Mayor, Aldermen, Sheriffs, &c. of Limerick, voted him the Freedom of that City in a Silver Box, " for his very great gallantry and ability in the capture of La Thetis." The next instance of naval gallantry accomplished by Captain Seymour was exhibited in the capture of Le Niemen French Frigate of 44 guns, on the 16th of April, 1809; the Niemen was laden with provisions and naval stores for the Isle of France, and had just sailed from Verdun Roads, when, in the forenoon of the 5th of April, she was discovered by the Amethyst, and closely pursued, but was lost sight of in the course of the evening; and at half past nine she crossed a vessel; but her extraordinary sailing prevented any encounter from taking place: from one to three in the morning of the 6th, the vessels having neared, the action was severe; after which which the Enemy's main and mizen masts fell, and his fire was just silenced when the Arethusa appeared, and, on her firing, the Niemen immediately made a signal of having surrendered: the capture proved to be the same Frigate as had been observed on the preceding day, and which had been recommended to Captain Seymour's notice in Letters from the Board of Admiralty. The main and mizen masts of the Amethyst fell at the close of the action, and she had 8 men killed and 73 wounded; her foremast fell the next day, and she was left in tow of the Arethusa. May 13, 1809, he was created a Baronet of Great Britain, for his gallantry in capturing two of the Enemy's Frigates of superior force.

John Seymour, rector of Palace, co. of Limerick, m. the youngest daughter of William Hobart, of High-Mount, co. Cork, (descended from sir John Hobart, co. Wilts,) and had issue, 1. William-Hobart, d. 1797; 2. sir Michael, present baronet; 3. John, in holy orders; 4. Frances, d. 1805; 5. Richard, who fell nobly in March 1806, at the close of the action between the Amazon frigate, captain Parker, (of which he was the 1st lieutenant,) and the Belle Poule, French frigate.

I. Sir MICHAEL, created a baronet May 31, 1809.

Arms—Azure, a pair of wings conjoined in pale, surmounted of a naval crown, or, on a canton, argent, an anchor, sable.

Crest—On a naval crown, or, two brands in saltire, inflamed at the ends, proper, thereon an eagle rising, also proper, looking at a sun, or.

Arms—See plate 50.

Seats—High-Mount, co. Cork; and Friery-Park, co. Devon.

SHAW, of KILMARNOCK, co. Ayr, North Britain.

Sept. 21, 1809.

Sir JAMES-SHAW, Bart., a merchant in London, one of the Aldermen; President of St. Bartholomew's Hospital; a Director of the West-India Docks, and of the Imperial Insurance Company; a Visitor of the London Institution; a Vice-President of the London Lying-in-Hospital; born at Riccarton, Aug. 26, 1764. Sir James commanded the Volunteers of his (Portsoken) Ward, in 1798 and 1803; in 1798 he was elected Alderman of the same Ward; in 1803 he served the office of sheriff, and it was greatly owing to his personal exertions that the peace of the County of Middlesex was preserved during the violent contest between Sir Francis Burdett, Bart., and Mr. Mainwaring, Jun., for the Representation of that County in Parliament: in 1805 he was elected to the Mayoralty: in this year the grand national funeral of the immortal Nelson was solemnized in St. Paul's Cathedral; and on this occasion the Lord Mayor had the singular honour and good fortune to obtain for his Fellow-Citizens the King's Warrant of Precedency within the walls of his jurisdiction over every other Subject of the Realm, however elevated his rank. The hospitality, splendour, and magnificence of the Mansion-House, House, during this period, were particularly distinguished: his Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, and all his royal brothers, and an unprecedented assemblage of high rank, character, and talent, of both sexes, graced the city with their presence at the Easter festival: he is also said to have been the first Lord Mayor who procured a Library for the Chief Magistrate, by a vote of the Corporation expressly for the purpose. On the day previous to his quitting the civic Chair he was returned by the Livery to be one of their Representatives in Parliament for the City of London, when he polled 2275 votes; and at the next general Election, in the Spring of 1807, he had the honour to be returned a second time with 2863 votes.

The present baronet is a cadet of a respectable family in the co. of Ayr, which has been established at Mosshead, in the parish of Riccarton, during upwards of 300 years. BLENNER-

BLENNERHASSETT, of BLENNERVILLE, co. Kerry.
Sept. 22, 1809.

Sir ROWLAND BLENNERHASSETT, Bart., born 1741; married Mellicent-Agnes, daughter of Richard Yielding, of Bellevue, co. of Limerick, Esq., and has issue, 1. Robert, m. his cousin, Rosanna, daughter of the late Arthur Blennerhassett, Esq., brother of Sir Rowland; 2. Richard-Francis, m. Agnes, eldest daughter of the late Sir Barry Denny, the elder Baronet; 3. Arthur, m. Helena-Jane, daughter of Thomas, Lord Ventry; 4. Rowland, m. Letitia, eldest daughter of John Harley, Esq., descended from Sir Thomas Harley, of Knocklong; and 5. William, m. Elizabeth, daughter of Richard Blennerhassett, Esq.

The Blennerhassetts of Ireland are related by intermarriages to almost every family of respectability in the co. of Kerry; several of the younger branches have been returned members for the co. of Kerry; and, at one period, colonel John Blennerhassett, of Ballyseedy, father of the house of commons, and 2 of his sons, were returned to the same parliament, the 2 former as knights for Kerry, and the latter for Tralee; two of the same family were judges of the court of king's bench in Ireland; and there was also, of the same name, sir Thomas Blennerhassett, lord-chief-baron, and one of the privy-council, who d. Oct. 14, 1624, and was buried in St. Patrick's Church, Dublin.

Thomas Blennerhassett, esq., who, when considerably advanced in years, emigrated from Flinby, co. of Cumberland, during the reign of queen Elizabeth, and settled co. Kerry, as an undertaker in the plantations of the province of Munster, (then forfeited by the earl of Desmond) having obtained the grant of a considerable estate there, from that queen, which still remains in the Blennerhassett family: from him descended all the Blennerhassetts in Ireland, it is presumed, through his son, Robert

Robert Blennerhassett, esq., a companion of his father in his emigration, with Arthur Denny, sir William Herbert, and Jenkin Conway, who all settled co. Kerry. This Robert m. Elizabeth, daughter of the above-named Jenkin Conway, (who obtained also a grant of lands in the same county) by whom he had Elizabeth, m. captain George Norton, of Meygh-Castle, co. Clare, and 3 sons: 1. John, his heir; 2. Edward, m. Mary Vauclier, a descendant from lord Vauclier, of France, mentioned by Philip de Comminies in his History, by whom he had an only daughter, Anne, m. John Baker, of Castle-Eve, co. Kilkenny, esq.; and 3. Arthur, m. Mary, eldest daughter of Garrett Fitzgerald, of Ballynard, co. Limerick, esq., by whom he had 7 sons and 3 daughters. John Blennerhassett, the eldest son, succeeded his father, and became a knight of the shire, co. Kerry, m. Martha Lyn, by whom he had issue, 1. John, his heir; 2. Robert; 3. Thomas; 4. Mary, m. Thomas Wren, esq.; 5. Alice, m. Edmond Conway, of Clochane, esq.; and 6. Lucy, m. John Walker, an officer in the English army, employed in the reduction of Ireland, 1641. Robert, 2d son, m. Alice Conway, daughter and co-heiress of Jenkin Conway, esq., by whom he acquired the greater part of the estates granted to the first-named John Conway, and had issue, 1. John, his heir; 2. Thomas, m. Jane, daughter of —— Darby, of Wales, esq.; and had issue; and 3. Henry, m. Dorcas, daughter of Thomas Crump, of Killarney, esq., and had issue, 1. Arthur, who went to France, and became a doctor of the Sourbonne; and 2. Robert, m. Frances, daughter of Richard Yielding, esq.,(by Belinda Bateman) by whom he had issue, 1. sir Rowland, present baronet; 2. Arthur, (who m. Catherine, daughter of James Nixon, of Tralee, esq., and had issue, Robert, and Rosanna, m. Robert Blennerhassett, esq., eldest son of the present baronet); 3. Belinda; 4. Alice; 5. Mildred; and 6. Sarah.

I. Sir ROWLAND, the eldest son, was created a baronet Sept. 22, 1809.

CONGREVE,

CONGREVE, of WALTON, co. Stafford. Dec. 7, 1812.

Sir WILLIAM CONGREVE, Bart., Equerry to his Royal Highness the Prince Regent, Representative in Parliament for the Borough of Gatton, co. of Surrey, in 1812, and in the present Parliament, for Plymouth, Comptroller of the Royal Laboratory, and Superintendant of Military Machines, was the Inventor of the Rocket System, which he succeeded in establishing as a permanent branch of the military and naval tactics of the country, and for the important service performed by which, in the memorable battle of Leipsic, he was presented with the Order of St. Anne by the Emperor Alexander; born May 20, 1772, and succeeded his father, Lieutenant-General Sir William, April 30, 1814; to whose public offices he was also appointed.

The family of Congreve is of Saxon origin; the ancestor of it settled co. Stafford, when Mercia was formed the 6th kingdom of the heptarchy, anno Domini 584.

In the roll of Winton, or Doomsday-book, which was made in the 18th year of king William I.'s reign, anno Domini 1078, the family estate at Congreve, near Stretton, co. Stafford, is particularly described; which estate still remains in the possession of the family.

When king Richard I. (Cœur de Lion) went on the crusade to the Holy Land, 1190, Galfrid Congreve, being a military man, attended the king on that occasion; and on his journey from Ostend to Marseilles he m. —— Dawbridgecourt, of Hainhault, from which family were descended sir Launcelot Dawbridgecourt, one of the first knights of the garter, 24th Edward III., 1350, and sir John Dawbridgecourt, who was a knight of the same order, temp. Henry V.

In the reign of Edward II. Roger de Congreve m. Isolda le Champion, daughter of William le Champion, of Sardon, co. Stafford, and grand-daughter of sir Richard de Stretton; de Stretton; by which marriage the manors of Stretton and Sardon came into the family. 1605, Francis Congreve, of Stretton and Congreve, co. Stafford, m. Dorothy, daughter of Richard Brooke, of Lapley, co. Stafford, esq., whose eldest son, Richard, b. at Stretton and Congreve in 1609, m. Anne, daughter of Anthony Fitzherbert, of Norbury, co. Derby, esq., and sister and co-heir of sir John Fitzherbert, by whom he had 4 sons and 8 daughters. From the eldest son of this marriage, John Congreve, of Stretton and Congreve, b. 1636, and Mary, daughter of Thomas Nicholls, of Boycot, co. Salop, esq., descended the present family; and William, second son of the said Richard Congreve, and Anne Fitzherbert, b. 1637, was the father of William Congreve, the celebrated poet, baptised at Bardsey, co. York, 1669.

Stretton continued the residence of the family from the time of Edward II. till 1725. This family suffered greatly by its attachment to the royal party during the civil wars.

John Congreve, aforesaid, and Mary Nicholls, had issue eight sons. The eldest son, John Congreve, b. at Haywood-Park, co. Stafford, 1666, who m. Abigail Harwood, was the grandfather of William Congreve, of Aldermanston, co. Berks, esq., the present possessor of the family estate of Congreve, b. 1777; m. Mary, daughter of sir William Pepperell, bart. William Congreve, of Aldermanston, esq., has a brother, Richard Congreve, of Burton, co. Chester; and a sister, Marianne Congreve, of Iscoyd-Park, co. Flint, now living.

The 5th son of John Congreve and Mary Nicholls was Ralph Congreve, b. 1668, at Haywood-Park, a colonel in the army, and lieutenant-governor and commandant of Gibraltar, whose eldest son, Ralph Congreve, m. Charlotte, daughter of William lord Stawell and Elizabeth his wife, niece and sole heiress of the last sir Humphrey Forster, by which marriage he became possessed of this manor, granted to the ancestor of sir H. Forster by Henry I. about the year 1100.

The 6th son of John Congreve and Mary Nicholls aforesaid, was William Congreve, of Highgate, co. Middlesex, esq., b. also at Haywood-Park, 1670, m. Mary Nicholls, Nicholls, daughter of —— Nicholls, of Prentre-Heylin, co. Montgomery: he was the grandfather of the late sir William Congreve, the first baronet.

Thomas Congreve, the eldest son of the said William Congreve, m. Anne-Catherine Handasyd, niece of general Handasyd, who commanded a regiment much distinguished in the duke of Marlborough's wars: the said Thomas Congreve had issue by this marriage one son, the late sir William Congreve, bart., b. at Walton, co. Stafford, and 6 daughters, whereof the 2d, 3d, and 4th, (Mary, Elizabeth, and Adelaide) are still living.

I. Sir WILLIAM CONGREVE, 1st baronet, created in the year 1812, lieutenant-general in the army, comptroller of the royal laboratory, and superintendant of military machines, was b. at Walton, co. Stafford, July 4, 1742; m., 1st, Rebecca Elmston, by whom he had 2 sons and 2 daughters; 1. sir William Congreve, present baronet; 2. Thomas-Ralph, major 70th regiment; 3. Anne-Catherine-Penelope, m. John Schneider, of Southgate, esq.; and Charlotte, m. colonel Joseph Maclean, of the royal artillery; and, 2dly, he m. Julia-Elizabeth, relict of general Eyre, of the royal artillery, daughter and co-heiress of Daniel Olivier, of Blackheath, co. Kent, esq. Sir William d. April 30, 1814, and was succeeded by his eldest son,

II. Sir WILLIAM CONGREVE, present baronet.

HUNTER, of the City of London.

Dec. 15, 1812.

Sir CLAUDIUS-STEPHEN HUNTER, Bart., elected, 1804, Alderman of London; born Feb. 24, 1774; married Penelope-Maria, only daughter of John Free, a distinguished Merchant, of London, and has issue, 1. John, b. May 26, 1798; 2. Maria, b. Aug. 20, 1800; 3. Thomas-Claude, b. April 10, 1804; and 4. Samuel, b. Aug. 8, 1806.

Sir Claudius was elected lord mayor of London, and the the celebration of his inauguration as chief magistrate, on Saturday, Nov. 9, 1811, was observed with much more than common brilliancy, in consequence of his royal highness the Duke of York honouring his lordship with his company; an honour that was never before conferred by any of the sons of his present majesty, except in the mayoralty of sir Brooke Watson, although the royal family have very frequently visited the several lord mayors at the Easter and other festivals at the Mansion-House.

The paternal ancestors of the present baronet were citizens and merchants of London, of considerable eminence, in the reign of Charles I., as appears from the family records in the college of heralds, and more particularly from the deed of settlement of estates after the fire of London; by which certain property in the city of London was assigned to sir Claudius's ancestors, and is now vested in Henry Hunter, of Beech-Hill, esq., his elder and only brother, lineally descended from Charles Hunter, esq., on whom the property was settled by that deed. John Hunter, son of Charles, having made a considerable addition to the fortune he inherited from his father, purchased the family estate of Beech-Hill, above mentioned, where himself and his descendants chiefly resided; and from that period of his retirement we do not find any of the family engaged in mercantile speculations, with the exception of sir Claudius, the present baronet.

Henry Hunter, of Beech-Hill, co. Berks, esq., a gentleman of the most polished education, and the most engaging manners, having received the rudiments of his learning at Eton school, which were matured by study in the university of Cambridge, as fellow-commoner of Trinity College, and finally perfected by the customary tour over the continent of Europe. He was called to the bar, and shortly after m. Mary, 3d daughter of William Sloane, esq., great nephew of the celebrated sir Hans Sloane, bart., physician to queen Anne and king George I., and had issue, 1. Henry-Hunter of Beech-Hill; and 2. sir Claudius, who being intended for the profession of the law, was entered a student of the Inner-

Temple;

Temple; but the prospects of success at the bar being but slight and uncertain, he qualified himself for the practical branch of the profession, by five years' service and tuition under Messrs. Beardsworth, Burley, and Moore, solicitors of great eminence in Lincoln's-Inn; and after one year's farther education, he commenced solicitor in Lincoln's-Inn. While in the full enjoyment of the fair profits resulting from his professional engagements, he was, in Sept. 1804, solicited by many respectable citizens to become a magistrate of London, and was, in consequence, unanimously chosen alderman of the ward of Bassishaw. From this period, he relinquished the general management of his business to his partner, and only attended to such concerns as could be transacted in his own chamber.

I. Sir CLAUDIUS, the youngest son, was created a baronet Dec. 15, 1802.

Arms—Or, a lion rampant, gules, between eight crosses, pattées.

Crest—A demi-lion, holding between his paws a cross pattée fitchée, as in the arms.

Arms—See plate 52.

Daniel Falkiner, of Dublin, alderman, and lord-mayor 1793, b. Nov. 25, 1752, m. Elizabeth, daughter of George Spence, of Dublin, esq., and had issue, Frederick, of Cottage and Abbot's-town, co. Dublin, esq., who m. Elizabeth, daughter of James Hamilton, of Baileborough, co. Cavan, esq., and had issue, Daniel, of Abbot's-town, who m. Dorothy, daughter of Henry Faure, of Egham, co. Surrey, esq., and had issue, 1. sir Frederick, present baronet; 2. Elizabeth, m. William-Robert Crosbie, esq.; 3. Dorothy, m. —— Nuttall, major in the army; 4. Maria-Josepha, m. the hon. Robert Moore; and 5. Frederick.

Cottage

I. Sir FREDERICK, the eldest son, was created a baronet Dec. 15, 1812.

BLANE, of BLANEFIELD, co. Ayr; and CULVERLANDS, co. Berks.

Dec. 26, 1812.

Sir GILBERT BLANE, Bart., created, as above, M.D., one of the Physicians in Ordinary to his Royal Highness the Prince Regent, F.R.S., Member of the Royal College of Physicians of London, Fellow of the Royal Societies of London and Edinburgh, a Proprietor of

of the Royal Institution, and a Member of the Imperial Academy of Sciences of St. Petersburgh.

Sir Gilbert having employed ten years in the study of all the various branches of literature and science, as well as of medicine, taught at the University of Edinburgh, finished his professional education in London: he was particularly patronized by Principal Robertson, the celebrated Historian, and at his recommendation, and that of Dr. W. Hunter, he lived for some time with the Earl of Holdernesse, as Physician and Companion to that accomplished Nobleman, who had, in the course of his life, filled some of the most important posts in the State, the last of which was that of Governor to the Prince of Wales. Soon after the death of the Earl of Holdernesse, Sir Gilbert embarked in the Fleet which left England at the close of 1779, under the command of Sir George Rodney, K.B., who appointed him Physician to his Fleet immediately after his first Victory, on his arrival at Gibraltar: he proceeded in this character to the West Indies with that great Commander, and conducted the medical business of the Fleet there, and in North America, till the Peace of 1783. In the course of that splendid and important service, he was present in six general engagements: the Fleet to which he was Physician received three times the unanimous thanks of both Houses of Parliament: and Sir George Rodney ascribed part of his success to those medical regulations to which the healthy state of the Fleet was owing. On Sir Gilbert's return to England, at the Peace of 1783, all the Flag-Officers and Captains of the Fleet in which he had served, recommended him to his Majesty, who was graciously pleased to grant him a pension, as a testimony of his royal approbation. In 1795 he was appointed one of the Commissioners of Sick and Wounded Seamen; and for the regulations which on his suggestions were adopted in this department, and for his writings, whereby the state of health of the Royal Navy was improved in an eminent degree, the Lords of the Admiralty testified their high sense of his merits to his Majesty's Privy Council; (see Records of these Offices, 1805;) upon which he received an additional reward for his services.

Sir Gilbert has also been employed from time to time by the Government as a Member of the Committee for framing Quarantine Regulations, in visiting the public Prisons of the Metropolis, and Depositaries for securing and transporting Convicts, with a view to the adoption of measures for the better preservation of their health, and checking contagion; in drawing up directions for the transportation of the Army from Egypt, so as to avoid the importation of pestilence from that country; in forming a scheme for the better conducting the medical service in India; and lastly, he was sent by the Cabinet Council to the Island of Walcheren in the autumn of 1809, on an important medical mission; upon the execution of which special service he received the public approbation of the Commander-in-Chief of the Forces, as stated in the parliamentary documents relating to the Expedition to the Scheldt. Sir Gilbert was also consulted by foreign nations on the subject of medical police; among others, by the Sovereigns of Russia and Prussia, by both of whom he was presented with gold medals, in token of their approbation; and the President of the United States of America (Mr. Adams)

Adams) wrote him a letter of thanks, with his own hand, for his answer to a reference which had been made to him respecting the yellow fever. For these his long and faithful services, and for his professional attendance on his Royal Person and Family, the Prince Regent, in the name and behalf of his Majesty, was pleased to advance him to the dignity of a Baronet of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, as above.

Sir Gilbert, born at Blanefield, co. Ayr, Aug. 29, 1749, (O.S.); married, July 11, 1786, Elizabeth, only daughter of Abraham Gardner, Merchant, (by Mary Newman; who m., 2dly, William Gaskarth, Esq., brother of Julia, Countess of Suffolk,) and has issue, of whom, 1. Gilbert-Gardner; 2. George-Rodney, Lieutenant of Engineers on the Bengal Establishment; he signalized himself in the war with the Rajah of Nepaul, and was wounded at the side of General Gellespie, who fell in storming the Fortress of Kalunga on the 31st of Oct. 1814; 3. Hugh-Seymour, Ensign in the 3d Regiment of Foot Guards; he served in the 2d Brigade of Foot Guards at the renowned Battle of Waterloo, fought on the 18th of June, 1815. This Brigade was posted in the most exposed point of the conflict, and in the estimation of the Duke of Wellington was the most distinguished on that most memorable day; for the Rev. W. Noncrop, of Framlingham, in Suffolk, having, immediately after the Battle, intimated to the Duke that it was his wish to settle an annuity of 10*l.* for life on the soldier who had given the greatest proof of courage and good conduct, his Grace adjudged it by referring to the above-mentioned Brigade, as the one which had performed the most signal service on that day, and desiring the Officers of it to select a man.

man. This they accordingly did, and pitched upon Sergeant Graham, one of their Non-Commissioned Officers. 4. Charles-Collins; are now alive: George-Brydges-Rodney, Henrietta-Mary, Catherine, Amelius-Spencer, and William-Gascarth, d. young; Louisa, d. Aug. 24, 1813, aged 19.

The name of Blane is of great antiquity in Scotland, particularly in the western parts of it: from the great number of places bearing the name in various parts of the kingdom, as Strathblane, Dumblane, Kilblain, Auchinblane, Pitblane, &c. &c., it would appear to have been numerous and respectable at an early period, more particularly about the time of St. Blane, one of the most celebrated in the Scots' kalendar, who flourished in the 10th century, and founded the ecclesiastical establishment of Dumblane, which became one of the thirteen bishopricks of Scotland.

The immediate ancestor of this family was Thomas Blane, esq., a man of superior education, and who d. in opulent circumstances prior to 1630; he m. a daughter of Andrew Ross, of Trowier, esq., by whom he had several sons; all of whom, from their letters and other writings still extant, appear to have received a very liberal education: of these sons, one was bred to the law, and the others embarked in mercantile pursuits, some of them having gone to Ireland, the West Indies, &c. Thomas and John resided at Girvan, where they carried on a successful trade, particularly with Ireland, and acquired a considerable property in land and houses; from one of the other sons descended general Patrick Blane, of Wigg, co. Wigtoun; (see Records of General Retours, 1665.) Thomas Blane, of Girvan, esq., m. Helen Ross, of Chappeldonan, and was great-grandfather of the present baronet: and John Blane, of the same place, m. Margaret, daughter of —— Montgomerie, of Beoch, esq., (son of —— Montgomerie, of Bridgend, esq., a cadet of the noble family of Eglinton,) by whom he had a son, William, who, by the daughter of Stewart, of Fintilloch, descended from the noble family of Gallo-way, way, he had 2 sons, Archibald and Robert, and 2 daughters, Margaret and Elizabeth. Archibald, the eldest son, served as an officer in the army in America during the seven years' war, with distinguished reputation; (see Narrative of an Expedition against the Ohio Indians, Philadelphia, 1766;) having m. miss Smith, of Reading, co. Berks, d. without issue; Robert Blane, the younger brother, very early in life entered the service of the East India company, in which he highly distinguished himself, and having attained the rank of lieutenant-colonel, he returned to England, and d. unm. in 1798. He was present at the battle of Buxar, under sir Hector Munro, in 1764, and at the siege and battle of Cuddalore in 1782, where he was 3d in command at the head of a battalion of native troops, which he had formed and disciplined, and which he conducted by land from Bengal to the Carnatic, a route never before attempted. The utmost exertions were called for at that crisis, to prevent the British power from being overwhelmed by Hyder Ali and the French. The following extract from the Annual Register of 1783, will sufficiently show in what estimation the officers and men of this detachment were held :—" Nothing could exceed the admirable behaviour of the troops, both European and Sepoys, in this action; it was equally singular and extraordinary that the 26th battalion of Bengal Sepoys, and another belonging to Madras, fought some of the oldest and best troops of France with the bayonet, and foiled them at that European weapon, which is considered as the most trying test of the firmness and excellence of soldiers." The writer of this was informed, by governor Hastings, after his return from India, that lieutenant-colonel Blane was one of the field-officers who had chiefly distinguished himself in leading the Asiatic troops on that day. Colonel Toone, now a director of the East India company, who had formerly been a field-officer in India, where he knew him professionally, said, " that he never knew an officer of a more truly military spirit :" for this and other services, he was presented by the government of India with a valuable sword, with an inscription reciting the services for which this mark of distinction was conferred; since which he has taken, for his crest, the sword of the figure of justice: he was also presented with the freedom of the city of Edinburgh in compliment to his distinguished military character. Colonel Blane returned to England, and d. unm. 1798. Margaret and Elizabeth were both unm.; the former d. 1810, and the latter is the only survivor of this branch of the Blane family. Thomas Blane, before mentioned, had issue, by Helen Ross, 2 sons, Thomas and Andrew. The former was infeft in the lands of Brunston Poundland, and others, in the co. Ayr, and d. without issue; and Andrew intermarried with Jane, daughter of Alexander Mac-kie, of Palgowan, esq., in the stewartry of Galloway, a family of great respectability, whose grandson, John-Ross Mac-kie, of Palgowan, esq., was representative in several parliaments for the stewartry of Galloway: her grandmother was Catherine Forrester, of the family of Corstorphin, and was created baroness Forrester, of Corstorphin, 1633, a woman of uncommon knowledge and sagacity. This lady was m. twice; 1st, to the above-named Alexander Mac-kie, by whom he had Alexander, who m. a daughter of sir James Dunbar, of Mochrum; (vide Douglas's Peerage, p. 117;) and of this marriage was born John Mac-kie, father of Jane Mac-kie, wife of Andrew Blane, as above mentioned; and 2dly, to sir James Dunbar, of Baldoon, whose eldest daughter, being a great heiress, was m. to lord Basil Hamilton, 6th son of the duke and dutchess of Hamilton, father and mother of Mr. Basil Hamilton, father of Dunbar earl of Selkirk; (see Douglas's Peerage, 1764, p. 615.) By the above-named Jane Mac-kie he had 4 sons, viz. 1. Thomas, d. without issue; 2. Gilbert, of whom hereafter; 3. William, an officer of engineers, d. in Jamaica, 1740, without issue: he was an eminent scholar and mathematician, patronized by lord Cathcart, with whom he became acquainted at the court of Stanislaus, king of Poland, residing at Luneville, in Lorraine, and whom he attended in the expedition fitted out for the West Indies, under the command of his lordship, who unfortunately d. before the operations of the disastrous campaign of Carthagena had commenced; and

 4. John,

4. John, a merchant of Antigua, where he d. 1759, without issue.

Gilbert-Blane, 2d son of Andrew and Jane Mac-kie, m., 1st, Hannah, daughter of —— Binning, of Dalvenan and Machrimore, esq., by whom he had a son and daughter, who d. infants; and 2dly, Agnes Macfadzen, a relation of his own, and descended from the family of Richard of Barskeming, by her mother, Catherine-Richard, who d. March 1778; had issue, viz. 1. Andrew, who, upon the death of his father, in June 1771, succeeded to the lands of Blanefield, and is now one of the writers to his majesty's signet, and solicitor and agent to his royal highness the prince regent; 2. James, a merchant in the West Indies, where he d. unm.; 3. Thomas, some time of New York, but now of the city of London, merchant, m. Elizabeth Oliphant, by whom he has 1 son, Archibald, superintendant of police in the island of Mauritius, and 2 daughters, Elizabeth and Agnes; 4. sir Gilbert, present baronet; 5. William, of Grongar, co. Ayr, and of Winckfield-Park, co. Berks, m. Honoria, daughter of Thomas Newnham, esq., and has issue 7 sons and 2 daughters; 6. John, a merchant in the West Indies, d. unm.; 7. Catherine, m. Alexander Hutchison, of Southfield, co. Renfrew, esq., d. without issue.

I. Sir GILBERT, 4th son of Gilbert Blane, was created a baronet Dec. 26, 1812.

Arms—Argent, on a fess sable, a mullet between two crescents of the field; in base, a rose, gules, with the following augmentation, assigned in allusion to the public services of the baronet, by patent under the hands and seals of garter, clarencieux and norroy kings of arms, bearing date the 2d of November, 1812, to be borne by him and his descendants; in the centre chief point an anchor, erect, entwined by a serpent, proper.

Crest—On a wreath of colours a sword erect, proper, pommel and hilt, or.

Motto—Paritur pax bello.

Maria, b. March 17, 1813; all baptized at Kirkheaton, aforesaid; and 11. Georgiana, b. Sept. 11, 1815.

Sir John-Lister Kaye, late of Grange, baronet, was the heir male of a family of great antiquity, co. York, descended, as it is stated, from sir Kaye, an ancient Briton, one of the knights of the Round Table, temp. Arthur. This origin has been asserted by many respectable writers; but whatever credit may be due to their statements, the lineal descent is fully authenticated from sir John Kaye, knt., who lived in the time of William the Conqueror, and m. the daughter and heir of sir John Woodsome, of Woodsome, knt., by whom he had issue 2 sons; viz. sir John, his successor, and Robert, who settled in Lancashire, and m. the daughter and heir of —— Cromton, of Cromton, esq., from whom descended the Kayes of that county.

Sir

Sir John Kaye, of Woodsome, knt., eldest son and heir, m. the daughter and heir of sir John Copley, knt. by whom he had issue, sir Robert Kaye, who m. the daughter and heir of Mallett, of Upton Mallett, and had issue, sir Robert Kaye, knt., who m. the daughter of Normanville, by whom he had 2 sons: 1. sir Thomas; and 2. Ralphe Kay, who m. the daughter and heir of Bendon, of Bendon, co. Lincoln, from whom the Kayes, co. Lincoln, were descended.

Sir Thomas Kaye, knt., eldest son and heir, intermarried with the daughter of Bellingham, of Bellingham, and was the father of sir William Kaye, who, by the daughter of sir John Danby, of Massham, knt., had issue, Thomas Kaye, of Woodsome, esq., which Thomas m. the daughter and heir of Bradford, and was father of George Kaye, of the same place, who m. the daughter and heir of Tempest, and had issue 2 sons; 1. Thomas, his successor; and 2. Robert, who settled co. Devon; and having intermarried with the daughter and heir of Malbank, was the ancestor of the family of Kaye of that county.

Thomas Kaye, eldest son and heir, m. the daughter of Constable, of Cliffe, by whom he had issue, Robert, who, by the daughter of Beaumont, of Whitley, had issue, Robert Kaye, who m. the daughter of Blundell, and was the father of Richard Kaye, of Woodsome, esq., who m. the daughter of Rookby, of Rookby, and had issue, 1. Robert, his son and heir; and 2. Richard, who m. the daughter of Hanbury, and was ancestor of the family of Kaye, who settled in the co. of Kent.

Robert Kaye, esq., son and heir of Richard, intermarried with the daughter of Pilkington, of Bradley, by whom he had issue, John Kaye, esq., who, by the daughter and heir of Grimston, of Grimston-Garth, had issue, sir John Kaye, of Woodsome, knt.; who, by the daughter of Walcot, of Walcot, was the father of sir Robert Kaye, knt., who m. the daughter of sir John Dabrigcourt, by whom he had issue, sir William Kaye, his son and heir; and Thomas, which latter settled in Cumberland, and having m. the daughter of Walball, of Walball, was ancestor of the family of Kaye of Carlisle.

Sir

Sir William Kaye, of Woodsome, knt., m. the daughter of lord Darcy, by whom he had issue, sir Thomas, who, by the daughter of sir John Deighton, knt., was the father of sir Roger Kaye, knt.; which sir Roger intermarried with the daughter of Venables Baron, of Kinderton, and had issue, sir George Kaye, knt., who, by the daughter of sir Robert Maleverer, knt., had issue, 1. sir William Kaye; 2. Robert, ancestor of the Kayes of Oakenshaw; and 3. John, ancestor of those of Thorp.

Sir William Kaye, of Woodsome, knt., m. the daughter of Gascoigne, of Sadbury, and had issue, John Kaye, of Woodsome, esq., who, by the daughter of Harley, of Harley, was the father of Robert Kaye, who m. the daughter of Plumpton, of Plumpton, by whom he had issue, Arthur Kay, of Woodsome, esq., who lived temp. king Henry VIII., and intermarried with Beatrice, daughter of sir Matthew Wentworth, of Bretton, co. York, esq., by whom he had issue 2 sons and 2 daughters, of whom John Kaye, of Woodsome, esq., his son and heir, m. Dorothy, daughter of Robert Maleverer, of Wothersome, co. York, esq., and had issue several children, of whom Robert Kaye, of Woodsome, esq., who was living 1612, took to wife Anne, daughter of John Flower, of Whitwell, co. Rutland, esq., and was father of John Kaye, of Woodsome, esq., who m. Anne, daughter of sir John Ferne, knt., one of the council of York for the northern parts of the realm, and dying 1641, left issue, 1. sir John, 1st baronet; and 2. Elizabeth, wife of Ralph Assheton, of Middleton, co. Lancaster, esq.

Sir John Kaye, of Woodsome, knt., was advanced to the dignity of a baronet by king Charles I., on Feb. 4, 1641: he served that unfortunate monarch in quality of a colonel of horse, and suffered much both in person and estate, during the civil wars; but, happily, survived the usurpation of Cromwell, and witnessed the restoration of Charles II. to the throne of his ancestors: he d. July 25, 1662, having been thrice m.; 1st, to Margaret, daughter and co-heir of John Moseley, of Northcroft, by Elizabeth, daughter and co-heir of Thomas Trigot,

of Kirkby, co. York, esq.: 2dly, to Elizabeth, daughter of sir Ferdinando Legh, of Middleton Juxta, Leeds, co. PULESTON, of EMRAL, co. Flint.

Nov. 2, 1813.

Sir RICHARD PULESTON, Bart., born Sept. 3, 1765; married, 1st, Ellen, daughter of John Boats, Esq., and and has issue, 1. Richard, b. June 20, 1789; 2. Charlotte-Anne, b. Jan. 16, 1791: and 2dly, Emma-Elizabeth, daughter of John Corbet, of Sundorn, co. Salop, Esq., by his first wife, Emma-Elizabeth, daughter of Sir Charleton Leighton, Bart. Sir Richard was Lieutenant-Colonel of the ancient Britons, who distinguished themselves so highly by their valour, zeal, and loyalty, during the rebellion in Ireland in 1798.

This family is of great antiquity. In the year 1293, the Pulestons wrote their name de Puleston. Sir Roger, de Puleston, knt., was a distinguished favourite of Edward I., and was appointed sheriff and keeper of the county of Anglesea in 1284; and sir John Puleston, of Bersham, co. Denbigh, knt., was chamberlain of North Wales in 1544.

I. Sir RICHARD, created a baronet Nov. 2, 1813.

Arms—Sable, three mullets, two and one, argent.

Crest—On a chapeau, gules, a buck statant, proper, attired.

Motto—Clariores è tenebris.

Seat—Emral, co. Flint.

RADCLIFFE, (late PICKFORD) of MINES-BRIDGE-HOUSE, co. York.

Nov. 2, 1813.

Sir WILLIAM RADCLIFFE, Bart., succeeded his father, Sir Joseph, Feb. 19, 1819.

This family, denominated from the village of Radcliffe, anciently written Radclive, Radclyf, Radclyffe, &c. in the county of Lancaster, is of considerable antiquity, and derives its descent from Ivo Taylebois, by some authors styled earl of Anjou*, who m., 1st, Elfivat, daughter of Ethelred, king of England, by whom he was also the patriarch of divers ancient, noble, and respectable families; such as the Lancasters, barons of Kendale, who had large possessions in the counties of Westmorland, Cumberland, and Lancaster; the Curwens, (formerly Culwens) of Workington, Camerton, &c.; Irebys, of Ireby, co. Cumberland; Lea, of Lea; and Westby, of Westby, co. Lancaster; and divers others, in addition to that of Radcliffe: but as the limits of this work will not suffer us to enter minutely into the detail of a family of this antiquity, extent, and national importance, we shall content ourselves with just pointing out the leading features thereof, and beg leave to refer our readers for further particulars to the various archives in the college of arms, and other great repositories of genealogical and biographical matter; the several ancient chronicles and histories of England; some of the local histories, particularly that of Whalley Abbey, and divers publications of the Peerage; as some members of this noble family have had the honour of holding a place in that elevated rank for a series of nearly 400 years past until the present, with some very trifling exceptions.

Henry de Radeclive, or, as some have it, Nicholas de Radclyffe, assumed his surname from his residence and manor of Radcliffe, which he held by military service of his brother, William de Lancaster, baron of Kendale, which Henry occurs as a witness to the foundation-charter of the abbey of Burscough, co. Lancaster, temp. Henry II. His son, William de Radcliffe, was sheriff of that county, temp. about 6 Richard I., and was one of the knights who formed the grand feodary-inquest in that county in the 13th year of king John; he m. Cecilia de Montebegon, lady of Kirkland, by whom he acquired lands in Tottington: from him descended Richard de Radclyffe, called Old Richard, to distinguish him from his son and grandson, both of that Christian name, living at the same time. He attended the victorious monarch, Edward I., in his wars of Scotland, who granted him his royal charter, bearing date at Striveling, July 23, in the 31st year of his reign, free warren warren in all his demesne-lands of Radcliffe and Querendon: he had issue several sons and daughters: Robert, the eldest son, was ancestor of the Radclyffes, of Smithills and Chadderton, both knightly families in the said county; and Radcliffe, co. Devon. His 3d son, sir John-Radclyffe, of Ordshall, co. Lancaster, knt., served Edward III. in his wars in France, particularly at Caen, Cressy, and Calais; and was progenitor of that knightly and distinguished military branch of the family which continued at Ordshall until the reign of Charles II., the Radclyffes of Foxdenton, in the said county; Radcliffes of Mellor, co. Derby, &c.

William Radclyffe, of Radcliffe-Tower, called the Great William, 2d son of Old Richard, to whom his nephew, Ralph, eldest son and heir of Robert, gave the Tower and manor of Radcliffe, m., temp. Edward I., Margery, one of the two daughters and co-heirs of Gilbert de Culcheth, by whom he had issue, amongst other sons, (and 6 daughters, all of whom married) William Radclyffe, of Longfield, co. York, in right of his 1st wife, and was ancestor of the Radclyffes, of Todmendon, in the said county.

Richard Radclyffe, of Radclyffe-Tower, and of Clithero, temp. 14 Edward III., in right of his wife, Isabel, daughter and heir of —— Plessington, of Wymersley, in the said county, had issue, among other sons and daughters, Thomas Radcliffe, of Wymersley and of Clithero, one of the esquires of John of Gaunt, duke of Lancaster, named in his will, whose eldest son, sir Richard, was summoned to parliament by the title of chevalier, (7 Henry IV.); and accompanied Henry V. into France with 3 men at arms and 9 archers: and was with that prince in his great victories of Agincourt and Calais; and was ancestor of the knightly branches of Radclyffes, of Wymersley, which terminated in Anne, only sister and heir of William Radclyffe, esq., m. sir Gilbert Gerrard, knt., attorney-general and master of the rolls in the reign of queen Elizabeth.

Radclyffes, of Tunstall, co. Durham: Radclyffes, of Mulgrave-Castle, co. York, who, by marriage of the heir of the ancient family of Bygod, became heirs to a

moiety of the barony of Mauley; Radclyffes, of Hewick; and Radclyffe, of Giggleswick; both co. York; from which last branched those of Chapell, co. Essex: from a 3d son of the said Thomas Radclyffe, of Wymersley, also sprang a very respectable branch seated at Manchester, which became extinct in the reign of Charles II. The 2d son of the said Thomas was sir Nicholas Radclyffe, of Derwentwater-Castle, co. Cumberland, knt., in right of his marriage, (temp. 5 Henry V.) with Elizabeth, only daughter and heir of sir John de Derwentwater, knt., lord of Derwentwater, aforesaid, Ormshead Vesey, co. Westmorland, &c., by whom he became founder of the noble and distinguished loyal race of the Radclyffes, of Derwentwater, aforesaid, who afterwards, by marriage with the daughter and sole heir of John Cartington, of Cartington-Tower, co. Northumberland, being possessed of divers considerable estates in that county and in the county of Durham, from which the fair and beautiful estate and ancient baronial mansion of Devilstone, commonly called Dilston, was selected as the chief residence of this line of the family, from which descended (besides divers junior branches yet existing in the counties of York, Cumberland, Northumberland, &c.) the late earls of Derwentwater and earls of Newburgh, the last of whom, Anthony-James Radclyffe, was the last heir male descended of the body of sir Francis Radclyffe, bart., the first earl of Derwentwater; he m., 1789, Anne, only sister of sir Thomas Webb, bart., and great niece of Anne Webb, wife of James Radclyffe, the unfortunate 3d earl of Derwentwater, great uncle of the said earl of Newburgh, and d. without issue, Nov. 28, 1814, leaving his amiable widowed countess, and his numerous friends, to mourn, deservedly, his loss; and his earldom to be contended for between the prince Giustiniani, of Rome, great grandson and elder co-heir of the lady Charlotte-Maria Livingston, in her own right countess of Newburgh; and Francis Eyre, of Hassop, co. Derby, esq., her grandson and youngest co-heir.

William Radclyffe, of Radclyffe-Tower, eldest son of Richard Radclyffe and Isabel Plessington, aforesaid, m. Susannah, Susannah, daughter of Robert Leigh, of Adlington, co. Chester, and by her had, amongst other children, James Radclyffe, of Radclyffe-Tower, esq., his eldest son and heir, who obtained of Henry IV., in the 11th year of his reign, his royal license to rebuild his tower of Radcliffe, and to enclose his manor of Radcliffe with a wall embattled, &c., who, by Margaret, or Joan, daughter of sir John Tempeste, knt., had issue, 6 sons: 1. Richard, (of whom hereafter); 2. sir John Radclyffe, of Attilborough, co. Norfolk, knight-banneret, and K.G., elect, called the good sir John, an highly distinguished chieftain in the wars of France in the reigns of Henry V. and Henry VI., and by Cecilia, his wife, daughter of sir Thomas Mortimer, of Attilborough, knt., and co-heir of her grandfather, sir Robert Mortimer, knt., had, amongst other issue, sir John Radclyffe, knight-banneret and K.G.; and for his highly distinguished military services in France was created earl of Longueville for the term of his life; and by Catherine, his wife, daughter and coheir of Edward lord Burnell, through whom came the baronies of Burnell and Bottetourt to his posterity, he had one daughter and several sons, whereof sir John Radclyffe, knt., his eldest son and heir, commonly called lord Fitzwalter, in right of Elizabeth, his wife, sole daughter and heir of Walter, lord Fitzwalter, through whom accrued the baronies of Fitzwalter, of Wodeham, and Lucy, of Egremont; and by her was the progenitor of the most eminent branch of this extensive noble family, which became earls of Sussex, viscounts and barons Fitzwalter, barons Lucy of Egremont, Burnell, and Bottetourt; and for a great series of years enjoying the most elevated offices in the state, terminated in Edward Radclyffe, the 6th earl of Sussex, who d. about 1641 without issue, leaving his four sisters his co-heirs; 3. Henry Radclyffe, brother of the good sir John, was seated at Farmsden, co. Suffolk, in right of his 2d wife, the relict of Thomas lord Morley, whose sole daughter and heir, Margaret, m. sir Geoffrey Radclyffe, knt., eldest son and heir of the said Henry by a former wife, by which Margaret accrued the ancient barony of Morley; which, however, does appear to have have been borne by this line of Radclyffe, which terminated as to the heirs male 1727; 4. Peter; 5. William; 6. Roger.

Richard Radclyffe, of Radclyffe-Tower, esq., eldest son and heir, was justice of the peace temp. Henry V., high sheriff of Lancaster in the 9th year of that reign, and knight of the shire in parliament, 3. Henry VI., whose eldest son, James Radclyffe, of Radclyffe-Tower, esq., amongst divers other children had issue, John Radclyffe, esq., his eldest son and heir, from whom the latter Radclyffes of the Tower descended; the last of whom, John Radclyffe, esq., dying unm., 9 Henry VIII., left his four sisters his co-heirs-general: but the ancient inheritance of Radclyffe-Tower passed over by entail to Robert Radclyffe, viscount Fitzwalter, afterwards earl of Sussex, K.G., lord high chamberlain, &c.; James Radclyffe, of Langley, co. Lancaster, esq., 2d son of the last-mentioned James, purchased that manor of Thomas Langley, 6 Edward IV. and 7 Henry VII., settled the same on his son, Owen Radclyffe, in whose posterity it long continued. Richard Radclyffe, of Langley, eldest son and heir of Owen, m. Elizabeth, daughter of James Gerrard, esq., and sister of sir Gilbert Gerrard, before named, by whom he had issue, 1. Owen Radclyffe, of Langley, who m. Catherine, daughter of Thomas Chicheley, of Wimpole, by whom he had an only daughter, and d. without issue male; 2. Edmund, (of whom hereafter); 3. Robert Radclyffe, of Tickencote, co. Rutland, esq., in right of his wife, Margaret, daughter and heir of Randolph Lynn, and relict of Paul Gresham, esq.; 4. Arthur Radclyffe, of Merland, co. Lancaster, gent.; and 3 daughters: Jane, the eldest, m. George Boothe, of Sleaford, co. Lincoln; 2. Margaret, m. Robert Boston; and 3. Anne, m. John Moleneux, of New-Hall, co. Lancaster, gent. Edmund Radclyffe, of Langley, esq., 2d son, some time of Foxdenton, aforesaid, in right of his 2d wife, Margery, widow and relict of William Radcliffe, of the same place, deceased, succeeded his brother, Owen, m., 1st, Anne, daughter of Walter Williams, of London, widow of Richard Pound, of Beamonds, co. Hants, esq., by whom whom he had, amongst divers other issue, Henry Radclyffe, of Langley, esq., eldest son and heir, aged 22 years at his father's death, (2 James I.) who m. Elizabeth, daughter of Robert Kaye, of Wakefield, co. York, gent., by whom, beside his eldest son and heir, (who continued the line at Langley) and other children, had issue, Edmund Radcliffe, of Oldham, co. Lancaster, gent., his 3d son, who, by Catherine, his wife, had issue, 1. Robert; 2. Joshua; 3. William; which William was admitted scholar at Brazenose-College, Oxford: he was afterwards minister of Thorpe-Salvin, where several of his children were born; and 40 years rector of Aston and Dennington, co. York. Of his numerous family by Mary, his wife, daughter of Abraham Beaumont, of Meltham, and heir of her brother, George Beaumont, a younger branch of the ancient family of Beaumont, of Whitley Beaumont, and of Crosland, in the same county. William Radclyffe, his 3d son, settled himself at Milnes-Bridge-House, aforesaid, in right of Elizabeth, his wife, the relict of John Dawson, some time of the same place, by whom he had issue, 1. William; 2. Charles; 3. Mary; 4. Sarah; and 5. Catherine: whereof Sarah and Catherine d. young. William Radclyffe, of Milnes-Bridge-House, esq., eldest son and heir, was lieutenant-colonel of the West York militia, and one of his majesty's justices of the peace for the West Riding of Yorkshire, and d. unm., Sept. 26, 1795, aged 85 years, having devised his estates unto his nephew, the present sir Joseph Radclyffe, bart.; Charles Radcliffe, of the city of York, some time of Heath, near Wakefield, esq., 2d son, left by Francina, his wife, daughter and co-heir of Richard Town, of York, M.D., 3 daughters, Frances, Elizabeth, and Charlotte, his co-heirs, all of whom married and have issue. Mary, only surviving daughter, m. Joseph Pickford, of Alt-Hill, in the parish of Ashton-Underline, co. Lancaster, descended of a very ancient family, long resident at Macclesfield, co. Chester, who intermarried with the Morewoods, of Oakes, co. Derby, and other highly respectable families, by whom she had issue, 1. Joseph; 2. William-Pickford, some time a cornet in the 16th regiment of light dragoons, d. unm. at Dieppe, in in France, July 3, 1769, aged 23 years; and 3. Mary, b. Jan. 26, 1740, d. April 27, 1754.

Joseph Pickford, now sir Joseph Radcliffe, bart., eldest son and heir, b. May 8, 1744, some time resident, in right of his 1st wife, at Royston, aforesaid; and in 1795 succeeded his maternal uncle, colonel William Radcliffe, in his residence and estates at Milnes-Bridge, and elsewhere, co. York; and in compliance with a clause contained in the last will and testament of the said uncle, took the surname and arms of Radcliffe only, by virtue of the king's royal sign manual, bearing date December 19, in the same year. He has, for several years past, been a most loyal and active magistrate, being one of his majesty's justices of the peace for the counties of Lancaster and Chester, the county of Derby, and the West Riding of Yorkshire, and deputy-lieutenant for the said West Riding: in which character of magistrate he so highly distinguished himself by his determined resolution to discharge the arduous duties of his situation, in defiance of all the dangers that threatened him, (which indeed were truly alarming,) as to induce such a general interest in his favour, as to call for some eminent mark of the royal favour to be conferred on him; which probably will be best shown by the correspondence which took place between the truly patriotic and accomplished noble lord-lieutenant of the West Riding and his majesty's ministers on this occasion, and became the foundation upon which the structure of this baronetcy was erected.

Milton, Dec. 15, 1812.

DEAR SIR,

Nothing can be so honourable to an individual as when the public voice calls for some mark of public consideration being bestowed upon him: I have reason for thinking that the disturbed parts of the clothing district feel so strongly impressed with a sense of your indefatigable and unremitted exertions as a magistrate, the risks and dangers you have, and are now braving, with undaunted fortitude, in the service of the country, for the discovery of the disturbers of its tranquillity, that that it is the earnest wish of the most respectable gentlemen that an honourable mark of the royal approbation should be conferred upon you; such an one as is suitable to the independent fortune you possess, and the high consideration you enjoy among your neighbours. Allow me to ask, would a baronetage be acceptable? And I must go farther, and still put another question: Would it be acceptable to you to receive it on the recommendation, and at the solicitation, of his majesty's lieutenant, stating the meritorious services (so ample a field for description) as the ground on which he makes his request? I feel the necessity of being explicit, because circumstanced as I am with the administration, I can ask, as an individual, no favour; nor can I assume that you would receive one at my hands but as an officer of the crown. I feel myself justly entitled to recommend, for public reward, those who, in the department committed to my superintendance and care, render indisputable and essential service on emergencies of the most trying and alarming nature. I have but one word to add, which is to assure you, that it will be most gratifying to me to receive your permission to proceed in this business: being, with sincere esteem,

Very truly yours,

WENTWORTH FITZWILLIAM,

Joseph Radcliffe, esq.

SIR, Whitehall, Sept. 18, 1813.

I have the honour of communicating to you the gracious intention of his royal highness the prince regent forthwith to confer upon you the dignity of a baronet of the united kingdom. It is with great satisfaction that I convey to you such a testimony of the opinion entertained by his royal highness of that loyal, zealous, and intrepid conduct which you have invariably displayed at a period when the West Riding of the county of York presented a disgraceful scene of outrage and plunder; and by which, in the discharge of your duty as a magistrate, you contributed most materially to re-establish, in that quarter, tranquillity and obedience to the laws, and to

to restore security to the lives and property of his majesty's subjects.

I have the honour to be, sir,
Your most obedient and faithful servant,
Joseph Radcliffe, esq. SIDMOUTH.

Wentworth, Sept. 22, 1813.

DEAR SIR,

This morning's post brought a letter from lord Sidmouth to announce the pleasing communication of the regent's intention to confer on you the dignity of a baronetage, "in consideration of your exemplary, useful exertions as a magistrate in the West Riding at a period of the utmost difficulty, alarm, and danger." Though lord Sidmouth says in his letter that he shall make the communication to you, I cannot refrain from troubling you with these few lines, to express how truly I consider the dignity to have been earned by the service performed; how much I think it for the public interest necessary that exertions of the nature should not pass unnoticed by government; but that, on the other hand, they ought to be held up, as in this instance they now are, as examples for similar exertions in similar emergencies; and, lastly, to add, that a measure more acceptable to the West Riding could not have been adopted than this acknowledgment (so it will be considered) on the part of government of the eminent service rendered by your exemplary firmness and exertions.

I am, dear sir,
Most truly yours,
WENTWORTH FITZWILLIAM.
Joseph Radcliffe, esq.

I. Sir JOSEPH, created a baronet Nov. 2, 1813, m., 1st, March 3, 1763, Catharine, daughter of Thomas Percival, of Royston, co. Lancaster, esq., and by her (who d. May 15, 1765) he had an only son, sir William, present baronet; and 2dly, Nov. 16, 1765, Elizabeth, daughter and sole heir of Richard Sunderland, esq., of the ancient race of Sunderland, of High-Sunderland, co. York, and by by her (who d. March 26, 1796) had issue, 1. rev. Joseph-Pickford, M.A., b. Aug. 31, 1731, d. May 17, 1804, having m. Mary, sole daughter of sir John-Archibald Grant, of Money-Musk, co. Aberdeen, bart., by whom he left an only child, Joseph, b. June 5, 1799; 2. Elizabeth, d. unm. Jan. 9, 1810; 3. Charles-Pickford, captain R.N., b. July 21, 1769; 4. Mary, b. Aug. 9, 1771, m., 1st, 1796, Joseph Starkie, of Redivals, co. Lancaster, esq., who d. without issue July 8, 1803; and 2dly, July 19, 1805, John-David Macbride, D. C. L., F. S. A., principal of Magdalen-Hall, and professor of Arabic in the university of Oxford, only son and heir of the late gallant admiral Macbride, and has issue; 5. Catharine, d. unm., Nov. 6, 1800; 6. Harriet, b. Jan. 20, 1773, m., July 5, 1803, William Alexander, of Halifax, M.D., d. without issue, March 17, 1808; 7. York, merchant, deceased, and by her had no issue.

Sir Joseph was one of the few remaining examples of old English hospitality, and lived in the respect, esteem, and friendship of the neighbouring nobility and gentry, and the love of his numerous tenantry; in him were blended all the virtues that adorn the character of man in public and private life: no less distinguished by the most amiable affections of the heart, than a stern hostility to the slightest deviation from truth and plain dealing; he was equally zealous and intrepid in the cause of loyalty and social order, having, at the imminent hazard of his life, and the destruction of his property, rendered the most essential service to the state, by his prompt exertions as a magistrate during a period of local insubordination, danger, and alarm, in the year 1812. The sovereign acknowledged his merit by creating him a baronet, with the singular favour of a gratuitous patent. Sir Joseph d. Feb. 19, 1819, and was succeeded by his eldest son,

II. Sir WILLIAM, present baronet.

FOWKE, of Lowesby, co. Leicester.

Feb. 7, 1814.

Sir FREDERICK-GUSTAVUS FOWKE, born Jan. 24, 1782, Baronet; married, Oct. 12, 1815, Mary-Anne, sole daughter of the late Anthony Henderson, Esq., M.P. for Brockley, and has issue a son, b. April 9, 1818.

Of this gentleman's family, (so long seated at Gunston, Brewood, and in other parts of Staffordshire,) we have not been able to procure, in time for the publication of this work, so particular an account as its antiquity and respectability demand. The first of his ancestors of whom we can speak with that correctness which we hope distinguishes our endeavours, is John Fowke, esq., a junior descendant of that house, who m. Joyce, daughter, and, probably, heir of Richard March, of Limehouse, esq., master of the ordnance in the Tower of London, and keeper of arms and ammunition to Charles I. and II.; and in consequence of that match, (by which he acquired certain estates at Stepney, co. Middlesex,) settled in that parish, and was buried there March 16, 1669. He had issue by that lady, 1. Roger Fowke, of Gunston-

Gunston-Hall, esq., which he seems to have acquired by purchase from the elder branch of his family, who d. unm., as appears by his will, dated Dec. 2, 1673, and proved Jan. 9, 1698; 2. John; 3. Richard; 4. Thomas, the great-grandfather of the present baronet; 5. George; and 5 daughters: Dorothea, m. —— Wroth; Sarah, Mary, Anne, and Elizabeth, who were all unm. in 1673. Thomas, 4th son, by Mary his wife, had an only son, Thomas, who became a distinguished military character, d. a lieutenant-general in the army, and was buried in the family-vault at Stepney, having m., 1st, Elizabeth, daughter of sir William Ingoldsby, bart., by whom he had no issue: 2dly, Dorothy, daughter of Edward Randall, of Salisbury, co. Wilts, esq., by whom he had an only son, Thomas, who was knighted at St. James's, May 5, 1779, and was, in 1784, appointed groom of the bedchamber to his late royal highness Henry-Frederick, duke of Cumberland; he m., Aug. 13, 1772, Anne, 2d daughter and co-heiress of sir Isaac Woollaston, of Lowesby-Hall, co. Leicester, bart., and had issue 4 sons and 3 daughters. Sir Thomas d. Nov. 30, 1786; and his lady Nov. 25, 1803. Thomas, eldest son, b. Dec. 9, 1774, d. Oct. 22, 1779; William Woollaston, 2d son, b. June 22, 1778, d. Nov. 27, 1780; 3. sir Frederick-Gustavus, only surviving son, who inherited therefore, and possesses the Staffordshire estates of his mother's family, and was created a baronet, as above; 4. Orlando, d. an infant 1784: the daughters of sir Thomas were: 1. Henry-Anne, (who received those names in baptism from her sponsors, their royal highnesses the late duke and dutchess of Cumberland,) and who is now the wife of colonel John-Dick Burnaby, (3d son of the late rev. Dr. Burnaby, archdeacon of Leicester, &c.) and late of the 1st regiment of foot-guards; 2. Anne-Woollaston, d. June 18, 1790; and 3. Anne-William, d. Nov. 23, 1785.

1. Sir FREDERICK-GUSTAVUS was created a baronet Feb. 7, 1814.

Sir William was elected Sheriff of London, July 20, 1804; Alderman of London, Feb. 1, 1806; and Lord-Mayor, Sept. 29, 1813. During the year of his Mayoralty, June 18, 1814, a Banquet was given by the Corporation of London, at Guildhall, at which were present his R. H. the Prince Regent, his Imperial Majesty the Emperor of Russia, and his Majesty the King of Prussia, accompanied by many great and distinguished personages.

ages. When arrived at the Guildhall, his R. H. the Prince Regent was graciously pleased, in the presence of the illustrious company then assembled, to express to the Lord-Mayor his intention to create him a Baronet, as a mark of the Royal favour to the City of London, and of his Royal Highness's esteem for his Lordship's character; and accordingly, by Royal Warrant, dated June 18, 1814, he was created a Baronet of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland. His Royal Highness was afterwards pleased to grant to him an honourable augmentation of armorial bearings, dated July 26, 1814, as a lasting memorial to his posterity of an event which will ever distinguish his Mayoralty in the annals of the said City.

Sir William is descended from the rev. William Domville, of Lymm, co. Chester, whose family was a younger branch of an ancient family of the same name, which had been resident at Lymm, and possessed a moiety of the manor of Lymm from 37 Edward III. (Harleian MSS. in the British Museum, Chester Pedigree, No. 2187.) Charles, son of William Domville, clerk, was a citizen and cloth-worker of London, and d. 1704: his eldest son, Charles, also a citizen of London, but afterwards resident at St. Alban's, d. July 27, 1733: the 1st wife of this Charles was Anne, daughter of John Heath, of London, esq., and by her had issue, Charles, who m. Eleanor, daughter of William Carr, alderman of St. Alban's, d. July 27, 1775; their eldest son, William, now sir William Domville, present baronet: by his 2d wife, Sarah, daughter of the rev. HAMILTON,

HAMILTON, of WOODBROOK, co. Tyrone.

May 6, 1815.

Sir JOHN HAMILTON, Bart., Lieutenant-General of his Majesty's Forces, Colonel of the 2d Ceylon Regiment, Governor of Duncannon Fort, Knight Grand Cross of the Portuguese Military Order of the Tower and Sword, was created a Baronet of the United Kingdom, as above; married Emily-Sophia, daughter of George-Paul Monke, Esq., by the Lady Araminta Beresford, daughter of Marcus, Earl of Tyrone, and sister of George, Marquess of Waterford, and has issue one son, James-John Hamilton.

Sir John Hamilton is a lineal descendant of the Abercorn branch of the truly ancient and noble family of Hamilton, which has in various branches been ennobled in the peerage of the three kingdoms of England, Scotland, and Ireland.

James, earl of Arran in Scotland, and duke of Chatelherault, in France, lawful grandson to Mary, the sister of king James III., of Scotland, had three sons, whereof the eldest died without issue; from John, the 2d, the present duke of Hamilton and Brandon is descended; and Claud, lord Paisley, the 3d son, was the lineal ancestor of the present marquess of Abercorn, and of sir John Hamilton. His second son, Claud, having settled in Ireland about 1618, m. the daughter and heir of the Hamiltons of Manor-Elieston, in the co. of Tyrone, and left issue, sir William Hamilton, of Manor-Elieston, who, by the lady Beatrix Campbell, his 2d wife, was father of Claud Hamilton, of Montaloney, in the said county of Tyrone, who was the grandfather of James Hamilton, of Woodbrook and Strabane, esq., who m. Elinor, the sister of Andrew-Thomas Stewart, earl of Castlestewart, in Ireland, and by her had issue the present baronet, Sir John Hamilton, who early in life embraced the profession of arms, and signalized his gallantry in the East and West Indies, on many important occasions, particularly at the escalade of the fortress of Gualiar, the storming of the strong forts of Lahar and

Bangalore,

Bangalore, and in the several actions in the Mysore country in 1791 and 1792. In 1809 he was removed from the British to the Portuguese staff, and appointed inspector-general of discipline. In the recent arduous contest in Spain and Portugal, the conduct of sir John Hamilton has been conspicuous, and his defence of the town and castle of Alba de Tormes, on the 10th and 11th November, 1812, (when with 1500 men he succeeded in repulsing more than 15,000 of the enemy under marshal Soult, aided by 20 pieces of artillery) will ever be remembered to his honour. In testimony of his approbation of his eminent services, the prince regent of Portugal conferred upon the general the insignia of a knight commander of the order of the tower and sword, and subsequently, the king of Portugal, that of the grand cross of that order: nor have the merits of this officer been allowed to pass unrewarded by his own sovereign,—he has been not only raised to the dignity of a baronet, but has also received from the prince regent his majesty's royal permission, dated 20th April 1815, that he and his descendants may bear an augmentation to his arms, and an additional crest, allusive to his defence of Alba de Tormes.

I. Sir JOHN, created a baronet May 6, 1815.

Arms—Quarterly: 1st and 4th gules, three cinque foils pierced, ermine, for Hamilton; 2d and 3d, argent, a lymphad, sable; for Arran, a crescent, for difference: and, on a chief of honourable augmentation, a mount, inscribed, "Alba de Tormes," thereon a castle, and flowing from the battlements, a Spanish flag, all proper.

Crests—1st, the crest of honourable augmentation, viz., on a wreath, a mount, and thereon a castle, as in the arms, over it in an escroll, the motto, "Alba de Tormes." 2d, the family crest, viz., out of a ducal coronet, or, an oak tree, penetrated transversely in the main stem by a frame saw, proper, over it the motto "Through;" under the arms, the family motto, "Sola nobilitat virtus."

Arms—See plate 58.

Seat—Woodbrook, co. Tyrone.

CAMPBELL, of GARTSFORD, co. Ross.

May 6, 1815.

Sir ALEXANDER CAMPBELL, Bart., K.C.B., a Lieutenant-General in the Army, Colonel of the 80th Regiment, lately Commander of the Forces at the Isles of France and Bourbon; knighted as proxy for the Duke of Wellington, at an installation of the Bath, in 1812, and created a Baronet the 27th Dec. 1814; married, 1st, Olympia-Elizabeth Morshead, sister of Sir John Morshead, Bart., of Fenwick-Park, Cornwall, and by her had issue, 1. John Morshead, a Lieutenant in the 74th Regiment, slain at the battle of Assaye, in the East Indies; 2. Olympia, m. Alexander Cockburn, Banker, Madras, deceased, left issue, Alexander-Thomas Cockburn; 3. Allan-William, Lieutenant-Colonel in the British and Portuguese Services, and Major in the 74th Regiment, mortally wounded in the battle of the Pyrennees, 28th July 1813, in charging the enemy at the head of the 4th Portuguese Regiment of Infantry; 4. Isabella-Charlotta, m. Sir John Malcolm, K.C.B., and L.S., and has issue, Margaret, George, Charlotte, Ann, Amelia, and Catherine; 5. Amelia-Mary-Harriet, m. John-Macdonald Kinniar, Esq., an Officer in the East India Company's Military Service, and Town-Major of Fort St. George; m., 2dly, Elizabeth-Anne, daughter of the Rev. Thomas Pemberton, and niece to Major-General Sir Charles Wale, K.C.B., of Shelford, co. Cambridge, by whom he has had issue, 1. Arthur-Wellesley-Imgers, d. an infant; 2. Flora-Elizabeth.

Sir Alexander Campbell first entered the army in the year 1776, as an ensign in the 1st battalion royal Scots; was promoted to lieutenant in 1778; captain in 1780; major major and lieutenant-colonel in 1795; colonel in 1803; brigadier-general in 1808; colonel of the York light infantry volunteers in 1809; major-general in 1810; commander of the forces in Mauritius and Bourbon, with local rank of lieutenant-general, in 1812; lieutenant-general in 1814; removed to the colonelcy of the 80th regiment in 1815, and nominated a knight commander of the most honourable military order of the Bath in 1817. He served in Gibraltar during the siege; in India, where he filled various important situations, for a period of fifteen years; in Ireland, on the staff; in the Peninsula, under the duke of Wellington in the years 1809, 10, and 11, and was severely wounded in the battle of Talavera, where he commanded the 4th division of the army; and in the isle of France, nearly four years. And, in consideration of his distinguished services in various parts of the world, he was created a baronet, as above.

Sir Colin Campbell, of Glenorchy, m. —— Graham of Inchbruky's daughter, whose mother was daughter to Alexander Alister, bishop of Inverary, son to the earl of Marr, by whom sir Colin had Archibald-Gillespie-Dow, b. in Aucharn. The mother dying of the birth, the child was sent privately to the isle of Mull, with a nurse of the name of Macleran, and a servant lad of the M'Intoshes. After two years in Mull, he was brought to Auchalader, and fostered with the M'Intoshes till he was seven years old, and from thence he was sent to some obscure place in the low country, where he continued till he was 20 years of age. When sir Colin married Inchbruky's daughter, he was only the youngest brother of three. By the death of his elder brothers, who died before his lady, there stood nothing in the way that could probably obstruct his ambition of getting a match suitable to his mind and fortune, but to bury his new-born son in oblivion, which was done in the above manner; and accordingly sir Colin succeeded in his design, by marrying Catherine Ruthven, daughter to the earl of Gowrey, the greatest family then in Scotland, as appears by the genealogical records of the family of Argyll.

Archibald-

Archibald-Gillespie-Dow m. Mary M'Gregor, daughter of John-Dow na Canna, alias M'Gregor, of that ilk, by whom he had John-Dow, sometime of Auchalader, who m. Mary Stewart, daughter to Donald (Inord) alias Stewart, of Invernakyle. Mary's mother was Catherine Stewart, daughter to John Stewart, of Bohespich. Catherine's mother was daughter to Duncan-Ladasich M'Gregor; her mother was daughter of the laird of Keer. John Stewart of Bohespich's grandfather was David More, laird of Garvich, son to the earl of Marr. Donald (Inord's) grandmother, by the father's side, was —— Cameron, daughter to the laird of Lochiel; his mother was Fennual, daughter to the laird of Clanronald, and her mother was Marian M'Lean, daughter to the laird of Ardgower.

Archibald-Gillespie-Dow Campbell, son to John, by Donald Inord's daughter, m. Margery M'Pherson, daughter to John M'Pherson, of Bruu: his mother was daughter to Hew Fraser, of Lovet. Margery's mother was daughter of Macleod, of Harris.

Alexander-Alister-Dow Campbell, son to Archibald, m. Agnes M'Nab, daughter to John M'Nab, of Bovane; her mother was Mary Campbell, daughter to Duncan Campbell, laird of Glenlyon. Mary's mother was Jane Ogilvie, daughter to the laird of Poury. James's mother was Mary Scrimger, daughter to the earl of Dundee. John M'Nab of Bovane's mother was Catherine Campbell, daughter to sir Duncan Campbell, of Glenorchy; her mother was Mary Graham, daughter to James Graham, son to the laird of Braco. Mary's mother was Catherine Rollo, daughter to sir James Rollo, of Nundycomb.

John, son to Alexander-Alister-Dow, by Agnes M'Nab, m. Catherine Cameron, daughter to sir Ewen Cameron, of Lochiel, by whom he had 3 sons and 4 daughters. He purchased the estate of Baleed, in Perthshire.

John, the eldest, m. Isabella, daughter to John Campbell, of Barcaldine, (her mother was daughter of sir Ewen Cameron, of Lochiel) by whom he had issue, 1. John, who d. a batchelor; 2. Patrick, m. Anne Livington, and had issue a son, who inherits the estate; 3. Archibald,

3. Archibald, a lieutenant-general in the army, m., and has issue; 4. sir Alexander, present baronet; 5. Colina, m. —— Campbell, of Melford; 6. Louisa-Maxwell, m. —— Macdougall, of that ilk.

Arms—Quarterly: 1st and 4th, girony of 8, or, and sable; 2d, or, a fess chequé argent, and azure; 3d, argent, a lymphad, sable.

Crest—On a wreath, a naked arm erect, the hand grasping a sword, proper.

Motto (round the crest)—Without fear.

Arms—See plate 57.

Seat—Gartsford, co. Ross.

CLIFFORD, of TIXALL, co. Stafford.

May 22, 1815.

Sir THOMAS-HUGH CLIFFORD, Bart., born Dec. 4, 1762; married, June 7, 1791, Mary Macdonald, 2d daughter of John Chichester, of Arlington, co. Devon, Esq., (by his 2d wife, Mary Macdonald, of Tiendrish, in North Britain,) and has issue, Thomas Aston, b. May 3, 1806; Mary-Barbara, b. Oct. 29, 1801; and Mary-Isabella, b. Sept. 2, 1804.

We might be justly blamed were we to omit a circumstance, not less remarkable than honourable, attending this gentleman's advancement to the title of Baronet; it was at the express request of Louis XVIII., King of France and Navarre, in a gracious and delicate acknowledgment of Sir Thomas's attentions and services to his most Christian Majesty, during his long residence in this Country, that his own Sovereign was pleased to confer it on him.

Few men can boast so ancient and so noble a descent.

Hugh Clifford, 4th baron Clifford, b. April 14, 1700; d. March 25, 1732; m. Elizabeth, daughter and coheir of Edward Blount, of Blackdown, co. Devon, by Arabella, daughter of sir John Guise, of Rencombe, co. of Gloucester, bart., and had issue, Thomas, 4th son, b. Aug.

Aug. 22, 1732, d. July 16, 1787, having m. Barbara, daughter and co-heir of James Aston, 5th lord Aston; and by her (who d. Aug. 2, 1786,) had issue, 1. sir Thomas-Hugh, present bart.; 2. Edward-James, d. an infant; 3. Henry, barrister-at-law, b. March 2, 1768, d. April 22, 1813, m. Jan. 21, 1813, Anne-Teresa, youngest daughter of Edward Ferrers, of Baddesley Clinton, co. Warwick, esq., by Hester Bird, who m., 2dly, Oct. 1815, Edward Hebden, esq., nephew to sir Thomas Turton, bart.; 4. Walter, b. 1773, d. at Palermo, 1806; 5. James-Francis, b. Aug. 16, 1774; 6. Arthur, twin with Lewis, b. July 5, 1777, m. May 1809, Eliza-Matilda, daughter of Donald Macdonald, of Berwick-upon-Tweed; 7. Lewis, d. unm. July 1806; 8. George-Lambert, b. Jan. 9, 1779, m. Mary, eldest daughter of Walter-Hill Coyney, of Weston-Coyney, co. Stafford, esq., and has issue, Charles, b. Jan. 1, 1813; 9. Barbara-Elizabeth, b. Nov. 11, 1763, d. unm. 1792; 10. Mary, b. March 31, 1765, m. Dec. 13, 1792, sir Charles Wolseley, bart., and has issue, Charles, d. an infant, 1801; and William Spencer, b. Oct. 9, 1799; 11. Anne, b. April 28, 1770; 12. Lucy-Bridget, b. July 19, 1771, m. June 14, 1796, Thomas Weld, of Lullworth-Castle, co. Dorset, esq., by Mary Stanley, of Puddington, co. Chester, and has issue, Mary-Lucy, b. 1799.

I. Sir THOMAS-HUGH, created a baronet May 22, 1815.

Arms—Chequé, or, and azure; a fess, gules, a crescent for difference.

Crest—From behind a body of dark clouds, a sun rising, from the rays of which, in chief, a lily of France issuant, all proper, the whole surmounted by an escroll, inscribed, surget post nubila Phœbus.

Crest 2d—Out of a ducal crown, a coronet, or, a wyvern rising, gules.

Arms—See plate 57.

Seat—Tixall, co. Stafford.

SIMEON, of GRAZELY, co. Berks.

May 22, 1815.

Sir JOHN SIMEON, Bart., appointed Recorder of Reading in 1779, and M.P. for the said Borough, 1812, for which he was chosen in 1796, on Mr. Nevill's succeeding to the Peerage. He is senior Master of the Court of Chancery, and in 1811 was placed at the head of the Commission, in conjunction with Count Munster, and General Taylor, for putting his Majesty's real and personal Estates in trust during his melancholy indisposition, which they execute without any salary: married Rebecca, eldest daughter of John Cornwall, of Hendon-House, co. Middlesex, Esq., and has issue, 1. Richard, m. Louisa, eldest daughter of John Barrington, of Calborn, in the Isle of Wight, Esq., brother and heir of sir John Barrington, of Swainstown, co. Hants, and of Barrington-Hall, co. Essex, Bart.; 2. Edward, m. Sept. 1814, Sophia, 2d daughter of Philip-Lybbe Powys, of Hardwick-House, co. Oxon, Esq.; 3. Charles, Lieutenant R.N.; 4. Elizabeth, m. Colonel Webber Smith, of Aselyn, co. Sussex, Captain of a Troop of Horse-Artillery; 5. Charlotte, m. Thomas-Browne Evans, jun. of Tudenham, co. Norfolk, Esq.; and 6. Harriet, m., July 1814, Sir Frederick Baker, of Loventor, co. Devon, Bart.

This family is of French extraction, and came over with William the Conqueror; it had large possessions in the co. of Oxford, and was divided into two branches, one of whom was Catholic, the other Protestant. The Catholic branch terminated by the death of sir Edward Simeon, bart., in 1765, without issue male, which baronetage had been granted 12 Car. II., to an ancestor, in consideration of military aid to the crown, during the civil wars; and the property by a niece had a surviving viving heir, who m. into the Weld family, of Lullworth-Castle, co. Dorset, and passed into that family. The Protestant branch, which were seated at Pipton, in the same co., for many centuries, as appears by family inscriptions, there ended in the direct line in an only daughter, who m. Mr. Hampden. The present bart. is descended from a collateral branch of that family previous to 1635.

Arms—Per fess, or, and sable, a pale counterchanged; in chief an ermine spot of the second, between two trefoils, slipped, of the first, and in base a like trefoil, between two like ermine spots.

Crest—A fox passant regardant, proper, in the mouth, a trefoil slipped, vert.

Arms—See plate 58.

Motto—Nec temere nec timide.

Seat—Grazely, co. Berks.

Seat—Arsley, co. Bedford.

STEUART, of ALLANTON, co. Lanerk.

May 22, 1815.

Sir HENRY STEUART, D.C.L., F.R.S., and A.S.E., born Oct. 20, 1759, created a Baronet, as above; married, 1787, Lillias, daughter of Hugh Seton, of Touch, Esq., (in right of his wife) hereditary Armour-Bearer to his Majesty for Scotland, and has issue, 1. Elizabeth-Seton, b. 1788, d. the same year; and 2. Elizabeth, b. Oct. 31, 1789, m. Jan. 23, 1812, Reginald Macdonald, of Staffa, Esq., by whom she has male issue, and on whom the above dignity is in remainder.

This family is of great antiquity in co. Lanerk, and is at the head of the most extensive branches of the house of Bonkhill; being lineally descended from sir Robert Steuart, of Daldüe, or Daldowie, 6th son of sir John Steuart, of Bonkhill, son to Alexander, 6th lord high steward of Scotland, great grandfather of king Robert II., the first prince of the Stewart line. About 1290, sir John bestowed the estate of Daldowie, on the river Clyde, part of his extensive possessions

co. Lanerk and co. Renfrew, in patrimony, on his son, sir Robert Steuart, and was himself killed at the fatal battle of Falkirk, anno 1298, against Edward I., with many other of the Scotch nobility: 1398, sir Robert probably fought at the glorious field of Banockburn, with the lord high steward, and the rest of his family, under king Robert Bruce; and we find, that in the following year he, with three of his brothers, sir Alan, sir Walter, and sir Hugh, accompanied Edward Bruce in the expedition to Ireland, 1315; and he was also present at the battle of Dundalk, 1318, where that adventurous prince at length terminated his career; from whom descended James, 10th baron of Allanton, and 13th in descent from the lord high steward of Scotland, b. 1715; m. 1754, his cousin Margaret Steuart, daughter of Henry-Steuart Barclay, of Collerney, co. Fife, esq., younger brother to sir James Steuart, of Goodtrees, bart., M.P. for the co. Fife, in the parliament subsequent to the union, and afterwards solicitor-general in the reign of George II., and had issue, 1. James, b. 1755, d. 1756; 2. sir Henry, the present baronet; 3. William, d. 1775; and 4. Antonio, d. 1775; James, eldest son, deceasing, was succeeded by his eldest surviving son,

I. Sir HENRY, the 14th in descent from the lord steward of Scotland.

From this stock have sprung, at different periods, various families of the name of Steuart: among these are the Steuarts of Kirkfield and Coltness, those of Goodtrees, Allanbank, and Mitcham; as also the Steuarts of Hartwood, Wortbarns, Carfin, Alderston, and others. It is deserving of notice, that there are now four baronetages in the family, including the present grant to the elder branch of it; viz. 1. of Alanbank, co. Berwick, which branch is descended from James VI., baron of Allanton, and the 8th of Daldowie, who d. 1607, and is now represented by sir John Steuart, bart.; 2dly, that of Coltness, co. Lanerk, which branch is also descended from the said James, of Allanton and Daldowie, and is represented by general sir James Steuart, bart., colonel of the 2d regiment of dragoons, or Scots greys; 3dly, that of Goodtrees, co. Edinburgh, which branch is also descended and represented as above; 4thly, that of Allanton, as conferred by the present bart., patent. The three baronetages are in consequence of ancient Scots patents, (vide the Baronetage of Scotland;) and it is a remarkable circumstance that they were bestowed upon the family by three sovereigns, of characters considerably different; viz. King James II.; William; and Queen Anne; and all in consideration of their public services.

I. Sir HENRY, created a baronet May 22, 1815.

Arms—Or, a fess chequé, azure and argent, surmounted of a bend, gules, charged with three buckles of the field; on a sinister canton, gules, a lion passant gardant, or, pierced with a dart proper, (by special grant from king Robert II.) and in base, a broken spear, surmounted of a helmet, both proper.

Crest—A dexter hand, grasping a thistle, proper, issuant from an earl's coronet.

Supporters—Two lions rampant, gardant, proper, armed and langued, gules, collared of the last, each collar charged with three buckles, or.

May 27, 1815.

Sir SAMUEL-EGERTON BRYDGES, Bart., born Nov. 30, 1762, a Barrister at Law, of the Middle Temple, 1787, elected a Knight Grand Commander of the the Equestrian Secular, and Chapteral Order of St. Joachim, at a Chapter, held at Bamberg, in Franconia, in 1807; chosen M.P. for the Borough of Maidstone in Oct. 1812; married, 1st, in Jan. 1786, Elizabeth, sole daughter and heir of the Rev. William Dejovas Byrche, by Elizabeth, only sister of the late Thomas Barrett, Esq., of Lee Priory, near Canterbury; and by her (who d. in July 1796) has 2 sons and 3 daughters; viz. 1. Thomas-Barrett Brydges, b. June 1789, who has taken the name of Barrett, for the estate of his maternal uncle, and is Captain First Regiment of Foot-Guards; 2. John-William-Egerton, b. Nov. 1792, a Lieutenant 14th Regiment of Light Dragoons; 3. Elizabeth-Jemima, m., July 10, 1817, Lieutenant-Colonel George Holmes, 3d Dragoon Guards; 4. Jemima-Anne-Deborah, m., Feb. 4, 1817, Edward Quillinan, Esq., 3d Dragoon Guards; 5. Charlotte-Katherine. He m., 2dly, Mary, daughter of the Rev. William Robinson, Rector of Burfield, co. Berks, brother to Matthew, 2d Lord Rokeby, of Ireland, by whom he had issue; 6. Grey-Matthew, b. Oct. 1797, d. Feb. 1812, at Minorca, a Midshipman on board the Malta, Admiral Hallowell; 7. Anne-Mary; 8. Edward-William-George, b. 1800, d. June 13, 1816; 9. Egerton-Anthony, d. 1812; 10. Anthony-Rokeby, b. 1803; 11. Ferdinand-Stanley-Head, b. 1805; 12. Mary-Jane; 13. Ellen; 14. Frances-Isabella; 15. Jane-Grey.

The present baronet is brother and heir of the late rev. Edward-Tymewell Brydges, of Wootton-Court, in Kent, of whose claim to the ancient Barony of Chandos, Cruise, in his "Treatise on Dignities," has given the following summary account: "1790, the rev. Edward-Tymewell Brydges claimed the BARONY OF CHANDOS, stating, that her majesty queen Mary, by letters patent, in the first year of her reign, granted to sir John Brydges, Brydges, knt., the title, or dignity, of Baron Chandos, of Sudeley, to hold to him and the heirs male of his body for ever. That the said John, first lord of Chandos, had issue, 3 sons, Edmund, his eldest son; Charles, his second son; and Anthony, his third son; and likewise other younger sons. That the title of baron Chandos descended to the eldest son, and continued in his issue male until the death of William, seventh lord Chandos, without issue male, when the line of Edmund, eldest son of John, first lord Chandos failed. That the title then descended to sir James Brydges, bart., eighth lord Chandos, who was the great grandson, and heir male of the body of Charles, the second son of the first lord Chandos, and continued in his issue male until the death of James, duke of Chandos, in 1789, without issue male; when there was a total failure of heirs male of the body of CHARLES, the second son of the first lord Chandos; and upon such failure, the claimant submitted that he was entitled to inherit the same honour and dignity, as heir male of the body of ANTHONY, the third son of the first lord Chandos. The attorney-general reported, that he conceived the claimant had proved himself to be heir male of the body of John, first lord Chandos, and, as such, entitled to the honour and dignity of baron Chandos, of Sudeley, by evidence which, although not without some difficulty, would be probably deemed sufficient to prove his title to any other species of inheritance, the foundation of which was laid so far back as 1554. June 16, 1803, the petition and report having been referred to the house of peers, a majority of of the committee not thinking the evidence sufficient, "it was resolved, that the petitioner had not made out his claim to the title and dignity of baron Chandos." The vote by which the decision on the claim was then suspended was carried, on a division, by fifteen to seven against the claimant.

This family is descended from sir Simon de Brugge, lord of Brugge-upon-Wye, co. Hereford, in the time of Henry III. His grandson, John, represented the co. Hereford, 16 Edward II., and was father of sir Baldwin, whose son, Thomas Bragge, m. Alice, daughter and and co-heir of sir Thomas Berkeley, of Coberley, in Gloucestershire, by Joan, sister and co-heir of sir John Chandos; which Alice d. 2d Henry V. His grandson, sir Giles Brydges, of Coberley, d. 1511, leaving 2 sons, sir John, first peer, and Thomas, of Keinsham Abbey, co. Somerset, whose last male descendant, George Brydges, of Keinsham, and of Avington, in Hampshire, d. 1751, M.P. for Winchester, leaving his large estates to his remote cousin, the late duke of Chandos. From Edmund, 2d lord Chandos, K.G., descended George, sixth lord Chandos, commemorated by lord Clarendon for his loyalty to Charles I. This peer, however, was the means of eclipsing the splendour of his family, by leaving the castle of Sudeley, and large surrounding estates, at the disposal of his widow, Jane Savage, who carried them to her last husband, Mr. George Pitt, of Stratfield-Say, ancestor to lord Rivers. His brother, William, 7th peer, was succeeded, 1676, by his third cousin, sir James Brydges, of Wilton Castle, co. Hereford, bart., who d. 1714. His son, James, ninth peer, was created viscount Wilton, and earl of Caernarvon, 1714; and in 1719, marquess of Caernarvon, and duke of Chandos: he d. 1744; his son, Henry, 2d duke, d. 1771; and his grandson, James, 3d and last duke, d. Sept. 29, 1789, without issue male.

The branch from which the present baronet deduces his descent, settled in Kent, at the latter end of queen Elizabeth's, or beginning of king James the first's reign. Katherine, daughter of Anthony Brydges, third son of the first lord Chandos, was m. to sir John Astley, of the palace, at Maidstone, master of the revels to James I.; and her brother, Robert Brydges, b. about the same time, fixed his residence in that town, which his descendant now represents in parliament; he d. there in 1636. John Brydges, who appears by the claimant's pedigree delivered to the house of lords, to have been his great grandson, was b. at Canterbury, in 1680; entered a student at Gray's-Inn, 1699, and called to the bar, 1704. In the same year he m. Jane, daughter and heir of Edward Gibbon, of Westcliffe, near Dover, esq., by Martha, daughter of sir John Roberts, knt., and d.

July

Thomas Lechmere, of Lechmere's-Place, in Hanley Castle, living anno 16 Hen. VII., was succeeded in his estates by his son, Richard Lechmere, who, by Margery, the daughter and heir of Thomas Rock, of Ripple, co. Worcester, was the father of Edmund, who intermarried with Anne, the daughter of Henry Dingley, and Mary his wife, daughter of Edward Neville, lord Abergavenny, by whom he had issue, Edmund, of Lechmere's-Place, living in 1634, at which period, by Margaret his wife, daughter of sir Nicholas Overbury, knt. (chief-justice of Pembroke, &c.) he had issue several sons and daughters, and d. July 31, 1650, aged 74. Sir Nicholas Lechmere, of Hanley Castle, knt., one of the barons of the exchequer, eldest son and heir of Edmund Lechmere and Margaret Overbury, m. Penelope, youngest daughter of sir Edwin Sandys, of Northbourn, in the co. of Kent, knt., and had issue 2 sons and 4 daughters, of whom Edmund, his eldest son, who succeeded to the estates of the family, intermarried with Lucy, daughter of Anthony Hungerford, of Farley Castle, in the co. of Somerset, esq., by whom, besides other children, he had had issue, Anthony, his eldest son; Nicholas, 2d son, who was of the privy council of king George I., chancellor of the dutchy of Lancaster, and advanced to the dignity of lord Lechmere, baron of Evesham, by letters patent, dated Sept. 4, 1721. This Nicholas, lord Lechmere, who m. lady Elizabeth, daughter of Charles Howard, earl of Carlisle, dying without issue in 1727, the dignity of lord Lechmere became extinct. Anthony, the eldest son, intermarried with Anne, daughter of Thomas Foley, of Stoke Edith, in the co. of Hereford, esq., and aunt of Thomas, lord Foley; was some time representative in parliament for the borough of Tewkesbury; and dying in 1720, aged 46, was succeeded in his estates by his son, Edmund Lechmere, of Severn End, in Hanley Castle, some time knight of the shire for the co. of Worcester, who d. in 1805, having m., 1st, Elizabeth, daughter of sir Blundel Charlton, of Ludford, co. Hereford, bart., and sister to sir Francis Charlton, the last bart., by whom he had 2 sons; and 2dly, Elizabeth, daughter of John Whitmore, of Fenny Compton, in the co. of Warwick, clerk, by whom he had,

I. Sir ANTHONY LECHMERE, created a baronet as above.

Arms—Gules, a fess, or, in chief, two pelicans vulning themselves, of the last.

Crest—A pelican, azure, vulning herself, proper.

Motto—Ducit amor patriæ.

Sir EDWARD STRACEY, created a Baronet, as above, born June 1741, married, 1st, 1766, Elizabeth, relict of John Williamson, Esq., and had issue, 1 Edward-Hardinge-John, of the Beech, co. Lancaster, Esq.,

Esq., b. Sept. 1768, m. July 17, 1810, Anne, daughter and sole heir of William Brooksbank, of the Beech, Esq., by whom he has no issue; 2. Hardinge-Charles, of Lincoln's-Inn, Barrister-at-Law, b. Nov. 1769, d. unm. May 5, 1816; 3. George, of Thorpeman, co. Norwich, Clerk, b. Dec. 1770, m., March 1814, Sophia-Anne, youngest daughter and co-heiress of Edmund Mapes, of Rollesby-Hall, co. Norfolk, Esq., and has issue, Sophia, b. Dec. 1814; 4. Josias-Henry, b. Nov. 13, 1771, m. June 23, 1800, Diana, eldest daughter of David Scott, of Duninald, co. Montrose, Esq., late M. P. co. Forfar, and has issue, Henry-Josias, b. July 31, 1802; Edward-John, b. May 12, 1808; Hardinge, b. Sept. 29, 1814; Louisa, b. May 24, 1801; Emma-Louisa, b. April 13, 1804; Adelaide, b. March 1, 1806; Emelin and Julia, twins, b. March 14, 1812; 5. John, of Sprouston-Lodge, co. Norfolk, b. Nov. 26, 1792, m., Feb. 1, 1814, Harriet, daughter of Thomas Comyn, of Tottenham, co. Middlesex, Esq., relict of Thomas Ainsley, of Gloucester, Esq., and by her (who d. 1817) had no issue: the daughters are, 1. Julia, b. March 1767, m. the Rev. Benjamin-Ker Vaughan, Clerk, Rector of Aveton Giffard, co. Devon, both living 1819, without issue; 2. Sophia, m. Aug. 23, 1792, Jonathan Micklethwaite, of Burton, co. Norfolk, Esq. deceased. Sir Edward m., 2dly, Sept. 1777, Elizabeth, daughter of Edward Bull, of Frome, co. Somerset, Esq., and has issue, 1. Frances, b. Aug. 1782; 2. Henry, b. Aug. 1785; and 3. Harriet, b. March 1789.

This family appears to have been of great antiquity co. Essex; and the branch from which Edward Stracey, the grandfather of the present baronet, is immediately descended, was seated at Manuden and Latton, in the said county, in the reign of queen Elizabeth. The said Edward Edward m. Mary, daughter of Capel Loft, who survived him, and by whom he left issue an only son, sir John Stracey, who was chief-judge of the sheriffs' court, and recorder of the city of London, 1746: he received the honour of knighthood at St. James's by George II., and d. Dec. 16, 1748-9, leaving, by Mary his wife, daughter of the rev. Gideon Hardinge, clerk and vicar of Kingston-upon-Thames, 1. Hardinge, d. September 26, 1808; 2. John, d. unm.; 3. sir Edward, the present baronet: the 2 daughters of sir John Stracey were, 1. Mary, d. and was buried at St. Alban's; 2. Anne, m., 1st, John Freeman, clerk, rector of Carston and Rackheath; and 2dly, Robert Parr, of Norwich, clerk, now living, 1819, without issue.

FOREIGN ORDERS.

It is necessary to state, that no license or permission, subsequent to March 1813, to wear the insignia of these Orders in England, authorizes the assumption of any style, appellation, rank, precedence, or privilege appertaining unto a Knight Batchelor of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

THE ROYAL HANOVERIAN GUELPHIC ORDER.

This Order was instituted Aug. 12, 1815, by H. R. H. the Prince Regent, to commemorate the fidelity of his Hanoverian subjects during a period of peculiar difficulty, and the bravery of the Hanoverian troops at the ever-memorable battle of Waterloo. It consists of three classes: 1. Knights Grand Crosses; 2. Knights Commanders; and, 3. Knights; and each class is divided into civil and military.
